He's Rover Envoy For Naziland

Ordered to London for the meeting of Locarno signatories on the Rhineland crisis, Joachim von Ribbentrop, above, close adviser of Adolf Hitler, will act there as observer. Von Ribbentrop is a special adviser on armaments, a roving ambassador often at Hitler's side when Der Fuehrer grants interviews.

LONDON, March 25.—Adolf Hitler's rejection of the Locarno power proposals, tightening the European crisis over German occupation of the Rhineland, was deliberated by Prime Minister Baldwin's cabinet today at its regular weekly meeting. Sir Thomas Inskip, Britain's new minister for defence co-ordination, attended the meeting for the first time as a full member of the cabinet. French Minister of State Joseph Paul-Boncour visited Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden at the foreign office for a last-minute conference before flying this afternoon to Paris. Hitler's refusal to withdraw his forces from the Rhineland or to accept a judgment by the world court in Germany's argument against the Franco-Soviet mutual assistance pact threw the Rhineland negotiations back to the Locarno powers. A long, difficult series of negotiations, which informed persons said might yet mean peace or war for millions, was foreseen authoritatively. Joachim Von Ribbentrop, Hitler's ambassador-at-large, conferred with Eden.

Fatalities Are Set At Toll of 197

By The Associated Press

New floods threatened western Pennsylvania, northern West Virginia and Ohio today as rains swelled smaller streams tributary to the Ohio river. Muddy waters again invaded Pittsburgh. The United States flood and storm death toll reached 197 after additional drownings and recoveries of bodies last night, and a re-check of totals in Pennsylvania, where the deluge struck hardest.

Figures by states follow:

Pennsylvania 126, West Virginia 14, Massachusetts 10, Ohio 7, Vermont 6, Maine 5, Connecticut 5, Maryland 5, Virginia 4, Missouri 4, Wisconsin 3, New York 2, North Carolina 2, Georgia 2, New Hampshire 1, and Tennessee 1.

Nothing like last week's devastation was expected from the new rainfall today, which sent an influx of water into the Monongahela and Ohio rivers, starting them rising again at points just returning to normal.

In northern West Virginia and central Ohio lowland communities were under water and families were forced from their homes in some sections.

At Pittsburgh, cellars of several buildings inundated last week were expected to be filled again. The Ohio river crest, after sweeping the upper valley and beyond Cincinnati, moved toward Louisville, Ky., Evansville, Ind., and other lower valley cities, forcing lowland

WAR SKIES IN EUROPE DARK OVER LOCARNO

Mussolini Holds Aloof From Signatory—Plans To Bargain

By GEORGE HAMBLETON

Canadian Press Staff Writer

LONDON, March 25. — New complications darken the international scene. Britain, France and Belgium are in sharp difference over the new Locarno to which they and the Italian representatives agreed six days ago.

Premier Mussolini has not yet replied whether he is ready to accept the pact. It is reported he intends to bargain his support against the calling off of sanctions against Italy.

The net result so far is that German troops are in the Rhineland and intend to stay there. Already the Germans are declaring the new Locarno is dead.

The gist of the trouble between Britain and France is the conditional guarantee in the new agreement. Britain is always wary over continental commitments stressing BERLIN, March 25—Chancellor Hitler oratorically and diplomatically rejected the proposals of the Locarno powers last night and told Europe he is standing pat. Europe's statesmen will have to surrender their post-war assumptions that "German weakness can be relied upon as a constant factor in international relations," he told a cheering audience of 20,000 at the huge Deutschlande Halle.

Hitler challenged "other statesmen" to take their policies of "inequality and dishonoring of other nations" to the polls for approval or rejection, referring to Sunday's Reichstag election, which Nazis consider will be a plebiscite on Hitler's remilitarization of the Rhineland.

He appealed for a new foundation for European peace and announced that next Tuesday, after his own confidence vote on a "no capitulation" platform, he would enlarge and clarify his original proposals, made March 7 when he denounced the Locarno treaty.

REPLY PUBLISHED

At the same time the official news agency published the German reply rejecting vital features of the Locarno powers' proposals as "based on new discrimination, unendurable for a great nation, and upon a renewed attempt to establish the inequality of Germany."

"Every attempt to introduce a reorganization of Europe with the old methods of the hate-filled division of nations into the more privileged and the less privileged, the defamed and the honorable, or into those dictating and those subjected

LONDON, March 25.—The Locarno crisis was thrown into a new and more complicated muddle when Germany refused outright last night to take its troops out of the Rhineland and rejected The Hague court as a tribunal.

Chancellor Hitler's answer to the proposals of the Locarno pewers, made public a few hours after the council of the League of Nations adjourned, left the Rhineland dispute unsettled and with a long drawn out stalemate in prospect.

Joachim Von Ribbentrop, Hitler's special ambassador, arrived in London with a personal message to the British government from the German dictator just as the council broke up—an action which was interpreted in informed circles as a direct rebuff to Hitler for his long delay in answering the Locarno proposals.

EXPLAIN POSITION

Although the Locarno demands were emphatically rejected, the Reich said that on March 31 it would "place at the disposal of the Royal British government, a comprehensive statement of its position, together with its positive proposals."

The council will reconvene in Geneva some time after the German and French elections.

Anthony Eden, British foreign secretary, was left with new difficulties in conciliating Franco-German differences. A spokesman for the German delegation said that the British government's white paper outlining the Locarno proposals is "absolutely dead."

Viscount Hailsham, Lord Chancellor, told the House of Lords that Britain has "no secret understanding of any kind" with France or

DOUGLAS HAD SUGGESTION FOR MATURITY

Advocated "Free" Loan From Dominion On April 1

Suggestion that the provincial government's maturing bond issue of $3,200,000 due on April 1, be met by a loan from the Dominion government without obligation to repay and that only interest at two and one-half per cent be paid on it, was made by Major Clifford H. Douglas, principal reconstruction adviser to the government, it was learned on Wednesday.

This information was adduced when Premier William Aberhart was being interviewed on plans for meeting the issue.

The premier stated that sometime on Wednesday, a wire would go east to Hon. Charles A. Dunning, Dominion finance minister, in respect to arrangements for the loan.

"Did you ever ask Major Douglas for any suggestions regarding the April 1 maturity?" the premier was asked.

"Yes, I wrote to him on February

Engagement of Magor Is Direct Reason for Maj. Douglas Quitting

Engagement of R. J. Magor of Montreal, as special financial and re-organization adviser to the provincial government was the direct reason for Major Clifford H. Douglas, the province's principal reconstruction adviser, terminating his contract with the government, it was learned on Wednesday.

Failure of Mr. Magor to report his activities to Major Douglas piqued the reconstruction adviser to the point that he requested that he be relieved of terms of his contract.

NO PLAN SUBMITTED

At the same time, it was learned that Major Douglas did not submit any plan of Social Credit to the government as was inferred by his reference to "Plan No. 1" and "Plan

No Assurance Premier Aberhart Will Receive Refund Money

By THOS. WAYLING

Exclusive to Edmonton Bulletin

OTTAWA, March 25.—The Dominion government is still pursuing a policy of watchful waiting with respect to Premier Aberhart's financial plans. Mr. Aberhart has made application for $3,200,000 to refund an April 1 maturity but he has not yet received the money nor has any undertaking been given him that he will get it, so report goes in government circles.

Hon. Charles Ross, Mr. Aberhart's Minister of Mines, has been in Ottawa the last few days and yesterday had a chat with Hon. Charles Dunning. Later Mr. Ross denied this had anything to do with Alberta's financial affairs. "I have enough to do with my own department," he stated and insisted that his chat with Mr. Dunning had been purely informal.

Among Premier Aberhart's sup-

NORTH WOLVES KILL 500 DEER

BARROW, Alaska, March 25.—Government reindeer superintendent Frank Daugherty said today 500 deer have been slain by wolves this season in the Point Barrow area.

Daugherty said the wolves were killing deer "just for sport," eating only the tongue.

He said Eskimo hunters were handicapped by lack of travelling facilities fast enough to overtake a wolf pack.

Daugherty is preparing to leave here for Barter Island, 300 miles west, near the Canadian border, where is was unofficially reported 900 reindeer have died from a foot disease.

He said natives apparently have been letting reindeer continuously roam over wet ground. Northern reindeer herds total about 1,000,000 head.

APPLICATIONS FOR DIVIDENDS IN ABEYANCE

Registration Forms Are Not Yet Ready For Distribution

Plans for registering Alberta residents for receipt of the basic dividend have been held in abeyance since the session started and the difficulties with Major Clifford H. Douglas, principal reconstruction adviser to the province bounded up, according to Hon. E. C. Manning, provincial secretary, in whose department registration is to take place.

Plans for registration were advanced last fall and several forms were considered for this but no definite decision was made on any form.

While not prepared to say just when forms would be drafted and circulated to Study Groups for distribution to residents, the minister indicated that this would be anticipatory pending further progress in formulating a plan of Social Credit.

The idea is that forms will be distributed to applicants for dividends through study groups and these will be directly returnable to the department thus insuring that none will see the forms, save applicant and officials.

VICE-ADMIRAL SOMERVILLE SLAIN IN HOME

Former Senior Naval Officer at Halifax, N.S., is Gang Victim

CASTLETOWNSHEND, Ireland, March 25.—Vice-Admiral Henry Boyle Townshend Somerville, senior naval officer at Halifax, N.S. in 1917, was murdered Monday night by one of four gunmen who invaded his home and shot him dead.

Driving up in an automobile, the quartet rushed into the vice-admiral's residence. One of them drew a revolver and discharged it at Somerville. Then they all ran out.

WIFE IS WITNESS

The only witness to the murder was the naval officer's wife, who was too grief-stricken to give a detailed account of the slaying.

The motive for the killing was not disclosed.

Vice-Admiral Somerville went to Halifax as commander of H. M. S. Devonshire where he was senior naval officer. Later he was on the convoy service between north Atlantic ports and England.

In the early years of the war he served in command of the Victorian, Argonaut, Amphitrite and King Alfred of the 10th cruiser squadron on the north Atlantic patrol.

IN SECLUDED SPOT

Point House, the home of Vice-Admiral Somerville, is situated in a secluded part of the Castletownshend district in County Cork, and the assailants were able to get clear away before an alarm could be given. A widespread police search followed, but no arrests have been reported.

BRUNO SEEKS CHAIR ESCAPE

TRENTON, N. J., March 25.—Bruno Richard Hauptmann, under sentence to die in the electric chair next Tuesday night for the kidnap-murder of the Lindbergh baby, signed an application today for a second court of pardons hearing. His first appeal for mercy was rejected by the court last January 11, but a reprieve by Governor Harold Hoffman saved him from execution six days later.

FRIENDS FEAR FOR MRS. HAUPTMANN'S LIFE

NEW YORK, March 25.—Friends of Mrs. Anna Hauptmann, wife of the condemned Lindbergh baby slayer, expressed fear today she might take her life in the event her husband is executed.

Gov. Harold G. Hoffman of New Jersey had no comment on published reports that she had written him threatening to kill herself and her son if her husband dies.

Canuck Fiddles As Home Burns

DARTMOUTH, N.S., March 25.—W. R. Bryant fiddled while his home burned and didn't know anything about the blaze until neighbors rushed in, followed by firemen. His fiddle, piano and organ were saved but the house was destroyed.

AND WHEN WATERS RECEDE—WHAT THEN?

Keeping the Home Fires Burning—

In hip boots, Gladys Leonard wades around the kitchen of her home at Lambertville, N.J. attending to such housekeeping duties as the knee-deep "carpet" of water will permit. If the Delaware river doesn't overflow the stove, she'll have a hot meal ready in a jiffy.

Pressed for Some Place to Go—

As the flood receded, industrial plants and stores in Pittsburgh's "golden triangle" faced the problem of getting the water out. The Pittsburgh Press met the emergency by breaking a plate-glass window of the submerged premises.

Just an Old Stay-at-Home—

Fellow townsmen of aged Annie Shanken wasted a lot of breath trying to convince her she should flee from her home at Lambertville, N.J., when the Delaware river invaded the town. From the dry vantage of a second floor window, the lady let it be known that she'll not go.

Kay Francis Centre Of Police Guard

EXPANSION OF COMMERCIAL AVIATION URGED

CANADIAN LEGION CLAIMS ADEQUATE AID NOW LACKING

Convention Also Favors Bringing Up-to-Date Of the Royal Canadian Air Force.

VANCOUVER, March 25.—Expansion of commercial aviation in Canada and bringing "up to date" of the Royal Canadian Air Force were urged in a resolution passed unanimously Tuesday by the annual convention of the Canadian Legion.

The resolution stated that "the federal government is not at present giving adequate assistance to the development of commercial flying in Canada and is strongly urged to bring about without further delay some plan of definite assistance to all commer...' operators."

UNEMPLOYED LABOR

It was further advocated unemployed labor be used in the development and completion of airports in Canada, that the trans-Canada airways be completed and put into operation with as little delay as possible, and that special consideration should be given to the northern operator to assist in the development of mining areas.

In regard to the R.C.A.F. it was recommended that, regardless of the number of its personnel, it be brought up to date and that its administration be directly under the minister of national defence.

NON-PERMANENT SQUADRONS

Non-permanent squadrons of the R.C.A.F. should be formed throughout the country, the resolution said, but such squadrons should be adequately financed by the Federal government to permit efficient training. Officers of the non-permanent R.C.A.F. reserve should be formed into semi-active organizations and be kept up to date through classes and lectures and they should be permitted to earn promotion by taking necessary training.

In regard to commercial aviation it was urged that ground training in aeronautics with special emphasis on training pertaining to air engineers can be made available to young men in all important centres of Canada.

ADVANCED TRAINING

Manufacturers should be encouraged to provide advanced training for air engineers. Used or obsolete mechanical equipment should be made available from the R.C.A.F. for this purpose.

All government approved organizations training pilots whereby pilots obtain a license should be encouraged by increased assistance from the government and particular attention should be paid to advanced training.

"The recommendations were not adopted until after thorough investigation," stated Capt. B. J. Miller, Toronto, when the resolution was proposed. "The conclusions were reached after conference with seven war-time pilots, including Col. W. A. Bishop, V.C."

GIVING A LEAD

Capt. Miller said he believed the Legion was giving the government a lead in something that was of paramount importance to the Dominion. "Canada is far behind other countries in the development of aviation, and we, as soldiers, know the value of such development."

U.S. AGENTS CRACK GIANT LIQUOR RING

American Freighter Seized and Captain Held Under $5,000 Bail

NEW YORK, March 25.—United States treasury agents last night claimed to have "cracked" an international alcohol smuggling ring doing a gross business of $20,000,000 a year with seizure of the American freighter "Southern Sword."

Captain Hugh Brown, master of the ship, was held under $5,000 bail yesterday on a charge of conspiring with Canadian, California and Mexican citizens described as president of the Alco Steamship Company, to smuggle alcohol. Calhan was not arraigned, but federal authorities said he was in Tombs prison here.

The "Southern Sword" was detained off Staten Island last week and her crew of 30 has been questioned since that time.

W. E. Dunnigan, of the treasury department, said alcohol was supplied to the vessel by the British ship Isabel H., which slipped out of British waters. The vessel then met the American ship off Ocean City, Maryland, on March 16.

porters in the House of Commons there is complete confidence. Correspondence keeps up between the Alberta premier and Hon. Blair more, leader of the group in the Commons, but Mr. Blackmore intimated that Mr. Aberhart does not discuss the province's finances with him, provincial and federal affairs being distinct.

He expresses confidence in Premier Aberhart's ability to get out of the financial morass. Members of the group do not think Mr. Aberhart will default, and there are intimations that if he does not get the money from Mr. Dunning he will raise it elsewhere, but where nobody says.

Loan Plans Progressing Declares Premier Aberhart

Negotiations with the Dominion government for a loan of $2,200,000 to meet an Alberta maturity due on April 1 are continuing, declared Premier William Aberhart on Wednesday, when asked if arrangements had been completed.

"Do you think it will be necessary for either yourself or Hon. Charles Cockroft, provincial treasurer, to go east and interview the government regarding the loan?" the Premier was asked.

"No, I do not think so and hope not, but I am not yet certain."

Asked if he had received further information that agreement to loan council terms was essential before the loan could be obtained, the Premier replied that he had not.

He pointed out that there was some information from Ottawa—though not official—that the resolution dealing with the loan council, introduced into parliament last week might be withdrawn as amendments to the British North America Act could be made only with the unanimous consent of all provinces and British Columbia already definitely recorded objections to the loan council.

He indicated that the refunding plans being considered by the government were progressing although the compulsory refunding bill was not yet ready for introduction.

Asked if he had yet received a letter of protest from W. A. Mangold of Calgary on the proposed interest slash, the Premier said it had not yet come to hand. Copies of Mr. Mangold's letter have been received here.

Previously the Premier had acknowledged receipt of protests from Toronto and Vancouver on the interest slash.

MISSIONARIES ARE IN DANGER

PEIPING, March 25.—British military authorities today hurried efforts to rescue six British and two American missionaries and two children, whose lives are believed in danger from Communist forces advancing through embattled Shansi province.

Belief the missionary group may have been captured by the Red troops led British authorities to send Colonel Lovat Fraser, military attache at Peiping, to Taiyuan, capital of Shansi province, which the Communists are reported preparing to take by storm. The missionaries had been stationed in Hungtung, Shansi province, which was reported taken by the Communists.

HOUSING PLAN IS NOT SOLUTION UNEMPLOYMENT

Rogers Asks Mayors To Share Burden—Unbalanced Budget Seen

OTTAWA, March 25. — The Dominion government feels that "we must share our burdens and not seek to shift them," Hon. Norman Mac. Rogers, Minister of Labor, told the Dominion Conference of Mayors today.

The first thing to do in trying to solve unemployment is to get the facts—to conduct a national survey. "That," said the minister, "will be the first duty assigned to the new National Employment Commission."

NO SOLUTION

He did not think that initiation of a new and enlarged housing programs by the Dominion would furnish any permanent solution for unemployment, Hon. T. A. Crerar, Minister of the Interior, stated to the conference. About 53 per cent of the population of Canada now lived in the urban centres.

"I am rather coming to the conclusion that what is needed is a decentralization of population," said Mr. Crerar. "I doubt if the cities can be maintained on the present basis of population."

ASK FEDERAL AID

The conference of mayors met a sub-committee of the cabinet today to present reports and resolutions approved during the two-day meeting just concluded. The main resolution and the one which was emphasized by nearly all spokesmen for the conference was that requesting the Dominion to assume administration and full cost of unemployment relief. Resolutions were also submitted calling for a new federal housing program, extension of the Farmers' Creditors Arrangement Act, and dealing with municipal finance.

HAS TROUBLES

The proposal that the Dominion take over entire relief costs, Mr. Crerar described as "interesting." But the conference was reminded the Dominion too had its troubles and financial obligations.

"I am telling no secrets when I say that the budget is going to be very much out of balance," he said, "and it is impossible for the government to impose taxes on the people which will bring it into balance."

DOUGLAS HAD SUGGESTION FOR MATURITY

6 asking that if he had any suggestions regarding the maturity, to forward them.

"Did you receive any reply?" he was asked.

"Yes," the reply came in the letter delivered by H. B. Campbell of Olds.

"Will you disclose the suggestions made by Major Douglas?" he was asked.

"I do not think that the disclosure of these suggestions would be of much interest to the public. I had hoped that Major Douglas would have come to Alberta to discuss the matter with both the Dominion and provincial governments.

THE SUGGESTION

"However, in view of the fact that we are at the present time trying to come to terms in this matter with the Dominion government, it might not be out of place to give you the paragraph in the letter containing his suggestions, as follows—

"1. That the Dominion government should be asked by letter formally to take over the loan, renewing it for a two year term, 2½ per cent basis, there being no obligation on the part of the province to do other than record the fact in this interest."

The Premier did not think that there would be any likelihood of the Dominion granting the loan on these terms, but did not preclude for repayment, but which only provided for payment of interest.

This proposal has not been presented to the Dominion in the negotiations for the loan to meet the April 1 maturity.

to dictation, must—because it is undertaken under the same old deceptions and assumptions—lead to the same result: that is, the new solution will be no better than the old," said the German answer.

IN SAME WORDS

And in practically the same words Der Fuehrer said it from the platform.

The text of the formal answer, however, held out hope for further negotiations by promising to "submit proposals" along with a "comprehensive statement" of Germany's position would be submitted to the British government next Tuesday.

This will be after Sunday's Reichstag election, in the interest of which Hitler spoke last night, one of the series of a dozen campaign addresses he is making.

AUDIENCE CHEERED

The audience cheered for six full minutes when Hitler appeared at the auditorium to be introduced by Paul Joseph Goebbels, his minister of propaganda.

"You said Goebels, "have not broken treaties—you have had the courage to draw the logical consequences from treaties already broken."

Goebbels said it was the people's will that the occupation of the Rhineland must "remain unaltered."

USUAL REFERENCE

Hitler opened with his usual references to his 14-year-long struggle toward power. Now that that has been achieved, he said proudly, "I do not hide myself from people—they can follow my every move."

"It grieves me that I have had to hurt many in carrying out my program in the past three years, but if I had not done it we doubtless would have 12,000,000 unemployed by now," he continued.

HISTORIC ACHIEVEMENTS

"No one can deny that there have been historic achievements in these three years—100 years of history in three. For little minds, perhaps, such a tempo is too swift for understanding."

In post war years, said Der Fuehrer, the world became accustomed to a Germany weak, divided and obsessed with an inferiority complex.

"It finally came to regard the German people as a constant factor in international politics. This we have changed. We want peace, but the world must not confuse our will for peace with a lack of the character of our predecessors."

DEFENCE PLANS GET APPROVAL

LONDON, March 25—After three days of debate the House of Lords last night approved by a vote of 109 to eight, the government's defence proposals.

Viscount Hailsham, the lord chancellor, winding up the debate for the government, referred to the Marquess of Lothian's question whether Britain, under the Locarno Pact of March 20, had entered into a military alliance with France and Belgium. Lord Hailsham replied that the scope of the obligations which Britain had undertaken—as far as they existed at all—were contained in the white paper. There was no secret understanding of any kind outside it.

The unionist ruling party endorsed the government's defence proposals included the whole strength of the Labor opposition in the upper chamber.

Remilitarization Of Dardanelles Is Denied By Turkey

LONDON, March 25.—Turkish sources in London last night denied that the Turkish government had decided to remilitarize the Dardanelles.

the conditional. The French emphasize the guarantee.

WAY STILL OPEN

The British hold that both the temporary and the lasting settlement envisaged in the Locarno Powers' Pact is open to negotiation with Germany.

The French regard the new Locarno pact as a decision and hold that it still stands whether Italy signs or not. They say that the proposed collaboration between the British and French general staffs to begin.

LETTER NOT SENT

Meanwhile, it is stated in British circles, the famous letter which Britain is to write to Belgium, pledging assistance against unprovoked aggression has not been sent. If it is sent, it will not become operative until efforts at conciliation fail.

Since the Locarno powers reached their agreement British opinion, while still highly critical of Chancellor Hitler's methods and distrustful of German intentions, is suspicious of the past, which many fear may be used to pave the way to the old alliances. Criticism of the negotiations is not confined to the official opposition.

This criticism will intensify should there be any suggestion of using the agreement to permit Italy to continue her war unchecked.

DIONNE PLEA IS ANSWERED

MONTREAL, March 25—Oliva Dionne's appeal to the King for support in the persistent fight to regain custody of his quintuplet daughters has been referred to the Canadian secretary of state.

The French-Canadian parents of the famous children were in their hotel room Tuesday, on their way home from a holiday in New York, and were awaiting "an important message," when they received a letter from an assistant secretary to the governor-general:

"I have the honor to inform you that your letter addressed to His Majesty the King, under date of the 17th ultimo, was duly received and has been returned to His Excellency the governor-general who has caused the communication to be referred to the department of the secretary of state."

Under an act by the Ontario legislature the quintuplets were made wards of the King to protect their health and financial interests.

Belgium aside from those outlined in the White paper issued last week by the Rhineland crisis.

MILITARY ALLIANCE

The statement was made in reply to a question from the Marquess of Lothian, who asked: "Have we or have we not entered into what Flandin and Van Zeeland (representatives of France and Belgium) regard as a military alliance?"

The Marquess said Germany is now enormously weaker than before the war" and asked why Britain should add weight to her support against Germany by a military alliance on the side of Russia, Belgium, Poland, Czechoslovakia, France and Italy.

REBUFF TO EDEN

The council decision to adjourn was interpreted not only as a rebuff for the Soviet but also to Eden, who had worked hard to keep conciliation machinery in operation pending the council's report.

Eden analyzed the French proposals in Germany and not an ultimatum. The French declared they are seeking only a "yes or no" answer from Berlin and would not discuss any counter-proposals.

AFRICAN WAR UNSETTLED

The council's adjournment also left the Italo-Ethiopian crisis unsettled, although Salvador de Madariaga of Spain is empowered to confer with the belligerents and learn their peace terms.

The council will meet again as soon as circumstances indicate it is desirable to pursue examination of the (Locarno) question."

300 PERSONS VACCINATED AGAINST POX

About 300 persons have already been vaccinated against smallpox although no cases of the disease have been reported here yet. Dr. R. B. Jenkins, medical health officer, said Wednesday. The health official urged parents to have their children treated for this malady, which is now prevalent in Calgary.

The city health department is giving free vaccination from 3 p.m. to 5 p.m. on week days, excepting Saturday when hours are from 9 a.m. to 11 a.m.

It was reported the provincial government expended $10,000 or $12,000 for the supply of vaccines for immunization purposes. The University of Toronto supplies the serum at cost, smallpox serum costing 11 cents per treatment and scarlet fever serum costing $2.60 for six persons.

DOUGLAS ON HOLIDAY HAS NO COMMENT

LONDON, March 25—Major C. H. Douglas, originator of the Social Credit theory, could not be reached for comment today on the decision of the Alberta government to sever its connection with him.

Douglas was not at his London residence and his secretary said: "I am afraid he is away. He is not at Southampton on business."

It was understood the Social Credit sponsor and engineer had gone on a week end to where he went could not be learned.

U.S. Recommends Air Fleet Of 4,000

WASHINGTON, March 25.—The building up of a fleet of 4,000 military airplanes was unanimously recommended to congress Tuesday in a report by the house military committee, describing equipment of the United States army air corps as "impotent" and "inadequate."

Japan Fails To Gain Ground In Shanghai Affairs

SHANGHAI, March 25—Efforts of Japanese to gain a larger voice in the affairs of the Shanghai international settlement were emphatically repulsed Tuesday when ratepayers voted in a record number, elected a new municipal council.

It will be composed of five Britons, two Americans and two Japanese, thus maintaining the status quo.

The Japanese community had moved to elect an additional councilman at the expense of the British or United States representation, but accidental voters of many nationalities united to smother these aspirations. The council's five Chinese members will be chosen in a separate election exclusively for Chinese.

PLAN WEATHER OBSERVATIONS AT FT. SMITH

U.S. Seeks Permission To Make Daily Airplane Flights in North

WASHINGTON, March 25—Seeking sources of information about cold waves which move into the United States from the far north, the weather bureau is planning a daily airplane observation at Fort Smith, N.W.T., south of Great Slave Lake and just north of Alberta's northern boundary.

SEEK PERMISSION

Officials said the state department is negotiating with Canada for permission to make the flights.

The flights would be made by a United States air company under contract with the weather bureau. They may begin in June or July.

Daily surface observations now are received by the weather bureau here from a Canadian station at Fort Smith, but it was believed that the airplane observations—made at a height of 17 000 feet—would prove valuable.

WOULD AID GREATLY

Air masses which move far above the earth would be studied.

It was said the information would be helpful greatly in predicting the course and intensity of cold waves coming into this country from the Canadian northwest.

Farm Barns Ride Crest Canadian Wave

SAINT JOHN, N.B., March 25.—Waters of the St. John river had backed upstream today as far as Gagetown, 40 miles from Saint John City.

The jam extends nearly two miles and is picking up all ice and debris floating downstream from the Musquerville area, flooded last week, and from tributaries of the St. John. In it's midst are five barns torn from their foundations at Gagetown.

At high tide this morning, water on the low-lying parts of Saint John city was about a foot higher than it had been the preceding night but no damage was reported.

After spending the night in a Maugerville farmhouse with the members of the government party, Premier Dysart who started out yesterday to get an intimate view of conditions in that area, was returning to Fredericton.

The party took refuge in the house, itself surrounded by a foot of water, when the craft on which they were making their inspection grounded.

C.P. RAILWAY PIONEER DIES

MONTREAL, March 25.—Max Albert Gaetzler, 86, one of the pioneer engineers of the Canadian Pacific Railway, died here Monday. He had served in the engineering department of the railway for more than 40 years and had held several important posts supervising construction in the west. He retired nine years ago.

Mr. Gaetzler was born in Germany and he entered the service of the railway in 1882, serving as bridge engineer at Winnipeg.

BIG FIRE LOSS AT GOLD MILL

VANCOUVER, March 25. — Damage of one night's fire which wiped out the power plant of the Cariboo Gold Quartz company's mill at Wells, B.C., was estimated at $50,000 last night by Dr. W. B. Burnett, president of the company.

The blaze is believed to have started from the exhaust of a Diesel engine in the power plant Monday night.

Dr. Burnett said reconstruction of the power plant would be started immediately but the mill would be closed down until the plant was reconstructed.

The damage and any loss due to the mill being put out of operation were fully covered by insurance.

All buildings but the main powerhouse were saved.

AUSTRALIA IS WARNED TO BE SET FOR WAR

"Must be in a Position to Fight if We Have To," Says Prime Minister

ADELAIDE, Australia, March 25. "We must be in a position to fight if we have to," Prime Minister J. A. Lyons warned the country in a speech before the Commonwealth club here Tuesday.

Declaring the Commonwealth's defences were in a perilous condition, the Prime Minister said Australia must modernize her armaments.

"The defence of the nation may cost millions," he said. "You will pay those millions cheerfully. Nothing comes before defence."

Referring to migration, Mr. Lyons said that when the nation was seeking expansion, Australia could not justify her present position long as she was not occupying her lands adequately.

"We cannot proceed as before. We have reached the stage of recovery when we must not only permit, but invite our own British kith and kin to come here," he declared.

ISSUE TAKEN WITH TIMES BY HEPBURN

Ontario Premier Answers Editorial Mentioning Province's Credit

TORONTO, March 25.—Premier Hepburn took issue with the London Times today in connection with an editorial mentioning Ontario credit.

The premier expressed the opinion that "when those Englishmen pay up their war debts they can point the finger at other people." He added: "They place us in the same category as Alberta, and I am glad Alberta, provinces which have been receiving direct financial aid from the Dominion to keep them going. We don't owe the federal government a dollar; we're running the show."

March 21 the Times, commenting on Dominion-Provincial financing plans, said the Dominion was having difficulty in keeping "some provincial governments on a sound basis and remarked unfortunately it now appears that the opposition has come precisely from the provinces of British Columbia, Alberta and Ontario, in whose management of their finances investors have the least confidence."

TORONTO CLERIC TO BE BISHOP

On his way to Calgary where Wednesday night he will be installed as Roman Catholic bishop of the southern diocese, Most Reverend Francis P. Carroll stopped over in Edmonton this morning for 90 minutes. He arrived at 6:20 a.m. on the Canadian National's westbound limited, conducted morning mass for the community at the Monastery of the Precious Blood on 124 Avenue at 111 street, and then at 8:00 p.m. left on Canadian National lines for Calgary.

Monsignor Nelligan, representing Archbishop McGuigan of Toronto, members of the government party, Premier Dysart who started out yesterday to get an intimate view of conditions in that area, was returning to Fredericton.

The party took refuge in the house, itself surrounded by a foot of water, when the craft on which they were making their inspection grounded.

CANUCKS WIN 2 BIG PRIZES

DUBLIN, Irish Free State, March 25.—Canadians won two of the 10 residual prizes in the Irish Free State hospitals sweepstake as the draw continued today. The residual prizes are worth £5,375, 8 shillings (approximately $25,877).

Thirty-three other Canadians, assured of a $3,000 slice each of the £1,000,000 prize, nevertheless faced the prospect of tidy fortunes if their horses finish in the money in today's Grand National steeplechase at Aintree.

House Committee Adjourns Meet

Meeting of the legislative agricultural committee scheduled for Wednesday morning was adjourned when members waited in vain for any representations to be made respecting the bill respecting the licensing of trades, businesses and licenses. Although notice of the meeting had gone out, none appeared to give evidence or make representations and the meeting adjourned.

Bill Passes

WASHINGTON, March 25.—The Pettengill long-and-short-haul bill was passed by the house of representatives Tuesday and sent to the senate. The measure would permit railroads to charge less for a long haul than for a shorter one over the same route in the same direction.

JUBILANT GERMANS HAIL ARMING OF RHINE

Wild Welcome For "Army of Occupation"

News of the coming of German battalions spread like wildfire through the cities of the demilitarized Rhineland. Almost magically the streets were decked in flags and banners. Crowds filled the streets and made the welkin ring with cheers when the contingents in field green arrived. In this picture just received in America, is portrayed the unbridled welcome given troops entering Freiburg—the first to be stationed there since the World War.

Banner Days For Reich

By coincidence, rearming the Rhineland took place on the eve of Memorial Day for Germany's war dead, so the newly arrived troops participated in impressive ceremonies like that at the war memorial in Cologne, pictured at its base. Below, the rolling fortress go into action at Coblenz as troops make themselves at home in new quarters.

"Heil!"

Cheers For Der Fuehrer

ROOKIE HERO IN MARATHON HOCKEY GAME

Detroit Defeats Maroons 1-0 After 116 Minutes Of Overtime

MONTREAL, March 25.—Detroit Red Wings won the longest hockey game on record a few minutes before 7:30 this morning, defeating Montreal Maroons 1-0 after 116 minutes, 30 seconds of overtime in the first game of the National League title series. The game lasted 176 minutes and 30 seconds.

Modere (Mud) Bruneteau, a rookie from Winnipeg, recently promoted to the Red Wings from Detroit's International League team, scored the winning goal on a pass from Hec Kilrea.

The teams started play last night at 8:30 in the first game of their best-of-five series for the N.H.L. championship.

RECORD BEATEN

The N.H.L.'s two top teams surpassed the record established in Toronto in 1933 series when the Leafs and Boston Bruins played 164 minutes, 46 seconds before midget Ken Doraty of Regina fired the winning goal.

A crowd of 9,500 in the forum watched the Red Wings and Maroons battle grimly on, with goaltender Normie Smith of Detroit playing the star role. The Red Wing netman, finishing his first N.H.L. season, was kept far busier than Lorne Chabot of Maroons.

CHABOT IN GOAL

Chabot was in goal for Toronto on the famous occasion when the Leafs finally upset Boston 1-0, and the veteran was as steady and cool last night as he was when the Bruins failed to score on him in more than two and a half hours trying.

Two Detroit players, Marty Barry and Hec Kilrea, also took part in the Toronto - Boston marathon. Barry was then with the Bruins and Kilrea with the Leafs.

Seek Missing Ship With 27 Aboard

MANILA, March 25. — Twenty-seven persons were feared lost today as a general alarm was sounded to boats in the southern Philippine Islands to search for the missing inter-cargo ship Commonwealth.

The 15-ton craft, carrying cargo and 27 persons, including passengers and crew, has not been heard from since it left Cebu March 19.

World's Rich Man Mellon 81 Today

PITTSBURGH, March 25. — Andrew William Mellon, one of the world's wealthiest men and three times secretary of the United States treasury, celebrated his 81st birthday Tuesday, apparently as busy as he was the day he first went into business for himself 64 years ago.

NO EATS FOR PRISON BAND: IN SOLITARY

JOLIET, Ill., March 25.—Because members of the Joliet prison band weren't fed after their weekly broadcast last Sunday and the musicians didn't like it, the entire band was in solitary confinement Tuesday.

Warden George Sehring explained:

After each program it has been the practice of prison officials to reward the musicians with a post-broadcast snack, comprised of dainties a little above the ordinary prison fare.

Last Sunday the bandsmen blew and scraped and sent stirring sounds over the ether. The broadcast finished, they were told to return to their cells, without lunch.

The musicians grabbed their instruments and filled the prison with weird sounds. Officials agreed that the damage to the ear drums called for solitary confinement.

PREMIER HELD IN FLOOD GRIP

FREDERICTON, March 25—Premier Dysart and a group of New Brunswick government officials went to see for themselves the extent of damage in the Maugerville area Tuesday and wound up as virtual prisoners in a farm house that had a foot of water lapping at its sides.

The powerboat in which they left Fredericton in the morning was stranded in the St. John river and they had to be taken off in rowboats.

Despite their "imprisonment" the party was far from downhearted. The premier was playing cards with Mr. and Mrs. Harry Dykeman, owners of the house, when one of the party called Fredericton reporting "We will be staying for the night."

Soviet Aviators Plan Flight Over Franz Josef Land

MOSCOW, March 25—Two Soviet fliers will soon attempt to make the first airplane flight ever attempted over Franz Josef Land, glacial archipelago in the Arctic circle, it was announced Tuesday.

The two airmen, Vodopianoff and Makhotok, will take off from the Nova Zembla Islands, in the seas north of Russia, and endeavor to fly over 400 miles of frozen sea to their destination.

Franz Josef Land is a series of small waste islands lying south of Queen Victoria sea in the northern polar territory.

Brace Of Mice In Single Trap

RIMBEY, March 25.—One of Rimbey's prominent citizens says that he caught two mice with one setting of an ordinary spring mouse trap. The mice were not Siamese twins but it must have been a case of two heads with but a single thought for they occupied precisely the same position in the trap—heads up, and they lost.

ENGAGING OF MAGOR REASON DOUGLAS QUIT

No. 2" mentioned by him in the texts of cables which he recently released in London.

Mention of these plans created the impression in the minds of the Alberta public, and it was to dispel the impression thus created that Premier William Aberhart, under pressure by newspapermen disclosed the letter containing the references to the various plans.

"While I do not wish to disclose the correspondence, Major Douglas himself has referred to these plans and some have inferred that he was referring to Social Credit plans, whereas this is not the case," declared the premier. "It is in fairness to the people of this province who were expecting him to submit a plan to us, that I make this letter public."

The letter also points out that if Major Douglas did come to Alberta his visit would be "without obligations on either side" and that he would be entirely free to discuss at will his views on the Alberta situation and to confer with and advise whom he would.

SALARY AND EXPENSES

Salary and expenses of a private secretary were other conditions to his mooted visit.

Reference in Major Douglas's letter is to a visit to England which the premier mooted after the Dominion-provincial conference at Ottawa in December. The letter is as follows:

8, Fig Tree Court,
Temple, E.C. 4,
London.
16, Feb. 1936.

The Honorable William Aberhart,
M.L.A., B.A.,
Premier of Alberta,
Edmonton, Alberta, Canada.

Dear Sir:—

Since dispatching to you my letter of 13th inst., I have read in the London "Times" a statement to the effect that you have written to me asking me to leave for Alberta on Mar. 15th. I have not, of course, so far, received such a letter, but assume it will arrive in the course of the mails.

I hope that it may be possible for you to agree to the suggestion made in my letter of the 13th February—that you should proceed with your plan of paying a visit to London, but, if this should prove impracticable, I am prepared to leave for Alberta about the date mentioned in the "Times", under the following conditions:—

I must confirm the view which I have expressed in my letters of Oct. 29th, 1935 and December 11th, 1935,—that the appointment of Mr. Magor, his continued dealings with matters affecting the finances and economic future of the Province without reporting to me, and the failure to provide me with information in regard to these and other matters, constitute a breach of my Contract with the Province, and involve a situation which was not contemplated when the Contract was drawn up.

I must, therefore, regard it as terminated, and, while I am desirous that it should be terminated by mutual consent, I must reserve any rights I have in the matter. If it is terminated by mutual consent, however, I am willing to visit Alberta and to confer with yourself and your ministers, it being understood that the visit is made without obligation on either side, and that I am entirely free, at my own discretion, to make public my views upon the situation in Alberta, or elsewhere, and to confer with and advise any persons or parties in Alberta who may be wishful to further the successful achievement of satisfactory financial reforms.

Under these conditions, I will relinquish any claim under the contract that I have with your government, to the remaining portion of the specified fee. On the other hand, your government will pay me in advance the sum specified to cover the expenses of a trip to Alberta, i.e., two thousand dollars, and a cheque for this amount will be sent to reach me on my arrival in Eastern Canada. The salary and expenses of my private secretary will also be paid during the time from my arrival in Canada to my departure from Edmonton On my previous visit this amounted to about three hundred and fifty dollars.

I am writing you this letter in advance of the receipt of yours in order that there may be no delay, and I shall be much obliged if you will cable me upon receipt, either "Plan No. 1 agreed," in which case I shall hope to have the pleasure of seeing you in London at your convenience.

"Plan No. 2 agreed," in which case I shall assume that you agree to the termination of the contract and to my visit on the terms of this letter, or "neither plan acceptable," in which case I shall assume that you do not feel that I can be of further use to the province, in which case I can only assure you of my very best wishes for any action that you may take, either under other advice or independently.

Yours faithfully,
(Sgd.) C. H. DOUGLAS.

Legion Rejects Contributions To Dominion Command

VANCOUVER, March 25. — The annual convention of the American Legion voted 126 to 120 today against compulsory contributions from provincial commands to the Service Bureau of the Dominion command.

After the vote delegates agreed that the matter should be referred to provincial group caucuses for suggestions as to how they should meet the required $7,500 for the Dominion budget.

Col. W. W. Foster, Dominion vice-president and chairman of the budget committee, introduced the report suggesting that the service bureau cost should be met by a per capita levy from each provincial command. Col. W. S. Bovill, Vancouver, objected, stating that British Columbia wanted the collection left non-compulsory. Several other provincial groups took the same stand.

Crippled Vessel Towed Into Port

BOSTON, March 25—Nine men aboard the Boston dragger Yankee, crippled by an explosion in her engine room, arrived safely off this port last night in tow of the coast guard cutter Argo.

Another vessel, the Holland American line freighter Bilderdyk, her rudder lost, was being towed to port by the freighter Spaarndam.

LIQUOR ACT AMENDMENTS VOTED DOWN

Widespread Changes Are Brushed Aside With Decisive Finality

Social Credit back benchers mobilized their forces and delivered a massed attack on three amendments designed to bring about widespread changes in the Alberta Liquor Control Act when an amending bill to that measure was under discussion in the committee of the whole assembly on Tuesday. The amendments were decisively defeated.

After a prolonged discussion on various clauses the bill was finally reported and now stands ready for third reading.

With decisive finality the house brushed aside an amendment which would have prohibited sale of bottled beer for consumption off licensed premises.

Another amendment defeated was that which would have banned women's beer parlors, while the third amendment aimed to increase breweries licenses from $1500 to $10,000, but this also fell by the wayside.

The first amendment, that which would have prescribed sale of bottled beer for consumption off licensed premises, brought forth a tornado of discussion and was surcharged with high velocity verbal explosives which echoed and reechoed throughout the chamber.

This amendment was moved by Solon Low, S.C. Warner.

When the smoke of verbal battle cleared away, Deputy Speaker Lucien Maynard announced that 37 were opposed to the amendment, while 14 were in favor.

The cabinet ministers were in unbroken ranks against the Low amendment, as were all opposition save L. A. Giroux, Liberal, Grouard, and many Social Credit back-benchers.

The 14 supporting the amendment were all drawn from Social Credit ranks.

SECOND VOTE

The second vote was taken when Mrs. Edith Rogers, S.C., Ponoka, moved an amendment to beer regulations abolishing women's beer parlors, or that they should not be allowed to operate in this province. This was rejected by a vote of 28 to 19, the voting being but slightly different from the first vote.

The third and final amendment was moved by S. A. G. Barnes, S.C., Edmonton, and was to the effect that the breweries license fee be set at $10,000 instead of $1,500 as at present. Put to a vote this was rejected by 32 to 17, the house dividing itself on much the same lines as in the two previous votes. L. A. Giroux voting for the proposed increase in the brewing license.

Mr. Low, in rising to move his amendment, stated that a person desiring bottled beer, could obtain it at the vendors, while under the Act as it stood, persons were permitted to take bottled beer to their rooms.

TOO MANY PARTIES

Mr. Low charged that unless a guest went to an isolated section of most hotels in the province, it was almost impossible to get a good nights sleep owing to parties, which started about the time most people desired to go to bed. He thought that if beer was obtained at vendors stores and beer parlors that ought to suffice.

John Irwin, Conservative, Calgary, knew of no ill effects arising from sale of bottled beer off licensed premises.

H. E. Ansley, S.C., Leduc, opposed the amendment declaring that he was fearful the change would aid the work of the moonshiner.

A. V. Bourcier, S.C., Lac Ste. Anne declared that the amendment was a retrogressive step toward prohibition.

S. A. G. Barnes, S.C., Edmonton came out strong for the amendment, stating that it would mean elimination of beer sales by the bottle or case at beer rooms in the province.

It was expected that beer should be consumed on licensed premises, which was what the Alberta people who voted in the plebiscite in 1923 had authorized. In spite of this, the Act had been widened in 1934 and this widening had not been authorized by the people.

FELT MOVE GOOD ONE

I. McCune, S.C., Gleichen proclaimed his support for the amendment, and Rev. Roy Taylor, S.C., Pincher Creek, who felt that the move was a good one and the government should be supported on it.

Rev. Peter Dawson, S.C., Little Bow was in accord with the amendment as was E. O. Duke, S.C., Rocky Mountain and Rev. J. A. Wingblade, S.C., Wetaskiwin.

Herbert Ingrey, S.C., Drumheller, declared that people in the Old Country did not experience any of the ill effects of beer as suggested by some of the speakers and there was no vidence of retrogression there.

Complete denial of charges made against Alberta hotels was given by E. P. Foster, S.C., Didsbury, who contended that these hotels were by far superior to the hotels of prohibition days.

Strong opposition to the amendment was voiced by Mr. Foster.

AVERAGE PROFIT

Mr. Barnes, in advocating raising the license fee on breweries from $1500 to $10,000, charged that the average profit on beer was $10 a barrel, which meant an aggregate profit for the breweries of $300,000.

It was contended by Mrs. E. H. Gostick, S.C., Calgary, that one hotel which had paid a license fee of $450 a year now paid $1,800 and if this could be done by a hotel, then it could be done by a brewery.

Dealing with these matters, Hon. J. W. Hugill, K.C., attorney-general, declared that brewery licenses in other provinces were out of line. Manitoba, he said, had a license of $600; Saskatchewan, $500; Ontario, from $750 to $5,000 according to capitalization and investment, with Quebec the same. British Columbia had no license fee.

The minister refuted Mr. Barnes' allegation that breweries made such large profits and he quoted total profits of Alberta breweries as $297,214 in 1931; $181,000 in 1932 and $234,837 in 1933. He did not think these profits excessive in view of the capital investment.

BOOKS AUDITED

He declared that breweries' books were being audited, and if it was found a higher license fee was required, then it would be set.

"We have a Social Credit government in Alberta," declared Charles Holder, S.C., St. Albert, to which C. Gerald O'Connor, Liberal, Edmonton, replied, "Unfortunately."

Mr. Holder declared that if it was possible to raise the license fee to $10,000 without raising the price to the consumer, then it should be done.

PERSONS GOING TO NORTH MUST BE GRUBSTAKED

REGINA, March 25—Royal Canadian Mounted Police at Prince Albert have been instructed by the department of the attorney-general to check all persons going into Goldfields to see they are properly grubstaked. Co-operation of the police in Alberta is being asked for similar action on all persons entering the gold mining area from McMurray in Alberta. Influx of men seeking work, who later became a charge on the mining companies necessitated this action.

Rimbey Record Reader Keeper Complete Files

RIMBEY, March 25—It was a big surprise to Editor W. J. Good when appreciation of his editorial efforts on the part of a reader who had saved his Rimbey Records resulted in a new lease of life for the Record, destroyed by fire a few weeks ago.

Double misfortune struck Mr. Good when he was confined to hospital and his plant burned to the ground on the same day. He lost, among other valuables, all the files of his weekly newspaper.

It was a bright day when Mrs. Georg. Morgan, wife of a local garage proprietor, presented him with complete files of his paper covering a period of several years, and almost back to the Record's initial issue in 1930.

Mrs. Morgan had collected the papers as a hobby and was not connected with the publishing business.

Next issue of the Record will be off the press on April 2, the plant having been re-established in a building formerly used as a memorial community hall by war veterans.

Funeral Held For Erskine Pioneer

ERSKINE, March 25.—Last rites for C. A. Wetsel, 89, Alberta pioneer, was held on Sunday, March 22, in the I.O.O.F. hall in Erskine. He came to Canada early in the century from Oklahoma and settled on a homestead six miles south of Erskine, a few years later coming to Erskine when the C.P.R. was built to build a hotel.

He could recall incidents clearly in the early years of American expansion. Indian raids, the Civil war, the rush for homesteads in Oklahoma, the Lincoln and Douglas debates and buffalo hunts in Kansas. He leaves a wife and three married daughters.

The government of Chile provides doctors and nurses when children are born. Among other state benefits in that country are insurance against accident and death, official hospitals, and free coffins and graves.

RESOLUTIONS ON PENSIONS ARE ENDORSED

Reduction From 60 to 50 Years in Age Limit Asked by Legion

VANCOUVER, March 25—Reduction from 60 to 50 years in the age limit for the entitlement of war veterans' allowances, continuation for one year of payment to a widow of her husband's pension in case of his death from other than pensionable causes and other resolutions dealing with veterans' pensions were endorsed at the sixth annual convention of the Canadian Legion here last night.

VETERANS' WELFARE

Delegates spent the entire afternoon in discussion and adoption of resolutions affecting veterans' welfare.

In connection with the resolution favoring amendment of the Pensions Act to permit continuation to a widow of her husband's allowance for one year, one delegate asserted "veterans are dying off like flies" and leaving their widows in poor circumstances.

SPEED UP HANDLING

Under the present arrangement if a pensioner died from other than war disabilities his pension is discontinued immediately upon his death. The veterans also urged that handling of pension cases be speeded up.

Another resolution adopted urged amendment of the Pensions' Act to permit the pension commission discretion in awarding allowances to wives of war veterans who had disappeared.

Several other resolutions, dealing with the pension problem, were discussed and passed.

Leuders Acquitted On Perjury Charge

Theodore Leuders, of Strathcona, charged with perjury, was acquitted by Mr. Justice Ewing when he appeared in Criminal court Tuesday.

Leuders was accused of having perjured himself in April, 1934, during trial of a case by Mr. Justice Ewing when he swore that he hadn't hired Chris Risvold as a road foreman at Strathcona. Mr. Justice Ewing was inclined to give the prisoner benefit of the doubt, holding that the incident took place so long ago that it would be difficult for witnesses to remember exactly what he did say.

E. B. Cogswell, K.C., prosecuted and F. G. Thomson, K.C., appeared for Leuders.

800 Detained

RIO DE JANEIRO, March 25. — More than 800 persons have been detained by police on official communique declared last night, as the government sought to curb what it termed "subversive movements."

WEDNESDAY, MARCH 25

ACTION AT LAST?

Albertans in general, and those in central and northern Alberta in particular, will be interested in the announcement made by Hon. C. C. Ross that large scale development of the tar-sand deposits at Fort McMurray is to be undertaken by a company, operating with United States capital.

There is a vast store of wealth there waiting to be tapped. Oil and coal-surfacing material are only two of many products which may be derived from the tar-sands, and in the process of adaptation there will be employment for a number of men proportioned to the market and the scale of development.

The legislature, it is to be assumed, will be made acquainted with the "arrangements" made by the Government with the company and the terms and conditions under which the enterprise is to be launched. It should ask for that information if necessary and get it, before the present session ends.

NOW IT CAN BE TOLD

Now that the cabling is over and the letter-writing has ended, there can be no strategic reasons for longer refusing to bring down the correspondence between the Government and Major Douglas.

There are no longer any projected plans to conceal or any tactical advantages to be protected.

On the other hand, it is necessary in fairness to all parties concerned that the course of the negotiations be fully disclosed—particularly in the interests of the Premier and of the Major. Public opinion is sharply divided as to where the blame lies for the break between the Social Credit adviser and the Social Credit Premier. That uncertainty should be cleared up.

And the public have a right to know what led up to the severance of relations. They have paid good money for Major Douglas' advice—and are entitled to know what the advice was. They have entrusted the Premier with power on the understanding that he would set up the kind of an economic system the Major has been advocating—and are equally entitled to know why the first step taken in the matter is to dismiss the author of the system.

PENALTIES HINDER PAYMENT

Successive Edmonton city councils have gone on piling penalties upon the taxpayer who fell into arrears. And have kept on charging up both arrears and penalties in a constantly growing amount. For the reason that the taxpayer who could not pay his taxes as they fell due was still less able to pay up back taxes plus penalties.

The standing argument against abolishing penalties, and offering to accept arrears at par plus bank interest, has been that this would be unfair to the taxpayer who had paid his taxes as these fell due. He is supposed to be in some way benefitted because his neighbor who could not pay on time is penalized for his misfortune.

How much will the taxpayer who has paid his taxes be benefitted if the 4200 homes and business places now under caveat have to be taken over by the city and added to the tax-free list?

Before the council raises charges for utility services, does any more salary-slashing, or tries any new tax schemes, it should cancel penalties and offer to accept back taxes at par plus bank interest. Every dollar so collected would be a pledge from a taxpayer to go on trying to keep possession of his property and his name on the tax-roll.

PREPARING FOR TROUBLE

The people of Italy are now without a parliament. Perhaps they won't notice the difference, because the parliament they had was composed of members nominated by Il Duce and elected in obedience to his orders. They never count anyway under a dictatorship.

The forceful Premier says he is organizing the country for war—to come he knows not whence, but sure to come from some quarter. Meanwhile his airplanes rain mustard gas and other "civilizing" agents upon the barbarians in Abyssinia, while his spokesmen demand their country as the price of Italy's adherence to its Locarno pledge to restrain Germany.

Meanwhile also, Mussolini denounces Great Britain as the one country that is supporting sanctions, cramping his style in Abyssinia, and trying to prevent a more wholesale slaughter of its inhabitants—and of the young Italians he has sent into that fever-laden country and is afraid to bring back to Italy and unemployment.

If the Italians want to know where their danger lies they have only to look at their Premier. He has shipped their sons abroad to fight a bootless war because he did not know how to employ them at home, and has deprived them of even the semblance of self-government. Perhaps it is trouble at home he is preparing for.

ONE GOES: THE OTHER STAYS

Government members of the legislature in caucus Monday evening decided to "terminate association" with Major Douglas, thus formally relieving the Major of further responsibility as Alberta's reconstruction advisor.

Since the Major was engaged under contract, which the Government is breaking, the question of damages or compensation may arise. That can hardly be of great practical importance, since the compensation could scarcely be more than the year's "salary" for his unexpired term, and it is much the same thing financially to "buy out" of the contract as to go on paying wages to an adviser whose advice is not taken.

And that, the Major says, is what brought about the break in the contracted relationships; the Government wouldn't take his advice. As between paying for unwanted advice and paying the adviser to stop advising, there is not a great deal to choose.

The more important question is: Who follows? The cashiering of the Major leaves Mr. Magor lone-handed on the job, and with the advantage that he is personally and continuously available. But Mr. Magor's qualifications as an advisor on the establishment of a Social Credit system are unknown. He has not been represented to be an authority on that subject, and Major Douglas seemed to regard him as a deadly enemy of the cause.

In fact the presence of Mr. Magor appeared to be one of the strong reasons for the absence of Major Douglas. Whatever it signifies, he remains, while the Major has been told to quit.

The Passing Show

By J. S. COWPER

One of the intangible rewards of writing a daily column is the pleasure one gives to people.

A few weeks ago when the Crown Prince of Woolworthia was born, this column referred to an item in the papers stating that Princess

J. S. Cowper

Babs had hired body-guards to protect His Royal Highness from a kidnap plot by American gangsters.

More recently, news came that a crazy young Englishman had been arrested by the London police. He had demanded £200 for revealing a supposed kidnap plot to the mother of the Royal babe.

By the next mail came a marked copy of the item from some loyal subject of the Five and Ten, gleefully saying "That's your English justice," and demanding that a retraction be made on behalf of the maligned American gangsters, unjustly accused of a plot to snatch the Royal fledgling.

So here it is.

No person who has travelled England would be so rash as to lump the English together and pass either strictures or compliments on them as a whole. Macaulay once observed that you can't draw an indictment against a nation. Having at close quarters observed many lots of English I am free to say that they comprise more types than their original mixed ancestors. I don't know any nation, unless it is the American nation, that shows more diversity. The English include some of the pleasantest and some of the unpleasantest classes in the human species.

Here's something typical of one class of Englishman. Herbert Hollick-Kenyon—late of Winnipeg and British Columbia and originally of England—was recently lost with Lincoln Ellsworth on the Antarctic ice, after their plane had flown the Antarctic continent from Dundee Island to the Bay of Whales. For a time it was feared that both explorer and aviator were lost forever.

A few weeks ago the two lost men were sighted by a plane from the British research ship Discovery, which dropped parcels of food and mail near their improvised camp. Ellsworth lay asleep with an injured foot, while Hollick-Kenyon kept guard.

There was no excitement. The first intimation Ellsworth had was when Hollick-Kenyon wakened him up by pushing a letter in his hand and saying "Here's a note from Wilkins." It was a message from Sir Hubert Wilkins, instructing the two men to march towards the sea to meet the party from the Discovery.

A despatch from Melbourne telling of the rescue says that when the Discovery men, fighting their way over the ice hummocks, came upon Kenyon and his injured partner, they were greeted in casual manner by Kenyon, who said, "I say, it's awfully decent of you fellows to drop in on us like this."

Antarctic explorers usually grow beards and a long mop of hair, but Kenyon was spotlessly clean and neatly dressed. He was clean-shaved and had his hair cut. His handkerchief matched his tie. Each day he had taken his daily bath in melted ice.

That's English, you know!

The flight completed the last major feat of exploration in the great southland, which Ellsworth had pursued with dogged determination for three years.

Prospectors, struggling to develop mineral properties in the Northland, against the handicaps of short working seasons and the heavy cost of transporting machinery and fuel oils, may find a solution of their power problem in some tests recently made at the University of British Columbia in the use of wood fuel in gas engines.

Experimenting with radiant heat distillation some years ago, while manufacturing turpentine and other products from resin and mill waste, I learned that wood gas had preceded coal gas as an illuminant in the early plants. An offer to supply the Vancouver Gas Company with gas at a lower price than it could produce coal gas, was followed, I noted, by a new Semet-Solvay plant which uses large quantities of gas from sawdust in conjunction with pitch gas.

More recently, several groups of miners on Fraser river placer operations solved the power problem by installing junked automobile and truck engines, fuelled by wood gas from an adjacent retort, the retort being both fed and heated by cord wood, old ties or forest slash.

Tests recently completed by the University of B.C., were in connection with a one-ton truck, fitted with a Koela gas retort. The Koela Gas Producer people have English patents for a plant which produces carbon monoxide gas from charcoal.

Applied to a truck, the plant is enclosed in a small steel drum. Air inlet is fixed, end up, on the running board. It is about four feet high and twenty inches in diameter, something like the heaters in the front vestibules of the Edmonton street cars.

The tests showed that 12 pounds of charcoal give gas-power equivalent to a gallon of gasoline. With charcoal at $20 a ton, twelve pounds of charcoal cost 12 cents, making a considerable cut in the fuel bill for a truck. Charcoal can be produced for about $14 a ton, using jackpine, alder, forest slash, etc., and yielding by-products of pitch, creosote and acetate of lime.

The charcoal industry is one that can stand development in Canada. In 1930 nearly $800,000 worth of charcoal was imported into Canada, on which $35,000 of duty was paid. Half the cost of charcoal is represented in wages.

While the Koela Company makes standard plants of from 25 to 105 horsepower that would save heavy gasoline costs in wooded areas, it is possible to build small stationary plants taking the wood gas direct from the retort without the trouble of making or buying charcoal, and doubtless without infringing any patents.

With seven cents a gallon tax added to the already over-high cost of gasoline and fuel oil in Alberta, there's an incentive to mechanically-minded men to use their knowledge and inventive skill. The business of life and the development of our northern mining areas will suffer under the heavy taxation imposed by the Magor budget unless invention comes to our aid.

Why We Need Iodine

By DOCTOR FRANK McCOY

Once in awhile we come across a substance which is a poison if taken in large amounts, but which in small amounts is necessary to health. One of the "friendly poisons" is iodine. While needed in comparatively small-being, nevertheless the amount of iodine required within the space of a year is comparatively very small. Yet, even though this amount is relatively small, iodine is undoubtedly one of the most important substances used in the body. Its importance depends upon the fact that without it, the thyroid gland is unable to do its work.

The value of iodine has been recognized for many hundreds of years; for example, one of the first legends about this substance coming from China, is over four thousand years old. Even though the ancients did not know the exact nature of the element, they realized that it had a place in the treatment of simple goitre, and obtained the iodine for treatment purposes from the ashes of seaweed, or kelp. The name iodine comes from the Greek and means "violet-hued," referring to the violet vapor which rises when the sea-weed is burned.

Even the earliest medical writings stress the importance of iodine in human welfare and its value was well known long before iodine was isolated chemically in 1811. The beneficial effect to be secured from plants rich in iodine was understood by the Chinese, the Greeks and others. In 1895, Baumann demonstrated that iodine is used by the thyroid gland. Soon after that time, it was established that part of the iodine taken into the body in food or water is lost in perspiration and in the kidney elimination.

Because of the very definite biological need for iodine it is fortunate that this substance is widely distributed in nature. Iodine is found in practically all soils, in river water, well water, and is specially abundant in sea water. Possibly the best natural source is sea-weed, and as this plant decomposes on the beach, the iodine is freed in a volatile form and thus passes into the air and is carried by the wind. Certainly, sea air is richer in iodine than air found far inland.

The iodine occurring naturally is kept in circulation, for the rain washes iodine out of the air, when it reaches the land. Plants grown on the land will contain it. Then the iodine returns to the rivers, and thus gets back to the sea, is absorbed by sea-weed and the circle begins again.

Iodine is physiologically indispensable and is secured from the air, from water and from the food eaten. This food element is normally found in the greatest amounts in sea foods, in kelp, and in those vegetables grown in soil rich in iodine. You are more likely to get iodine out of the natural foods which have not been refined than from refined foods. In most parts of the world, iodine is present in sufficient quantities to meet the needs of the body.

I advise that the best way to secure an abundance of iodine is to use the foods which contain it. There can be no question but that iodine is safest in foods in the form in which it occurs in foods and there can be no danger of an over-dose of this type of iodine. Salt water fish, green vegetables, eggs and fruits are good sources. For example, iodine is contained in cod fish, haddock, salmon, herring, crab, lobster, shrimp, oysters, clams, asparagus, pineapple and carrots. Since iodine is present in a great many common foods, it is comparatively easy to obtain plenty of it.

One of the most interesting facts about iodine is that it plays a part in helping the body to resist disease. There is evidence that an abundance of iodine increases the defensive power of the body against germ infections. This is an additional reason to make sure that your diet contains iodine-bearing foods. It is another good reason for using iodine, to be added to all of the other good reasons which we already know.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

QUESTION: H. J. D. writes: "What makes me have a metallic taste?"

ANSWER: Sometimes a metallic taste in the mouth is noticed when acid fruits come in contact with certain kinds of fillings. However, the same symptom may be produced in some of the chronic diseases regardless of fillings in the teeth. If your dietitian is concerned, see the dentist and then your doctor.

Poems That Live

"ROCKED IN THE CRADLE OF THE DEEP"

Rocked in the cradle of the deep
I lay down in peace to sleep;
Secure I rest upon the wave,
For Thou, O Lord! hast power to save.
I know Thou wilt not slight my call,
For Thou dost mark the sparrow's fall:
And calm and peaceful shall I sleep,
Rocked in the cradle of the deep.

When in the dead of night I lie
And gaze upon the trackless sky,
The star-bespangled heavenly scroll,
The boundless waters as they roll—
I feel Thy wondrous power to save
From perils of the stormy wave:
Rocked in the cradle of the deep,
I calmly rest and soundly sleep.

And such the trust that still were mine,
Though stormy winds swept o'er the brine,
Or through the tempest's fiery breath
In ocean cave, still safe with Thee
The germ of immortality!
And calm and peaceful shall I sleep,
Rocked in the cradle of the deep.

On This Date

A Day in Canadian History —o— By FRED WILLIAMS

On this date in 1862, the first Canadian bishop of the Church of England in Canada, was consecrated by a Canadian bishop, all previous bishops had had to go to England to be consecrated to their office. The recipient of this honor was Rev. J. Travers Lewis, who, of Irish birth, had come to Canada in 1850 and been from 1854, after four years at West Hawkesbury on the Ottawa river, rector of Brockville. (Incidentally, it may be stated that the name of the new diocese was given by Bishop Strachan from the lake on which the diocese fronted, just as he had given the name Huron to the other diocese he had created in the west portion of his original diocese of Upper Canada).

The consecration of Mr. Lewis took place in St. George's church, Kingston, which thus became a cathedral. The ceremony was performed by Dr. Fulford, then Bishop of Montreal, assisted by Bishop Strachan (Toronto), then 85 years old, Bishop Mountain, (Quebec), aged 73, and Bishop Cronyn of Huron. Bishop Lewis died May 4, 1901, having become archbishop and metropolitan. March 25 has seen many episcopal consecrations in Canada, in addition to that of Mr. Lewis, viz: Rev. John Inglis, third Bishop of Nova Scotia, 1825; Rev. Herbert Pinney, fourth of Nova Scotia, 1851; Rev. W. W. Perrin, second of British Columbia, 1893; Rev. W. J. Seaborn, coadjutor of Qu'Appelle, 1893; and Rev. J. F. Sweeney, fourth of Toronto, 1909.

The Mail Bag

DEFENCE NOT DEFIANCE

Editor, The Bulletin: It is of course always understood that any attempt to protect public interest from special privilege will be assailed as to motive. In a circular letter from the Retail Merchants' Association over the signature of A. C. Mackay, its organizer and propagandist, the bona fides of the Consumers' League are assailed, although admitting that the League's messages are reaching at least 200,000 people in Alberta. This circular implores all merchants to write a letter of humble thanks to the Retail Merchants' Association and so counteract the opinion of consumers. He still insists that Codes will not raise prices, although he knows they must.

The Consumers' League of Alberta has for its motto "Defence not Defiance". It recognizes the fact that laws must be obeyed but it also claims that consumers have as much right to protect their interests, as have others to mulct those interests, if such can be done legally. It is not to protect consumer interest—to test the codes and the sales tax if necessary through the courts, to carry the fight for consumer protection into the Legislature if necessary by offering a Consumer candidate at the coming Edmonton by-election—to fight any effort to give the privilege of indirect taxation to any other body than the Dominion Government of Canada.

The evils of indirect taxation are many. It allows the raising of revenue without the knowledge of the consumer, almost invariably adds another form of profit to the merchant collector and is wasteful as regards the end obtained and the cost of collection. It permits many nuisance taxes to be imposed and gives too much power to legislatures which, whilst pluming themselves that they are almost rational experiments are really nothing more if population is taken into consideration than ordinary local councils. It also lulls the taxpayer to sleep as, whilst he can visualize his direct taxation, he cannot his indirect taxation.

The President of the Retail Merchants' Association, stated at Medicine Hat recently that his organization represented 20% of the retail merchants of Alberta, thus saying one-fifth represent the opinion of 100% of the retail merchants. If so, why should it be necessary to compel by legislation every retailer to join that association? And even if they do represent the retail merchants 100%, which they assuredly do not, should they presume to speak for 800,000 consumers? The Consumer is most vitally interested because he supplies the money.

The Consumers' League of Alberta says: Beware the Codes; they are dynamite to consumer interest and pocket—Beware any change in B.N.A. legislation which makes indirect taxation by Provincial legislation. Beware of small cliques of retail merchants endeavoring to make illegal business combinations. Legal. Beware of propaganda which says "you cannot, if you do, you'll be hurt." You can and will. Beware this attempt to Hitlerize the consumer.

The Consumers' League of Alberta.
F. S. WRIGHT,
President.

Current Comment

A VISITING ECONOMIST

On Thursday and Friday, Jacob Viner, professor of Economics at Chicago University, will be in Edmonton, will confer with professors of the University of Alberta, and address a student meeting in Convocation Hall.

Mr. Viner specializes in economic theory and international trade. As an economist he is recognized in United States, Great Britain and on the Continent as one of the outstanding men of today. His work in economic theory is highly technical and is good for training for the well-trained economic expert, rather than the public. In the field of international trade his work has been of major significance and is of particular interest to the Canadian public because he has used Canada as the background for his illustrations of how international trade works.

His book, "Canada's Balance of International Indebtedness" holds a place of its own in the field of international trade theory that is concerned with the effect of foreign indebtedness and foreign borrowing on the economic life of a country.

Besides being a theorist Mr. Viner has had practical experience as a special expert for the United States tariff commission during two years of President Wilson's regime, as well as expert adviser to the Secretary of the United States in 1934, when he dealt with the question of the availability of bank credit in the Chicago federal reserve district.

He is at his best when refuting arguments that are supposed to prove that the theory of international trade is incorrect. On occasion he has made his stand clear as to what he thinks of economists who become hired advocates for vested interests and who forget that being an economist is a serious and high calling, the ethics of which are sacred and cannot be violated. His students always remember him by two things. First that he makes them work harder than they ever worked before or want to work again, and second (they always add this) that they are fortunate to have had the privilege of working under him because he teaches them what the word economist really means.—C. P.

Selling Wheat In The Orient

By R. T. ELLIOTT, K.C.

A correspondent writes, either in sorrow or in anger, but certainly with an entire lack of approbation, to ask what became of our zeal for the sale of Canadian wheat in small retail packages in the Orient. The aggrieved correspondent is absolutely right. There is no excuse for the allowing year after year to go past, without any effort to get the market of the Orient for the Canadian wheat grower. The trouble is that Canada is afflicted with dry rot at the top. We live in the land of it cannot be done.

Californians got an idea that raisins should be sold in China, and the following result is told by Mr. Frederick Simpich in the National Geographic, March, 1936, article on Northern California:

"Raisins are a dramatic example. Chinese like them; they say it a man eats raisins he may have male children. The lowest-priced package goods known to foreign trade is a tiny red envelope holding some 15 or 20 'Sun Maid' raisins sold in China for one-twelfth of a cent."

In Canada we are experts in refusing to experiment with methods for enlarging commerce. Immediately a method should be perfected for packing some cracked wheat in cellophane envelopes for sale in China, the Canadian railway companies would explain that these envelopes and contents made up a high grade merchandise which should pay a high grade freight rate; and by the time the wheat got to China the cost would be such that a Chinaman could no more afford to buy a package for his lunch than he could afford to buy a five dollar quart of champagne to drink with it. Also there would probably have to be an official inspection of each envelope at a cost greater than that of the envelope and contents.

Dry rot at the top is a grievous national affliction; it impregnates Canadian public and industrial life to an extent which keeps population stationary in numbers and keeps national commerce on an auction sale basis. There is absolutely no chance to attain national growth by charging each other more for what we buy from each other. Seventy years of disastrous experience stands behind the exercise of that policy.

SHE'S IN THE RUNNING TOO!

Here is the most recent photo of Princess Cecile, 19-year-old daughter of former Crown Prince Wilhelm of Germany, who is prominent among the group of royal marriage eligibles from which King Edward VIII may choose a bride. Princess Cecile first came to London last January with her mother to attend a finishing school. At that time she was entertained at Buckingham palace, and is said to have intrigued Edward.

INSURANCE ACT AMENDING BILL GETS WORKOUT

Aims At Bringing About Uniformity in Provincial Legislation

Aiming at bringing about uniformity in insurance legislation in Canadian provinces, a bill to amend the Alberta Insurance Act, which is this province's contribution to the uniformity, was given a preliminary workout in the committee of the whole assembly on Tuesday.

The bill embraces amendments relating to the Insurance Act of 1926 and deals with life insurance. The provisions have been recommended by the conference of the superintendents of insurance in all the provinces.

DATE ARRANGED

The bill provides that it shall come into force on proclamation and it is anticipated that upon the adoption of similar legislation by all provinces, a date will be arranged upon which the same may be brought into force simultaneously in all provinces.

Before discussion started Hon. Ernest C. Manning, provincial secretary stated that he was not pressing all these points, he was submitting it to the house for consideration. Any clauses which members desired, would be stood over.

He said that he would rather delete any clauses than amend them so as to make them out of line with similar acts in other provinces.

C. Gerald O'Connor, Liberal, Edmonton asked that information be obtained on two points, namely, the legality of the bill and how loans on policies came to be fixed at six per cent.

SECTION HELD OVER

After some discussion it was decided to hold over that section which prohibits advertisements relating to trafficking in life insurance policies and reports furnished to superintendents of insurance concerning applicants for licenses or licensed persons are declared to be privileged and to be not usable as evidence in any suit in any court brought by any applicant or licensee.

George H. Van Allen, K.C., Liberal, Edmonton urged that the section be dropped as he did not favor anything that might lead to hole-in-the-corner methods.

Many other sections were stood over as the house skimmed over the bill and a more detailed discussion will take place later.

CAMROSE NOT UNANIMOUSLY FOR CODES

Businessmen Discuss New Legislation and Many Express Disapproval

CAMROSE, March 25.—Voting 16 in favor and 13 against the establishment of a master code for retailers in the province, local merchants delegated J. Adair Young, departmental store owner, and E. E. O'Connor, Baker, to attend the province-wide meeting in Edmonton Wednesday, to discuss retail codes at the invitation of the Social Credit Government, received through the provincial secretary, Hon. Ernest Manning.

Discussion at the local Town hall meeting held Monday afternoon, under chairmanship of T. E. Tanner, president of the Camrose Board of Trade, brought out the position of merchants in a middle-sized town, which attracts business from smaller village general stores, and on the other hand, loses to the larger city departmental stores.

EXPRESS OPPOSITION

It was pointed out that as yet only two and a half per cent of Alberta merchants had expressed their wish for a retail code. Businessmen here, interested in general merchandising, expressed their opposition to being bound by codes so restrictive. Druggists and bakers clamored for a code to eliminate cut-rate methods.

C. A. Bonning, ex-M.L.A., stated that, while a master code might be worth trying along certain lines, it would have to be considered an experiment. F. L. Farley, old time real estate man, expressed himself as being emphatically opposed to any move to restrict trade. He pointed out experience of western Canadian farmers, as a result of the wheat pool.

HOW N.R.A. WORKED

Sherman Fox, American farmer in the district, when asked about the practical outcome of Roosevelt's "New Deal" N.R.A. in the United States, mentioned a typical "dirt farmers's" experience. On going to an N.R.A. coded country store for a pair of braces he found the same make of a pair, in fact from the identical shipment, as he bought before N.R.A. for 35 cents, was then boosted to 75 cents. The result was the farmer went home and made himself a pair of braces out of twine.

Allan Schloss, manager of a local department store, expressed the belief that such a code as the government was attempting to put through would sooner or later be discarded as was the N.R.A. in the United States.

Putting in his word as an implement dealer, J. A. Code, ex-mayor of Camrose, humorously declaring that he had never heard his name spoken in vain so much before, stated, "I think this code business is just a lot of bunk."

Policies Will Be Discussed At Liberal Forum

On Thursday, March 26, at eight o'clock in the Liberal Club rooms, McLeod building, the Study Group will discuss the question of "The Future of Liberalism."

The speakers will be Dr. Walter Morrish, Robert V. Price, Nelles V. Buchanan, S. C. Stavley Kerr and Edward C. Fisher.

The subject promises to be a live one in view of the fact of the coming by-election in the City of Edmonton and the fact that the leadership of the Liberal party for the province of Alberta is open. A great variety of views no doubt will be expressed, both by the speakers and by the audience who take part in the question and comment periods. The meetings are open to the public at large, and they are welcome to take part in the proceedings.

Mrs. Marian Conroy, the president of the Edmonton Provincial Liberal Association, will preside as chairman.

Scotland is called "Scotsmaa" in the Magyar language, "Skotsko" in Czechoslovakian, "Iskocya" in Turkish, and "Szkocja" in Polish.

BY LAURA LOU BROOKMAN © 1936 NEA Service, Inc.

BEGIN HERE TODAY

TOBY RYAN, 19, works behind the jewelry counter of a large Manhattan department store. She poses for a photograph to be used in a store advertisement and MARTY HIATT, the photographer, tells Toby she has a "camera face."

Toby mentioned a typical "dirt farmers's" experience. On going to an N.R.A. coded country store for a pair of braces he found the same make of a pair, in fact from the identical shipment, as he bought before N.R.A. for 35 cents, was then boosted to 75 cents. The result was the farmer went home and made himself a pair of braces out of twine.

Allan Schloss, manager of a local department store, expressed the belief that such a code as the government was attempting to put through would sooner or later be discarded as was the N.R.A. in the United States.

Putting in his word as an implement dealer, J. A. Code, ex-mayor of Camrose, humorously declaring that he had never heard his name spoken in vain so much before, stated, "I think this code business is just a lot of bunk."

Scotland is called "Scotsmaa" in the Magyar language, "Skotsko" in Czechoslovakian, "Iskocya" in Turkish, and "Szkocja" in Polish.

Toby shook her head. "No," she said, "I—really I can't. And I've got to go now. I'll be late if I don't."

"Then when can I see you? Will you meet me for dinner?"

She said, smiling a little because it was all so ridiculous, "You've forgotten that I don't know you. Why, I don't even know your name—"

"My name," the young man said, "is Timothy Jamieson. And you wrote it when you made out the charge for those clips—or whatever you call the things. I was hoping you'd remember."

Toby did remember, then. She asked, because she really was curious, "What do you do in the world did you do with all those clips?"

"Really want to know?"

"I really do."

"Well, it's a long story, but if you'll meet me for dinner—"

Toby saw a clock on the building across the street. The hands pointed to 4:25. Without waiting to hear more, she exclaimed, "Oh, I've got to hurry!" and fled.

She was breathless when she opened the door of the tenth floor studio. A woman in a green smock came forward and said, "Miss Ryan?"

"Yes. I hope I'm not late—"

The woman glanced at a wrist watch. "No," she said, "by my time you're a few minutes early. The photographer is busy with another model, but you can go in the dressing room and get ready. You'll find the hats you're to wear on the table."

Toby went into the dressing room. Fortunately, that clock on the street had been fast!

But there was no young man in a tweed topcoat and jaunty gray felt anywhere in sight. Toby hadn't really expected that there would be. He'd said that he did wait, that other time.

That, Toby promptly assured herself, was nonsense. Since when had she taken to believing the "lines" of fresh young men, trying to pick up dates? He was a fresh young man. What else could you call him—coming to the store the way he had, asking her to have dinner with him when they hadn't even been introduced? And he must have thought she was the sort of girl who would accept such an invitation or she pushed her way toward the door. A moment later the bus halted and she stepped down to the street.

On the sidewalk she turned—and raised startled eyes. The young man was beside her.

"Why—!" Toby began.

He said grinning, "You don't think I'm going to risk losing you again, do you? Not a chance! Remember, we were going to have dinner together. I waited an hour for you that night. Now, listen, why don't you forget whatever it is you were going to do this afternoon and come along with me? We'll go over to Tony's—"

There was something about him that made it hard to refuse. "But I can't," Toby said.

"Oh, but of course you can. And, what's more, you're going to. I'll tell you what we'll do—"

Toby shook her head. "No," she said, "I—really I can't. And I've got to go now. I'll be late if I don't."

"Then when can I see you? Will you meet me for dinner?"

She said, smiling a little because it was all so ridiculous, "You've forgotten that I don't know you. Why, I don't even know your name—"

"My name," the young man said, "is Timothy Jamieson. And you wrote it when you made out the charge for those clips—or whatever you call the things. I was hoping you'd remember."

Toby did remember, then. She asked, because she really was curious, "What do you do in the world did you do with all those clips?"

"Really want to know?"

"I really do."

"Well, it's a long story, but if you'll meet me for dinner—"

Toby saw a clock on the building across the street. The hands pointed to 4:25. Without waiting to hear more, she exclaimed, "Oh, I've got to hurry!" and fled.

She was breathless when she opened the door of the tenth floor studio. A woman in a green smock came forward and said, "Miss Ryan?"

"Yes. I hope I'm not late—"

The woman glanced at a wrist watch. "No," she said, "by my time you're a few minutes early. The photographer is busy with another model, but you can go in the dressing room and get ready. You'll find the hats you're to wear on the table."

Toby went into the dressing room. Fortunately, that clock on the street had been fast!

But there was no young man in a tweed topcoat and jaunty gray felt anywhere in sight. Toby hadn't really expected that there would be. He'd said that he did wait, that other time.

That, Toby promptly assured herself, was nonsense. Since when had she taken to believing the "lines" of fresh young men, trying to pick up dates? He was a fresh young man. What else could you call him—coming to the store the way he had, asking her to have dinner with him when they hadn't even been introduced? And he must have thought she was the sort of girl who would accept such an invitation or he wouldn't have asked her. The idea of believing even for a minute that he was anything like any of the other fresh young men! He wasn't different; he was exactly like the rest.

No, she'd never see Mr. Timothy Jamieson (if that really was his name) again. Hurrying toward the avenue, she told herself she didn't even want to see him.

It was Wednesday, the night she usually had dinner with Bill Burdett, and she met him at their favorite cafeteria. The little table they favored, in a corner shadowed by the balcony, was vacant.

Toby set a plate of chicken and noodles and another of perfection salad on the red-and-white checked table cloth, discarded the tray and looked across at Bill.

She said, "I think I'm going to have a chance to pose for some really important pictures next week! I was in Tone and Raleigh's studio this afternoon and they practically promised me—"

She went on, relating the day's adventures—except, of course, the encounter with the young man on the bus. Bill was always interested in everything Toby did, the places she went and people she met.

"Say," he said, "that's fine! You're getting on, Toby. Heading right for the top. Didn't I tell you?"

She didn't notice as she talked, important names rolling glibly from her mouth, quoting figures that would have seemed enormous a few weeks ago, that Bill had little to say. Once he asked, "What are you working on now, Bill? Anything new?"

"Same old chores," he told her.

Toby didn't ask questions. She remembered something another girl who modeled had told her, launched into the narrative.

They finished the evening with a movie. It was a picture starring Norma Shearer, and Toby, intent on the screen drama, could not forget that the glamorous heroine once had stood, even as Toby Ryan, before the cameras of commercial photographers. Of course Toby wasn't dreaming of a Hollywood career. Nothing like that. Still it was exciting!

They took the subway home. Toby didn't need to rise early the next morning, but she knew that Bill did. The light from a street lamp shone down on them as they stood before her rooming house. Toby suddenly noticed Bill's coat. It wasn't an expensive tweed, nor was it cut on smart lines. It was just an ordinary, two-year-old coat. Bill looked—well, a bit shabby. She'd never thought about it before.

She said goodnight then. She looked over her shoulder from the top step, smiling as she usually did, but it wasn't Bill she was thinking of. She was thinking of a young man with brown eyes beneath a jaunty gray felt—a young man she was never going to see again. Of course, it didn't make the slightest difference—

Toby turned her key in the lock and went inside. From the open door at the end of the hall the rooming house keeper's voice called. "That you, Miss Ryan?"

"Yes, Mrs. Moeller."

The woman appeared in the door. "There's a message for you. Came just a little while ago."

Toby said, "Why, how in the world—!" and reached for the slip of paper.

SUCH IS LIFE—By Bo Brown

"Dear me! It's quite a gusher, isn't it?"

PRIVY COUNCIL HOLDS DECISION IN GRAND TRUNK

LONDON, March 25.—The judicial committee of the privy council reserved judgment Thursday in the appeal of George Lovibond, acting on behalf of junior stockholders of the old Grand Trunk Railway, in connection with the terms under which the railway was acquired by the Canadian National Railways.

The stockholders sought originally from the Ontario courts a declaration that they had been deprived illegally of their stock holdings. This was subsequent to the ruling of an arbitration board that the common and preference shares of the G.T.R., with a certificate value of about $175,000,000, were valueless.

Hearing of the appeal began March 16. The arguments on both sides throughout were confined to absolute legal considerations. W. N. Tilley of Toronto represented the respondents. Cyril Radcliffe was counsel for the plaintiffs.

YEGGS EXPERT IN SAFE BLAST

JARROW, March 25.—Handiwork of expert yeggsmen was evident when the safe in W. M. Boyd's store here was blasted and the till rifled some time after midnight Saturday. The yeggs made their escape with about $100 cash and a number of cheques.

First robbing the till, the burglars took the small safe down into the basement where they drilled the door, loaded the holes with nitro and touched off the fuse, using cow hides to muffle the sound.

Lost Civilization Is Found To Be Comparable To Life Of Present Day

IT might happen that milleniums hence, the civilization of the Twentieth century would need to be reconstructed . . . this might become a lost age, awaiting the discovery of that ring of keys to the history-doors of the past to reveal our "today" to a people, remote in place and time. In any event, from Dr. George Hardy's lecture to the Women's Canadian Club at tea in the Macdonald hotel on Tuesday afternoon, one was convinced that "time is an inaccurate measuring stick," for "History Re-Discovered"—which was his topic—took the guests back to the year 2200 B.C. and showed to them a life in history analogous to the present day. From the paintings, buildings, engineering, construction, pottery, art, it was easy to believe that, as he pointed out, to be suddenly transported to ancient Crete during the period 2200-1400 B.C. would not be too radical a change, intellectually.

HOMERIC HEROES LIVED

It is only about 60 years since the excavations carried on chiefly by Sir Arthur Evans have proven that the Homeric legends were based on fact . . . that "Crete in the midst of the wine red sea" was the centre of a civilization which dominated the east; from which trade was carried on daily with Egypt, that there was found amber from the Baltic and ivory from China. England, the island core of a great empire is comparable to Crete 2200 years before Christ, then too, an island empire.

Dr. Hardy reviewed the history of Cretan civilization relating it to the later Grecian period. But when Minoan culture reached a high peak the barbarians swept over it "with fire and sword" in successive invasions which eventually almost blotted the pages of a brilliant age from history.

Lost—until recently, when archaeological research discovered the buried city of Cnossus. There the palace of the Minian kings, extended over six acres of ground, in a city in many ways as modern as today. Until these excavations, was Greek culture supposed to have "sprung like the goddess Athena, full born from the brow of Zeus." But the Achaean Greeks of Homer, triumphant, were themselves subdued by the Minoan culture.

ROAD TO THE PALACE

With slides to illustrate, Dr. Hardy's lecture was a graphic portrayal of life in the ancient city. Approach to the palace—along an ancient road discovered beneath an old Roman road that ran transverse of the original pathway—was shown. Paintings were found in a small building along the way—some of them depict the double axe, symbolic in the religion of the time as the cross is today, for the double axe was the weapon of destruction to their god.

There were pictures of men and women, showing their dress and revealing the influence of Egyptian art—a significant keynote in the history of trade with Egypt.

In views of the palace one saw the ancient throne, made of gypsum, and the oldest throne in the world; saw pictures of the frescoes that bedecked walls; saw the Queen's apartments—the ornate carving on the walls and arches of the rooms—pictures of dolphins at play—the Queen's bathroom, with a quite modern bath still intact.

In the magazines of the palace were stored great urns of oil, and precious records, placed in vaults, lowered underground by ropes.

INTEREST IN PLUMBING

A little hotel was shown, with its moden plumbing, baths, with pipes for hot and cold water. Too, the people had built a viaduct, to turn the flood waters from the hills to the river. There was a great stairway, leading to the heights of the palace, with pillars crowned by horns of the bull. Wonders of the ancient of days were revealed in all the slides.

Their art was impressionistic, their pottery exquisitely moulded—many pieces of their famous egg shell pottery are found in the tombs of Egypt. Much of the carving was symbolic.

THE BULL FIGHT

Games and sport which the people enjoyed were significant from the paintings of the bull fights, for there were acrobats who could seize the wild bull by the horns and somersault over its back. . . . There was a picture of the great dancing floor described by Homer.

Dr. Hardy then showed slides of the city of Mycenae, in Greece, and the interior of its vaulted tombs. In one tomb was found a drinking cup of gold with two doves on the handles, described by Homer in the Illiad.

The lecture, one of the most interesting of this season at which the Canadian Club has entertained many distinguished speakers, indeed, offered to Dr. Hardy's listeners, the "key to the magical city of remembrance" . . . and a new thrill of belief in the ancient, well loved tales of Homer.

Mrs. Gordon Gray occupied the chair, introducing Dr. Hardy.

For the annual meeting of the club to be held shortly a nominating committee convened by Mrs. Arthur Whitcomb and comprised also of Mrs. Charles Learmonth and Mrs. Charles McManus was appointed.

Craft Guild Will Exhibit Fine Pottery

Promising to be one of the most interesting affairs of Easter week is the tea and display of pottery for which Mrs. R. Secord has graciously offered her home to members of the Edmonton Branch, Canadian Handicraft Guild for the afternoon of Tuesday, April 14. The work to be shown is of special merit, moulded by the hand of Miss Doris Le Cocq, A.R.M.S. of the provincial Institute of Technology and Art in Calgary. Miss Le Cocq is a graduate of schools of Arts and Crafts in London and studied in the Royal College of Art Sculpture in South Kensington. Pieces from her collection have been shown in Milan, Italy, France and in important exhibition in the British Isles, including the Women Artists Exhibition and the Royal Miniature Society.

The affair will commence at three o'clock, when Mrs. Edward Underwood, president of the guild will receive the guests, assisted by Mrs. Butterworth, Mrs. A. R. Munroe, Mrs. Fred Jamieson, Miss L. Montgomery, Mrs. S. Field and Mrs. Richard Procter. Mrs. R. L. Hoar will be in charge of the treasury for the afternoon and others assisting will be Mrs. Ancus Baker, Mrs. Hewetson, Mrs. Israel, Mrs. P. J. Fleming, Mrs. C. A. Brine, Mrs. M. D. Baker and Mrs. George Keltie.

BIRTHDAY GREETINGS TO MISS MACPHAIL

OTTAWA, March 25.—One woman does not mind the whole world knowing her age. Miss Agnes Macphail, U.F.O.-Labor member of Parliament for Grey-Bruce, told visitors who came to give her birthday wishes today her position in parliament was ample compensation for the fact that her age appears in the Parliamentary Guide.

"If anyone wants to know exactly how old I am, they can look it up and I won't mind at all," she remarked when interviewed in her office, gay with bouquets of roses, spring flowers and birthday cards. The Parliamentary Guide discloses she is 46.

"Most people like to look back on their birthdays and tell of past happenings. All my parliamentary birthdays since the first in March, 1922, have been happy and I believe this is one of the brightest of them all. However, I am really looking forward to the future," Miss Macphail said.

Given a place of honor on her desk was a vase of crimson roses from "The Old Guard," J. S. Woodsworth, C.C.F. leader; Angus MacInnis (C.C.F., Vancouver East), and A. A. Heaps (C.C.F., Winnipeg North), who have been associated with Miss Macphail since her early days in the House of Commons.

This afternoon Miss Macphail attended a tea given by the cabinet ministers' wives, tonight a birthday dinner in the parliamentary restaurant.

EASTERN STAR CHAPTER MARKS ANNIVERSARY

Happiest of birthday parties was that arranged by members of the Allenby Chapter number 38, O.E.S., in celebration of their 16th anniversary, on Monday evening, at the Masonic Temple. Centring the banquet table was a tiered cake, complete with candles, which Mrs. R. H. Ennismore, worthy matron of the chapter, had made for the occasion. Mr. Alexander Lock was chairman for the evening and Mrs. A. Adam was in charge of a most entertaining after-dinner program. It included, vocal selections in trio, by Mrs. Ratcliffe, Miss Campbell and Miss Surry, with Mrs. Surry at the piano; vocal solos by Mr. Hardy, accompanied by Miss Hardy, Mrs. M. Jackson, Mrs. A. Adam and Mr. J. Stevenson, accompanied by Miss Gavin and Mr. A. Wetmore, accompanied by Mr. Wetmore; a duet by Mr. Hardy and Mr. Wetmore with Mrs. Wetmore at the piano; and a clever song and dance number by five-year-old Master Reid. Miss J. Stewart and Master Jackie Foster appeared in an Irish jig and Miss Doris Hollands did the Sailor's Hornpipe. Mrs. J. Scott entertained with delightful violin selections. Miss McFarlane accompanied Mrs. Scott and the dancers and violin obligatos to the dances were played by Mrs. Scott. Later the worthy matron, Mrs. R. H. Ennismore, presented to each small dancer a box of chocolates.

IRISH PLAY WILL BE SEEN AT THE EMPIRE

Edmonton Little Theatre's presentation of Lennox Robinson's "Far Off Hills" under the direction of Mr. E. Maldwyn Jones will take place at the Empire theatre on Saturday, April 25. Under the courteous management of Mr Joseph White, of the management of the theatre, and his excellent assistants, the public can be assured of a swift and deft performance.

WOMAN'S TROUBLE

WOMEN who suffer from pain in side or back, catarrhal drains, and women of middle age who suffer from heat flashes, should take that reliable vegetable tonic known for 70 years as Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. This is what Mrs. Wm. Roy of 18 Pelham St., St. Catharines, Ont., said: "In my opinion there is nothing better for weak, run-down women than Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. I suffered from headache and was dreadfully weak and rundown, all caused, I believe, by feminine weakness. I would become irritated and easily upset. Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription gave me splendid relief from my weakness and I felt much better in every way." Buy now! New size, tabs. 50c. Liquid $1.00 and $1.35.

Promise of Spring Breaths In Perfume of Flowers

Let the winds moan past your windows, and winter's sleet drive against the panes, indoors there's a promise of spring so long as flowers are blooming. Perfume of roses, fragrance of daffodils, the shy star-like blossoms of narcissi, can create the happiness of summer's sunshine, within your rooms. That is why Hollywood's charming actresses have learned the importance of having fresh flowers about them in their homes. Anita Louise, lovely blonde player, finds flowers a source of inspiration to her. In fact, she expresses her own delicate personality in her choice of blooms for decorating her home, as well as in the flowers she wears on all occasions. Here she is shown in a leisure moment. Her exquisite daintiness is reflected in the flowers that adorn the coffee table beside her—mellow, golden Talisman roses and pale yellow rumunculus are arranged artistically in a low, white pottery bowl.

BUDGETING IS DISCUSSED BY ALDERMAN EAST

Discussion of the civic budget was led by Alderman James East at a meeting of the Mother's Council for Protection of Youth held in the Scandinavian Hall on Tuesday afternoon, and attended by about 75 women.

Mr. East briefly outlined the civic debts which stand at thirty-two million dollars gross and twenty-five million dollars net, and the assets. For the coming year, $4,700,000 is necessary and so to balance the budget it will be necessary to borrow $250,000 from the sinking fund—that is, to suspend payment of that amount. Mr. East attributed some of the deficit to the fact that the mill rate has been lowered during past administrations. Mrs. J. Zender occupied the chair for the period of animated discussion which followed.

Community Leagues

WESTMOUNT

Under the convenership of Mr. A. W. Kinnear, the sports committee of the Westmount Community League are entertaining at a court whist party in the community hall on Wednesday evening, commencing at half past eight o'clock.

Initial plans have also been made for a banquet to be held on Wednesday, April 15, in honor of the young people from Westmount who won the shield in the recent Federation Carnival and of the team which gained the cup offered in the Community League soft ball tournament.

the social round . . . . .

NOW you go walking, stick in hand. At least that is what several of the mannequins at a recent smart fashion show did. Mannish costumes, strict tailleurs, that suggest long walks, were completed with smart walking canes. Everyone liked them, and the models carried them with perfect ease, swinging along as if they might walk away the hours of daylight, marking their steps casually with the lift and point of the stick. According to the weathervane of fashions in dress, and the new mode for hostesses to carry out a perfect harmony in house, gown and food, it is quite probable that these columns may one day include such a notice:

"At a prettily arranged party in the home of Mrs. So and So at the week-end, tables were graced with tall yellow tapers and bowls of daffodils, in complimentary harmony with the midnight blue of sandwiches and refreshments, which matched the hostess's smart tea gown."

GALLANTRY
By Helen Welshimer

Gallantry is such a shining word
That I shall pin it on my heart to wear—
Upon my heart—concealed from prying eyes,
And I alone, dear one, shall know it's there.
It will not let me stoop when I would bend
To something less than real nobility,
Nor will it let me pause in storm to wait
Until the winds shall blow less turbulently.

And if, forgetting wisdom you have brought,
I falter as I fear that I may do,
If hands, that you had not denied, again
Should reach for strength that once had been their due,
I'll bring them back to rest above my heart,
Oh, letters that are proud and never blurred.
I think that I can walk my road in peace,
For gallantry may be a steady word!

Committee Of Liberal Women Elects Board

OTTAWA, March 25.—More than one hundred wives and daughters of Liberal members of the House of Commons and Senate, comprising the advisory committee of the National Federation of Liberal Women of Canada met today in Ottawa. This committee convenes at least once each parliamentary session and the meeting today was probably the largest and most enthusiastic in the history of the organization.

The gathering was addressed by the Prime Minister, Mackenzie King, after the yearly election of the committee officers, which resulted as follows: Chairman, Mrs. Norman McLeod Rogers, Kingston, Ont.; vice-chairmen, Mrs. H. H. Horsey, Ottawa; Mrs. D. A. McNiven, Regina; Mrs. J. L. Ilsley, Kentville, N.S.; Mrs. Ernest Lapointe, Quebec, and Mrs. C. G. Power, Quebec; recording secretary, Mrs. R. J. Deachman, Wingham, Ont.; corresponding secretaries, Mrs. A. L. Beaubien, St. Jean Baptiste, Man., and Mrs. H. S. Hamilton, Sault Ste. Marie, Ont.; treasurer, Mrs. William Duff, Lunenburg, N. S.

Liberal study groups will be organized throughout Canada as a result of the action taken by the meeting.

Among those who brought in reports and spoke of the work of the Liberal women in the various provinces and constituencies were Mrs. W. R. Motherwell, Melville, Sask.; Mrs. J. G. Turgeon, Vancouver; and Mrs. C. R. McIntosh, of North Battleford.

Handicraft Tells Story Of Europe

EUROPE, as the romantic setting for a panorama of life on sunny mountain slopes, of gayly garbed peasants singing in the wake of creaking old oxen carts, has disappeared; the honored House of Hapsburg and the powerful Czars are but nebulous figures of the distant past, new human values are being established—a new scoial order evolved. Thus Miss Hanka Romanchych, former representative of the Alberta government among its 50,000 Ukrainian people, spoke of the land of her fathers to a meeting of the Edmonton Branch Canadian Handicraft Guild in the Macdonald hotel on Tuesday afternoon.

Miss Romanchych, who in a ten months' visit abroad caught an impressionistic view of the political and economic crisis at hand, expressed her opinion that now, as ever, its victims will faithfully carve its course into the intricate stitches of their arts—beautiful as devotion, lofty as ambition, enduring as religion—for unknown people to read and far times to study in the proper perspective. It was with a certain reverence, as though they were sacred manifestations of a peoples' soul, surrendered on the national altar of beauty, that her audience viewed Miss Romanchych's rare collection of examples of the crafts.

DESIGNS ARE TREASURED

Creation is entirely personal and individual it seems, for no more than would a McDonald wear a Stuart plaid than would any of the smaller states stoop to copy the characteristic designs of their neighbors.

Interesting, less perhaps because of its exquisite workmanship, than because it was someone's expression of springtime, was a beautiful rug of wool. At the border, perfect little conventional designs in grey and white depict the melting of snow and the first glimpse of black earth. The green of fresh pastures and even the red and white of grazing cattle had place in the pattern and at the centre was the delicate pink of earliest blossoms—the whole a lovely harmony of color.

Blouses, brilliantly embroidered on gauzy hand woven materials told the story of the peoples' change of mood with the seasons. Lenten garments were worked in much plainer pattern than those made for the occasion of a wedding, for Easter or Christmas and so on.

Perhaps the most wonderful of the exhibits was a collection of Easter eggs—72 of them painted in every possible combination and permutation of color and line—geometric, floral, and animal designs had all been used to achieve a fascinating variety.

Then, too, were inlaid and carved jewel boxes which would challenge the beauty of the gems they were designed to hold. Dainty handkerchiefs were embroidered by young girls under Miss Romanchych's instruction.

Native costumes of the men are every bit as beaded, furred and elaborate as those worn by the women.

Miss Romanchych herself wore a studded jacket at her lecture. It was made from "stamped wool," so-called because it is prepared by the peasants who actually tramp it into manageable flatness. Number of bobbing leather tassels at the throat, it seems, depict the rank of the wearer.

RESIGNATION IS DEFINITE LOSS

Mrs. Edward Underwood, president, voiced the appreciation of members of the Guild for the address, speaking in highest terms of Miss Romanchych's service in utilizing handicrafts practically. To her office in Vegreville came workmanship of 11 different nationalities, which in turn marketed in the larger cities of the United States. Illustrative of the rapid development of the project under her management are the simple figures of sales of Alberta goods each year. In 1929 $200 was received. In 1931, $390; in 1932, $980; in 1933, $1,700, and in 1935, $3,712.

Distribution of the latter sum among the 103 families involved was, $1,314 for medical work, $108 for school supplies, $84 for transportation, $460 for various improvements for homes and stock, $1,200 for clothing and $500 for food.

In view of this work, members of the Guild passed a resolution to be sent to the government, expressing their regret at the resignation of Miss Romanchych.

Realizing the value of having a permanent headquarters, the organization appointed a committee to investigate rents and suitabilities of several places.

Keep Skin Clean And Exercised For Beauty

By GLADYS GLAD

There is no doubt but that a beautiful skin is one of the chief assets of woman, but I never imagine any woman going to the extremes that women in the past ignornantly did in order to achieve such a skin. According to historians, for instance, Elizabeth Bethy, daughter of King Stephen Bethory of Poland, murdered 600 young girls between the ages of 16 and 20 and bathed in their rich blood, in order to achieve and retain a youthful and lovely skin.

In this day and age, of course, no woman can conceive of such a deed. However, woman today desires a lovely skin just as ardently as did the belles of Elizabeth Bethory's day, and if you wish a beautiful clear, flawless complexion, you must always give it perfect care and never neglect it.

The primary steps in preserving a good complexion are to keep the skin scrupulously clean, free from fatty residue, and to give it sufficient exercise to maintain its firmness and health. That may sound like a big order to you. But it really isn't, for a new facial treatment has recently been designed for just this purpose.

CLEANS, STIMULATES

This new facial treatment consists of a cleanser and a stimulator. The stimulator is a tiny, specially designed complexion brush of just the proper texture for use on the face and throat. And the cleanser is a tiny, ivory-tinted complexion bowl of soap. This soap is a neutral soap and contains concentrated milk from which all fat has been removed. Sufficient of this defatted milk is incorporated in the soap to purify, soothe and tone the skin and help to refine its texture.

To administer this facial you moisten the stimulator with tepid water and rub it over the surface of the cleanser to produce a lather. Then you gently massage the creamy suds over your face and neck for two or three minutes with light, circular movements of the stimulator, working always upward and outward. After this you gimply rinse your face with warm water and then cold, and pat it dry. And as a result, your skin appears clear, smooth, glowing, and fresh as an English garden.

Two Ways Of Making Tasty Hot Cross Buns

By MARY E. DAGUE

The cusiom of eating hot cross buns (I hope you follow it) originated before Mother Goose ever wrote about them. In very ancient days buns, if properly made, were supposed to keep for years.

Sister Mary

They probably took the place of a pagan sweetmeat served in honor of Eastre, a Saxon goddess of fertility whose festival was celebrated in the spring. The sign of the cross on the bun proclaimed it a Christian cake. Often the housewife put the sign of the cross on her bread and prevent the evil spirit from interfering with her baking. As Good Friday was considered the most unlucky day of the year, she naturally took every precaution to guard against misfortunes.

Many bakers feature this bread every Friday during the whole Lenten season while others save them especially for Good Friday and Easter mornings.

Because hot cross buns are made with yeast there are, of course, two good methods—the long process and the short one.

SHORT PROCESS

One cup milk, 1 yeast cake, ¼ cup lukewarm water, 1-3 cup granulated sugar, 2 cups flour, 1 teaspoon salt, 1 teaspoon cinnamon, ¼ cup butter, 1 egg, ½ cup currants.

Scald milk and cool to lukewarm temperature. Dissolve yeast cake in lukewarm water and add to milk. Add sugar, salt, cinnamon and egg well beaten. Add flour, currants, and softened butter and work until thoroughly blended. Knead to a smooth dough and let rise in a warm place until double in bulk. The temperature of this rising should be between 70 and 80 degree F. It should take about one hour. Pinch off small pieces and shape in tiny balls. With a sharp knife cut two deep gashes, making a cross, on the top of each. Place in a buttered pan about an inch apart and let rise in a warm place until double in bulk. Bake twenty-five minutes in a hot oven (375 degrees F). Brush over with a syrup made by boiling ¼ cup sugar with 2 tablespoons water for one minute.

LONG PROCESS

One and one-half cups milk, ½ cup granulated sugar, 4 tablespoons butter, 1 teaspoon salt, 1 yeast cake, 4 tablespoons lukewarm water, 1 teaspoon cinnamon, 1 egg, ½ cup currants, flour.

Scald milk and add butter, salt and sugar. When lukewarm, add yeast cake dissolved in water. Add 2½ cups flour mixed and sifted with cinnamon. Beat hard and add egg well beaten. Mix thoroughly and add currants and flour and knead, from ¼ to 1 cup more. Knead until elastic and put into a large mixing bowl. Cover with a cloth and let rise in a warm place (not as warm as for short process, however) over night. In the morning, shape as in preceding recipe. Let rise in a warm place for thirty minutes. Bake in a hot oven for twenty-five minutes. Brush over with syrup when taken from the oven.

POTATO OMELET

One cup leftover mashed potatoes, 4 eggs, 2 tablespoons milk, ½ teaspoon salt, 1-8 teaspoon pepper, 1 tablespoon butter.

Beat whites and yolks of eggs separately. Beat yolks until thick, add potato, mashed potato. Season with salt, pepper and parsley and fold in whites of eggs beaten until stiff. Turn into hot frying pan well coated with butter and cook over a low fire until well puffed and delicately brown on the bottom. Finish cooking in the oven. When firm to the touch, the omelet is done. Fold onto a hot platter and garnish with sprigs of parsley to serve.

Tomorrow's Menu

LUNCHEON: Clear tomato soup, toasted crackers, apple and peanut butter salad, filled French doughnuts, milk, tea.

Minute Make-Ups

By V. V.

Color for faces is following the Victorian styles, too. The newest tones in powder are the golden sunshine shades that spread over your face give the effect of blushing. Of course, if you can do this naturally—well, you won't need the powder. It's a very becoming shade for both blondes and brunettes.

A bird rose as the sun came up.
Sunrise was color in the sky.
Of silver sky. That yellow bird
Shook music from his throat till stirred
In a while bed a child who turned
And saw how daybreak spread and burned
Along the bright east. In a field
A clear pond was a golden shield
A knight threw down, and daisies sprang
Out of high grass in woods where sang
A thousand birds. A sleek-furred otter
Swam where a tree leaned above the water.
Light poured through leaves. The golden sun
Stood in the east, and day had begun.

MATRON OF SCHOOL HOME ADDRESSES W.M.S.

Miss Anderson, matron of the Dominion School Home in 109 street, briefly outlined the aims and work of the institution to a meeting of the Wesley Women's missionary Society there this week.

Progress made during the month by the baby band includes enrollment of another life member reported Mrs. J. Henderson. Attendance at the Mission Band has been 25, according to Mrs. A. Williams, secretary, and Mrs. W. H. Sterne reported 31 calls made.

Rev. J. T. Stephens of All People's Mission gave a most inspiring address on "The Challenge of the Arms of the Cross". During the afternoon Mrs. G. Kirkpatrick entertained with vocal solos. She was accompanied at the piano by Mrs. E. P. Wellwood.

Mrs. A. E. Cook presided for the program, following which a social half hour was enjoyed. Mrs. Gavin Barbour conducted the devotional service and Mrs. W. H. Sterne led in prayer.

The Debunker

By John Harvey Furbay, Ph.D.

In the past decades, it was supposed that a little strong liquor was good medicine for various purposes, but this idea has been exploded by studies at the Northwestern University School of Medicine and other institutions. It has been found that any amount of alcohol is definitely a hindrance to recovery, and various Medical Associations have passed resolutions against its use in treating most diseases—even snake bites. Alcohol reduces the resistance of the body, and makes recovery slower. Doctors found it merely paralyzes certain nerve centres, and makes the patient "feel" better, when he really isn't.

Meddling In Love Affairs Deplored

Dorothy Dix

DEAR DOROTHY DIX—We have a very good friend whose husband is going with a married woman. We have hesitated to tell her about it as we did not wish to hurt her or humiliate her by letting her know that it is common talk, but we feel that some one who loves her should tell her. This man has always been a philanderer, and we thought this would be just like his other affairs with women and not last. But it seems to be very serious as he and the woman are together at every possible chance and appear to be very much in love. We feel that something should be done before it ends in disaster for both families. What should we do? FRIENDS.

Answer: Keep silent and keep your hands out of the mess. No good yet has ever been accomplished by meddling in an illicit love affair. There is nothing you can say to a married man and a married woman who are indulging in a liaison that they do not already know. It is idle to talk to them about the wickedness of it, or the folly of it, or to point out to them the wrong they are doing to the wife and husband they are betraying and the helpless children whose name they are sliming with scandal.

Nor will they heed your warning that it is bound to end in disaster for themselves. They know the bitter truth of all your preachments. They know what has happened in dozens of other cases like theirs. They have seen the wrecks of broken-up homes, the forlorn little half-orphaned children, the women with bedraggled skirts going off to Reno for trumped-up divorces because their husbands would not disgrace and degrade their mother in their children's eyes by publicly branding her with her crime. The men looked upon by other men with contempt and often forced to marry the woman of whom they had already tired.

No, there is nothing you can say or do that will make that man and woman back to their senses and turn them to righteousness, and you waste your time and effort in attempting the impossible.

And do not be cruel enough to tell the wife about her husband's unfaithfulness. There is nothing she can do to win him back and stop him from roaming. And if she knows nothing of the affair leave her her pride and happiness as long as you can. She will have long enough to endure her heartbreak.

And if, as I strongly suspect, she already knows and her pretense of ignorance is just a bluff to save her face, pay her courage and her gallantry the tribute of respecting it. There are occasions when more or more to be admired than those wives who suffer the humiliation they endure silently, who bind their bands in secret, and who keep up the fiction of being happy and contented when they prefer to keep their homes together and to keep their children from knowing of the kind of man their father is.

DOROTHY DIX.

DEAR MISS DIX—I am a boy of 17. Last week my mother passed away and ever since then I have changed. I don't care for things that I used to, and I have lost interest in my school work. I have tried to amuse myself, but everything falls flat. I had planned so many things for my mother and father and now it is all gone. What can I do to get rid of all of this gloominess and restore the ambitions I had? A. A. S.

Answer: The death of one we love leaves us all like that with the light gone out of the world and life flat and tasteless. Mercifully, time numbs our pain and our interest in our old pursuits revive, but life is never again the same. There is a terrible void to fill.

DOROTHY DIX.

HOME COOKING SALE WILL BE DRAMATIZED

Meeting in the home of Mrs. G. W. Johnson on Monday, members of the First Presbyterian South Side Ladies' Aid completed final arrangements for a St. Patrick's Tea to be held in the social room on the afternoon of Friday, March 20. Mrs. Norman Cuthbertson is convener. Mrs. R. H. Wilson presided for the business session and Mrs. J. Carpil contributed the devotional service. Casting of the play, "The Home Cooking Sale," which will be presented in the hall, will take place at an early date, it is announced. Mrs. Stuart McCorkindale and Mrs. Wilson form the April meeting. Later tea was enjoyed.

A BEDTIME STORY

Story by HAL. COCHRANE Pictures by GEORGE SCARBO

"Well, tots, Miss Rose has gone away. Now, what are we to do today?" said Dotty. "We have been so busy, I am all tired out."

"What say we rest a little while?" "Okay," yelled Duncy, with a smile. "Let's flop down 'neath some tree. It will be comf'table, no doubt."

Then Scouty said, "I think that I will look around a bit and try to find some sort of berries. I'm as hungry as can be."

The rest of you can wait right here. I'll hurry right back, never fear." "If you have any luck," said Goldy, "bring some back to me."

Off Scouty ran. The others found a tree and flopped down on the ground. Just as they started dozing off, see Windy shouted, "Hey!

"Some water just fell in my face. We sure picked out a funny place. If I am sprinkled any more, I am not going to stay."

"Why, where'd the water coming from?" said Dotty. "I, too, just felt some." And then their friend the cattail came along and laughed in glee.

Said he, "You'd best move out of here, or you'll get oaking wet. I fear. You see, a shoulf of water flopped beneath a weeping willow tree."

(READ THE STORY THEN COLOR THE PICTURE)

Then Scouty came back with some berries. Each tot had a share.

Soon Duncy cried, "A bird I see. He's sitting high up in this tree. He has some flowers in his beak. I'm going to climb up there."

The Tinies watched him reach the bird, and very shortly they all heard the feathered little fellow say, "Here, take my fine bouquet.

"The flowers are orange blossoms and, if you will hold them in your hand, I promise you that you will get a big surprise today."

What To Do

I read your column every evening and find it very helpful, so I am writing to ask if you can offer any suggestions to help me with my problem. My little boy is 4 years old and almost drives me to distraction with his constant questions. All day long I hear, "Mother, why is this and why is that?" Just how can I break him of this habit?

ANNOYED MOTHER.

Answer—I know that it must, but the worst thing you can do for your son is to try to break him of asking why. Many of things I am assuming, of course, that these questions are really asked for information and not just to gain a moment's attention. So far as you know the answers, give them. Where you don't, say so, but try to take time for both of you to find the information. That way you will be establishing a bond that will last a lifetime. The other way you will succeed in killing his curiosity or driving him away from you, or both. There are a number of good books for children in every line of the field of knowledge as it opens up to a child's mind. Why not get one of them and begin to look things up with him?

FATE WAS KIND

The other evening fate was very kind to Messrs. Farrens Harris, Hendrym, in handing East and West their cards. They alone were vulnerable.

Bidding went: West, 2-Clubs; North, 2-Spades; East, 3-Clubs; South, 3-Spades; West, 4-Clubs; North, doubled. Harris, sitting West, had not recently counted upon her partner's voluntary support of a shoestring piece of the Ace of clubs. She calculated that there were better chances even odds for East to hold either or both red Kings, and in case East held neither the odds were 3 to 1 against both of them being held by South. What Harris admitted afterwards she had not taken into consideration was the difficulties of entering dummy often enough to take the necessary finesses in both hearts and diamonds. The opening lead was the Ace of spades. Declarer took care to ruff with the 3 also to lead the K of clubs for her second trick and to overtake her ♠ Q of clubs with dummy's Ace for the third trick. She had to preserve the 8 in her hand for future entry to dummy.

The 7 of diamonds was led. Declarer's 10 held the trick, but that did not mean certainly that North might not hold the missing K, to spring it next time and ruin things. The 3 of clubs was led and overtaken with dummy's 5. Another diamond was led and the 9 of J held. Declarer then led the Ace of diamonds taking care to discard a heart diamond.

Of course West now could have led off the Ace of hearts, then given the defenders a heart trick that the K, regardless of which defender held that missing honor, but there was a very slight chance that West might be a grand slam in the hand, provided dummy led the heart. The 4 of diamonds was ruffed with dummy's last trump and a heart was led through South. West lost the finesse of her ♥ J, but she had the satisfaction of seeing that South held the K-X, instead of the X-X. That a grand slam would have been made . . .

North led back a spade. That was the tenth trick and the basis of tricks belonged to declarer's two trumps and Ace of hearts, giving her a small slam doubled when vulnerable, netting for that last hand 1,790 points.

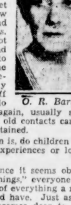

It would have been foolhardy for West to have redoubled, but she could North about what a score would have been made. North, in turn, should have stated that a redouble would have taken the hand to the end of Spades, at a cost of only 500 points.

Your Children -

By OLIVE ROBERTS BARTON

Is it good for a child to move about? I mean when the family has to change residence often?

One family I know, on account of the nature of the father's work, moves frequently from one city to another. Each time it means a readjustment for the children, new friends to make, new scenes to get used to, new schools and kindergartens. They take root one place and settle down to call it home and then before they know it, off they go to do it all over again, usually a far away that no old contacts can possibly be maintained.

O. R. Barton

The question is, do children benefit by such experiences or lose by them?

At first glance it seems obvious. "Poor little things," everyone says. "Cheated out of everything a normal child should have. Just as soon as a place becomes dear to them, they have to give it up. Surely they must feel very insecure and lack security is the worst possible thing for anyone."

SILVER LINING HERE, TOO

The school angle comes in for its share of sympathy too. Most people agree that children lose out by change, not only in place but in ability to learn; because the strange child cannot concentrate at first with so many other matters to take his attention.

While I agree with all these arguments, still I think I can see some advantage in this moving about. It is a rather broad experience for any child to make a new way for himself repeatedly. Besides, the true cosmopolitan is one who never jells to one pattern or to any community. He becomes manysided and learns a certain tolerance for things that are different.

Sonnysayings

By Fanny Y. Cory

Here I busted myself runnin' to get point of view gets into a rut sometimes, living and dying in the good old way in the old home town. While such are the backbone of the nation, the steady, the settled and content, there is always the danger that, transplanted when circumstances force a change, they are completely lost and unhappy. Old things can become too dear for your own good, in other words. And in this day and age of movement, which is bound to increase with the years, we who love certain environment, people and scenes too dearly will in the long run be the most miserable. Those who can bear lugs at the heart strings will be the most content.

As for the children, I believe they won't feel too great a sense of insecurity as long as their parents are near. I am sure such little folk are far better off than those whose parents have decided to part.

The most question is still unanswered. Will such children become restless and wanderers? I don't think so. It is the child bound all his life by one interest who begins to wonder what is over the hill.

COLD WAVE GRIPS WEST

KANSAS CITY, March 25. — A tardy cold wave gripped the west and southwest last night as silt clouds from yesterday's dust storm rolled eastward to the Great Lakes.

Visibility at Grand Rapids, Mich., was reduced to a mile and a half yesterday afternoon by dust clouds carried from the southwest on high winds. The silt left a gritty film in Chicago, St. Louis and central Missouri, extending south to east Texas.

Crisp, clear weather followed a beneficial snow storm in much of the "dust bowl" where the worst silt storm of the season, blew Tuesday.

INTIMATE GLIMPSES AND INSIDE STUFF ON THE MOVIE COLONY

By PAUL HARRISON

SHORT takes: Mary Pickford's going to Europe and may do a United Artists picture at Alexander Korda's establishment. Surest way to tell when Miss Pickford is hankering for a job of acting is when she goes about saying: "I'll never do another picture as long as I live."

Nomadic Marlene Dietrich has moved six times in five years, and after this picture she'll move to Paris. Sorriest to see her go will be the studio crews and hairdressers, who think she's swell. Not long ago she heard that a man in the property department was about to lose his home for taxes. Miss Dietrich, who has been moaning about the size of her own taxes, paid hir.

Bittytest bawling-out that Leslie Howard ever received in his life, probably, was delivered by a busy studio electrician whose bicycle Howard had borrowed for a joy-spin. The actor, whom directors dread to reprimand, took it and made a gracious little apology.

TO CO-OPERATE IN RELIEVING UNEMPLOYMENT

OTTAWA, March 25—The government's relief program was disclosed in part to the House of Commons Tuesday when Labor Minister Rogers introduced a bill giving the administration power to co-operate with provinces, organizations and individuals to relieve distress conditions.

The government's program includes:

1—Specific sums of money will be voted in supplementary estimates to cover relief costs, ending "blank cheque" legislation.

2—An employment commission will be established to co-ordinate all relief efforts and promote efficiency and economy.

3—Land settlement schemes will be extended to take more men from the cities and back to the farms.

4—The government will have power to negotiate direct relief agreements with the provinces continuing or extending the monthly payments now in force.

5—The government will have power to initiate programs of public works to provide jobs.

6—Agreements could be signed with companies, partnerships or individuals relating to the expansion of industrial employment.

7—The government will have power to loan money to provinces.

8—Arrangements with private companies must be sanctioned by parliament.

9—The Relief Act will expire March 31, 1937.

The Labor minister said the number of Canadians receiving direct relief, working on public works, resident in camps or who came under the farm replacement scheme was 1,310,423 at the end of February. The corresponding number last year was 1,451,093.

The number on direct relief at the end of February was 1,060,831 and in 1934, 1,136,840.

Provisions for the Dominion to enter into agreements with the provinces and also with corporations, partnerships or individuals engaged in industry respecting the expansion of industrial employment were contained in the relief bill.

The government under the bill may initiate works and undertakings it finds to be in the general interest of Canada and in that connection may execute agreements and contracts deemed necessary or expedient. Money for these undertakings will be appropriated by parliament. In this there is a variation from "blank cheque" provisions of former relief acts.

"Persons on relief, as far as it is reasonably efficient and economical to do so, will be employed on these works. "Where any such work or undertaking is under provincial jurisdiction," the bill provides, "all contracts entered into with respect thereto shall be approved by the minister (of labor) and the work thereunder supervised by a dominion engineer." The minister is given authority to enforce these provisions.

In the case of agreements with the provinces and with corporations or individuals, money provided by the Dominion shall also be out of those funds "appropriated for relief purposes by parliament for the fiscal year 1936-37."

ADVANCES AND LOANS

Advances and loans to provinces for relief work are provided for and agreements entered into between the Dominion and the provinces shall not be binding until approved by resolution of the House of Commons. The Dominion may renew or consolidate loans and advances made under Relief Acts from 1932 to 1935.

The bill gives the force of law to all orders and regulations made by the Governor-in-Council in carrying out provisions of the bill. The Orders-in-Council shall be laid before the House of Commons when sitting, or published in the Canada Gazette when parliament is prorogued.

VANCOUVER GIRL SWEEP WINNER

VANCOUVER, March 25—Miss Mary Naughton, 23-year-old Vancouver girl who drew the French thoroughbred "Oeil de Boeuf" in the Irish Sweepstakes Parade day decided last night to play Lady Luck still farther and keep the ticket, despite an offer by a New York syndicate to purchase a half share.

Shortly after hearing of her good fortune, by which she stands to win at least $3,370 and with a chance of $150,000, Miss Naughton received word from New York offering her $2,500 for a half share in her ticket.

On the advice of her mother, Miss Naughton decided not to accept the offer.

Steamer Seized In Damage Claim

GEORGETOWN, British Guiana, March 25.—The Danish freighter Maria Toft was seized Tuesday in a $7,209 claim for damages by owners of a motor launch and two barges which sank 30 miles up the Demerara river Friday night following a collision with the Danish ship. The seizure was made here by a marshal of the supreme court.

BILL PROVIDING MINIMUM WAGES FOR MEN IS CRITICIZED

Edmonton Bulletin

AN INDEPENDENT NEWSPAPER IN PUBLIC SERVICE

HER BUILDINGS LIFTED, COURT RETURNS THEM

A gang of 50 men removed five frame buildings bodily from Lizzie Fife's property in the still of night but the appellate division, supreme court of Alberta, gave them back to her with a few strokes of the pen Wednesday morning.

She sold a quarter section of land to Thomas Hrapko in 1928. During the next four or five years the Hrapkos made their payments but then they fell upon evil days and a Writ of Possession was issued by Lizzie Fife.

While they were on the land the Hrapkos had built a house, garage, barn, granary and chicken house. They had no desire to let these things fall into the hands of their landlady, so, just before the writ was to be served, 50 men "surreptitiously" removed the buildings and carried them away to a nearby piece of land where the Hrapkos took up home.

McGILLIVRAY DISSENTS

The landlady started an action in supreme court, claiming the buildings because they were "improvements," and as such belonged to her. Mrs. Hrapko testified that the buildings were hers; and stated that she had sold them to her father, George Lutzak, for "the expressed consideration of $800."

Mr. Justice Ives dismissed Lizzie Fife's claim, so she took it to the appeal court. The majority judgment, written by Mr. Justice Clarke, awarded her the buildings or $500 and costs. Mr. Justice McGillivray dissented.

J. C. THOMPSON IS HONORED BY ACCOUNTANTS

James C. Thompson, F.C.A., former provincial auditor, who has accepted an important position in Montreal, was the guest of honor at a banquet given by the Edmonton Chartered Accountants Club, Tuesday night in the Edmonton Club. All Edmonton members of the Alberta Chartered Accountants Association were present.

Mr. Thompson was the recipient of a high honor when he was presented with an F.C.A. (fellow of the Chartered Accountants) certificate by John H. Williams, F.A.C., Calgary, secretary of the Institute of the Chartered Accountants of Alberta. Mr. Williams stated he had been instructed by the Institute at a recent council meeting that Mr. Thompson had been elected as a fellow of the association, an honor which is awarded to members who have given outstanding public service in their work. There are not more than six to be in Alberta who have been awarded this honor.

Mr. Thompson has spent seven years on the council of the Institute and is a past president. He has acted for 10 years as vice-president of the Board of Examiners which sets all examinations for accountants in Alberta, including the examination for the degree of C.A. R. C. Wallace, president of the University of Alberta, is president of the board.

A travelling bag to match the one given to Mr. Thompson by government employees recently was presented to him by the Edmonton Chartered Accountants Club.

Shandros Settle Affairs In Court

In a written judgment, handed down by Judge Bury Wednesday morning, the threshing difficulties of the Shandro clan were settled.

Alex. Shandro helped his nephew, Nick Shandro, to do the threshing last year and the bill was finally agreed on at $257. Nick didn't want to sell his grain immediately so gave his uncle a mortgage on some hogs. Subsequently the uncle wanted some money and seized the grain and took it to the elevator.

Nick then sold his hogs, paid $257 into court, and started an action for the return of his grain. Judge Bury ordered it returned to him holding that the threshing lien was dispensed with when the mortgage on the hogs was signed. A. F. Duncan represented the plaintiff and V. R. Baldwin, K.C., appeared for the defendant.

Bill Sponsored by Hon. E. C. Manning Discussed in Committee of Whole Assembly Tuesday.

Minimum wages for men under a system similar to that prevailing for women is provided in a bill now before the legislature and being sponsored by Hon. Ernest C. Manning, provincial secretary. Discussed in the committee of the whole assembly on Tuesday, the measure was progressed, although subjected to criticism at the hands of some Social Credit members.

The bill provides that domestic servants are specifically exempt from provisions of the Act, although there is no specific provision for those industries which do come under the act.

DIFFICULT TO INVESTIGATE

Dealing with exemptions of laborers and domestics, the minister said that it would be practically impossible to enforce any minimum wage in these callings on account of factors of board being provided and because it is difficult to go into private homes and investigate wages and conditions.

Provision for establishment of a male minimum wage board was questioned by L. A. Giroux, Liberal, Grouard, who asked why administration of the act could not be placed with some present board or department of the government, by which the minister replied that the board would not involve expenditure of money, as plans necessitated administration by the labor bureau after that branch had transferred some of its present work to the Workmen's Compensation Board.

MOTION STOOD OVER

Mr. Giroux moved that the cabinet be specified as an appeal court from rulings of the wage board and this was stood over until another motion also by Mr. Giroux was that the government have power to rescind the whole act "as and when the government of Alberta begins to pay Social Credit dividends," was rejected.

Hon. Mr. Manning declared that minimum wages that would be paid men in any class of industry would be set by a government board and it could be taken for granted that in doing so, the board would take into full consideration all surrounding circumstances.

Herbert Ingrey, S.C., Drumheller, and A. E. MacLellan, S.C., Innisfail, asked regarding union scales regarding various classes of work and the minister replied that the act would govern only minimum wages and would have no effect on union scales.

BILL NOT ANY GOOD

Mr. Ingrey contended that when a minimum wage was set, that was what workmen would receive. He said that the bill would not be any good until Social Credit was established and the people were able to take a chance on losing their jobs, knowing that they still will be able to get dividends.

J. H. Unwin, S.C., Edson, contended that the bill could not be enforced because employees would be afraid to report abuses and business firms would find ways of overcoming the provisions.

IMPROVEMENTS STADIUM SITE PLANNED, 1936

Further improvements, including grass seeding and planting of shrubs, will be made to the Edmonton Stadium on the old penitentiary site this year, City Engineer A. W. Haddow declared Wednesday.

As soon as weather conditions permit, the Stadium's infield will be dressed up with good soil preparatory for seeding. Shrubbery will also be planted along the fencing.

The engineer did not think it likely the main portion of the Stadium would be used this year, as there should be a good growth of turf before games are played on the playing field, but the Stadium not grassed may be used this season, however.

Cloverdale Team Wins Final Game

The Cloverdale community league senior hockey team defeated the Calder team Tuesday night in the final game of community league play-offs by a score of 5-2 to capture the Stadium cup for the second year in succession.

The game was played at the Varsity rink on a clean sheet of ice and the Cloverdale team literally walked over the Calder boys to win the fixture. In the first game of the finals played recently the score was 1-1.

CITIES SEEK ALTERATION IN RESIDENCE

Contentious Clause May be Amended by Government

Clearer and more satisfactory definition of the word "resident" as applied to the whole relief question, was requested by a deputation representing Edmonton, Calgary and Lethbridge, which interviewed Hon. Dr. W. W. Cross, minister of health and in charge of relief, on Wednesday. Following the conference, members of the deputation expressed confidence that in the new relief legislation before the house, a clearer definition would be provided.

Delegates representing the cities took strong objection to the section of the bill now before the house which provides that a resident is a person who has had his home or who has resided within the same municipality boundaries for at least 12 out of the last 18 months immediately prior to the date of the receiving relief and who, during the 12 months immediately prior to relief being granted and issued, has not received assistance from municipal or provincial funds.

Cities claim that with the relief burdens already unbearable, the proposal in the act would result in costs being greatly increased and a modification of the provision was urged.

Consideration will be given to a re-drafting of the clause, which may take place before Thursday.

It was submitted by the delegates that residence for a 12 month period ought to be established on a consecutive month basis and not 12 months isolated, or by a month or two at a time.

GOLKOS FACING FIVE CHARGES

William and Fred Golko (the Golko boys from Downing) faced a busy day with criminal court Wednesday when E. B. Cogswell, K.C., crown prosecutor, confronted them with five charges. At noon Mr. Justice Ewing had dismissed one theft charge against the young men, but there were four more charges to be judged.

Holding that "at best, the evidence only indicated the suspicion of guilt," the judge dismissed a charge of stealing eight bags of wheat from Tom Lavitsky, farmer in the Vilna district. The Golkos are also accused of stealing grain from William Babich and William Hanzuik.

Wednesday afternoon the crown proceeded to accuse William Golko of robbing Mrs. Annie Thompson of $45.85 in currency and two promissory notes amounting to $160. William faces another count of obtaining $45 from Mike Hunchak on false pretence.

Police Court

Christian Erickson, who came to Edmonton from a B.C. emergency work camp, secured provincial relief Tuesday and was arrested for begging on 97 street the same day. was sentenced to two months' hard labor at Fort Saskatchewan.

When the accused declared he had a farm job to go to at Hay Lakes, Magistrate James Ritchie answered him that it was early to go on a farm and that he would have his freedom in time for the spring work, as good behavior would give him a remission of part of the sentence.

John Zapotoshny pleaded guilty to theft of a scale from Roy Stoyko and was remanded to April 1 for sentence in order that the police might be assisted to locate missing parts of the scale.

THE INQUIRING REPORTER

At the present time the city owns about 56 per cent of the property in Edmonton, and with a view to generating sales of tax-owned land Ald. J. T. McCreath has proposed that an auction sale of lots be held during the week.

Ald. McCreath suggests that there be no upset price, stipulations covering such sales—first, that the current year's taxes on the land must be paid together with the purchase price; and second, that failure to pay taxes in any subsequent year will mean forfeiture of the property to the city.

"What do you think of this scheme?" was the question put to a few citizens today. Their answers follow:

ALD. McCREATH: "An auction sale would cost the city very little, as all advertising could be carried on the pamphlets issued by the Exhibition Association for publicity purposes. The city now owns about 56 per cent of the property here, and while this is looked upon as asset it is really a liability. Even if we could dispose of 25 per cent of it under my plan I believe the mill rate could be cut to 43 without capitalizing expenditures."

F. B. BARAGAR, businessman: "It is very doubtful whether such a plan would meet with any degree of success. I don't think the city would sell very much because of the high rate of taxation now imposed on real property. Another angle in the proposal is the danger that it might upset the basis of assessment."

GEORGE BERNSTEIN, hotel employee: "Any move which will put land into the hands of persons able to meet the taxes should get support, for it is the home-owners who represent the real wealth and the back-bone of the city. Everytime property goes into the hands of the city owing to the inability of the owner to pay the taxes automatically go up because this land has to be carried by people who still pay on their homes. The more property that is sold the lower the mill rate."

J. W. PIGEON, tobacconist: "It's a fine idea as long as the city acts as a system of reserve bids. I am not in favor of city property being practically given away through an auction, and I believe that a minimum purchase price should be set. If this is done I think the scheme will be very successful."

* * *

H. S. MILLER, realtor: "Very few people buy lots unless they plan on building on them, and I would-be home-owners can't finance a home they are unlikely to buy lots, even if they could get them at very reasonable prices through an auction. The idea is excellent if you put purchasing power into the hands of prospective home-builders. Loans under the Dominion Housing Act would help considerably in this connection."

The fire department responded to 10 alarms during the week of March 14 to 20.

The contract for the delivery of beer following the break-up of Distributors, Limited, has been let to George Hutchinson, who runs a transfer business, it was learned.

The annual election of the Edmonton branch of the Engineering Institute of Canada will be held Wednesday night at the University of Alberta.

ALLOWANCES FOR SCHOOLS ARE REVISED

Amending Bill to Grants Act Introduced by Premier

Introduced by Premier William Aberhart, a bill is now before the legislature to provide for revision in the basis of allowances to public and high schools. This bill is in the form of an amendment to the School Grants Act.

CAN'T RAISE IT

"These figures called for an expenditure of at least $3,000 more than the committee sees any hope of raising, and under all the circumstances felt it had no alternative but to accept the opportunity to erect a structure, the cost of which comes within its means, and will be supplied by a firm which does own the quarries from which the granite will be obtained.

BY EDMONTON LABOR

"The foundation work was done by an Edmonton contractor with Edmonton workmen, and the actual erection of the cenotaph will also be done by an Edmonton contractor with Edmonton workmen, if possible returned men.

FORECAST IS MUCH VARIED

Weather in northern Alberta reached the coldest ebb of two weeks Wednesday morning, but the forecast quite promise that spring is still flirting around the corner.

Forecast today read: "Fair with rising temperatures Thursday, partly cloudy and somewhat milder with probable light rain."

The mercury's highest point, 24 above, reached at 2:00 p.m. Tuesday, quickly slipped down glass and by 6:00 a.m. Wednesday two degrees lay between it and zero. At noon the thermometer read nine above.

For the first time in weeks, Fort Vermilion moved out of the news-weather-spotlight as the coldest point in Alberta. At the Fort it was a pleasant ten above zero.

Fort McMurray had zero. House River and Grouard had one above and Peace River 20 above was the warmest point in the near north.

COMMITTEE HAS REPLY TO SHAFT CRITIC

Estimates For Cenotaph Building Prove $3,000 Too High

Estimates on the construction cost of the cenotaph, received from "local sources," were $3,000 higher than the amount which the cenotaph committee hopes to collect, says Chairman A. E. Nightingale, replying to attacks made on the committee by R. T. Dyke, head of the Edmonton Marble and Tile Company, and W. G. Blakey, local architect.

"Much could be said in connection with the article appearing in Tuesday's Journal, but I will only repeat, figures and estimates were received from sources already stated." Mr. Nightingale said, speaking for the committee. "These figures were confirmed to be reliable, and the cenotaph committee accepted them as such in perfectly good faith.

CAN'T RAISE IT

"These figures called for an expenditure of at least $3,000 more than the committee sees any hope of raising, and under all the circumstances felt it had no alternative but to accept the opportunity to erect a structure, the cost of which comes within its means, and will be supplied by a firm which does own the quarries from which the granite will be obtained.

BY EDMONTON LABOR

"The foundation work was done by an Edmonton contractor with Edmonton workmen, and the actual erection of the cenotaph will also be done by an Edmonton contractor with Edmonton workmen, if possible returned men.

"Edmonton people are assured that the cenotaph committee has acted only in the best interests, as it sees it. Our business acumen will perhaps be better judged when the results of our work is seen."

Testimony Shows Profits Are High On Beer Sales

It was revealed by Robert Bruce Hiltz that the net profit on beer sold by the glass was 100 per cent and 90 per cent on bottled beer, when he testified before Mr. Justice Tweedie in a civil action brought by him against Henry Blaquiere for misrepresentation.

Henry Blaquiere sold a hotel at Beauvallon to Mr. Hiltz for $9,500 which the plaintiff claimed was misrepresentation. Total liquor business had been overstated by the vendor, plaintiff stated.

Mr. Justice Tweedie ruled in favor of the plaintiff and set over assessing of the compensation for one week.

TRADE BOARDS MEET MANNING

Boards of trade from twenty towns and cities in Alberta are expected to confer with the Hon. E. C. Manning, provincial secretary, on code legislation, Wednesday night.

Mr. Manning has announced that no newspapermen will be allowed to attend the meeting.

The Provost Board of Trade has definitely stated its opposition to any code legislation in the nature proposed by the government because of the adverse effect it will have on the business of Provost merchants.

Provost is 11 miles from the Saskatchewan border where a town of the same size exists, and the merchants fear that business will be diverted to Saskatchewan if codes and higher prices are brought into effect.

The telegram sent Tuesday by the Provost Board of Trade to the provincial secretary, is as follows:

"We the members of the Provost Board of Trade go on record as being unanimously opposed to the trade and industries act as proposed by the Alberta legislature.

"We are situated 11 miles from the Saskatchewan border, where there is a trading centre of equal size to Provost. There is a feeling that the introduction of this act will increase the cost of merchandise to the consumer and cause a diversion of trade to this Saskatchewan town, thus working an additional handship to the already harassed Provost merchants."

Under proper storage conditions flour should keep entirely satisfactorily for three months.

PREMIER FIRM NOT TO REVEAL DOUGLAS DATA

Renewed Demands for Production of Correspondence Made Tuesday

Renewed demands for the production of the correspondence between the provincial government and Major Clifford H. Douglas, now closing his term as principle reconstruction adviser to the government, were made in the legislature on Tuesday by George H. Van Allen, K.C., Liberal Edmonton, but as on previous occasions, Premier William Aberhart stood firm and resolutely refused to table the documents.

CEASE NEGOTIATIONS

Rising on Orders of the Day, Mr Van Allen declared that it had been drawn to his attention that the government intended to cease negotiations with Major Douglas regarding his coming here to study implementing a plan of Social Credit.

"I presume that with the withdrawal of Major Douglas as principal reconstruction adviser that the Premier will have no objection to tabling the correspondence and I now ask him if he will table it."

"As I said on a previous occasion, Major Douglas himself requested that the full correspondence be published and I think the time has now come for the publication of the documents."

Premier William Aberhart, in reply, declared that "This matter was brought up on Tuesday. The house already has refused to table this correspondence and I don't think it should be brought up day after day."

ASKED FOR RULING

He asked for a ruling on this but no answer was forthcoming from Mr. Speaker.

Mr. Van Allen then said that "I take it from this that you still refuse, not that I want it myself particularly, but there seems to be a great deal of public interest in it."

TO GET NO $25 DIVIDENDS

Premier William Aberhart, in a new role this week as unofficial "correspondent" of a British news magazine, ruled out His Majesty King Edward, as a citizen of Alberta.

Talk arose in London, England, last week, according to the news magazine that King Edward being a property holder in this province would be in line with other Alberta citizens to collect when the Social Credit administration finally "comes across" with the promised $25 monthly dividends.

The Premier's cabled reply read: Collect Press Rate; News Review, Cosmo Press, London.

Bonus will be paid permanent resident citizens—Aberhart.

So, says the magazine, "His Majesty not possessing the necessary residential qualifications, will go without." (Without dividends.)

FORT WILLIAM TO ENTER FINAL WEST PLAY-OFF

Wanderers Whip Flin Flon Bombers in Series But Lose Second Game

FORT WILLIAM, March 25—Fort William Wanderers, champions of the Manitoba-Thunder Bay league, earned a place in the Western Canadian senior hockey finals last night.

Although losing Tuesday night's game 3-2 to Flin Flon Bombers, Manitoba champions, Wanderers took the two-game total-goal series 7-3 as result of their 5-0 win in the first game.

PLAY AT CALGARY

Wanderers will leave immediately for Calgary where they will tackle Kimberley Dynamiters, British Columbia champions, in the western final and the right to represent the west in the Allan cup series. The best-of-three game series is slated to start Thursday night.

The Manitoba champions went after goals from the start of last night's game. Nick Brodack scored in the first period to give Bombers a lead. Buddy Hammond made it 2-0 in the second but before the period ended Murray Teeple and Gordon Houston scored for Wanderers to tie the score. Hammond got the winning goal at the 13-minute mark in the final period.

THE LINEUPS

Fort William—Hacquoil; McCranor, Knowles; G. Macquoil, Houston, O'Leary. Subs—Keane, Teeple, Manahan, McArthur.

Officials—Irvin, Winnipeg; Whyte, Fort William.

SUMMARY

First period—1, Flin Flon, Brodack 7:15. Penalty—Horn.

Second period—2, Flin Flon, Hammond, 7:42; 3, Fort William, Teeple 8:44; 4, Fort William, Houston 11:22. Penalty—McCranor.

Third period—5, Flin Flon, Hammond 13:10. Penalties—Hammond, Brodack.

CLEVELAND WINS EASILY BY 7-2

CLEVELAND, March 25.—Two members of the Cleveland Falcons, Alex (Bud) Cook, centre, and Frank Daley, left wing, tied for individual scoring leadership of the International Hockey League here last night as Cleveland swamped Buffalo, 7-2, in the final game of the regular schedule.

Earl Roche with three, Bud Cook with two, Vic. Ripley and Schultz were Falcon marksmen. Bill Touhey and Sam Godin tallied for Buffalo.

LINEUPS:

Buffalo: Wood; Teasdale, Berlett; Roth, Godin, Barton.

Cleveland: Roberts; Holway, Robertson; Cook, Daley, E. Roche.

Officials: Tompkins and Debernardi.

SUMMARY:

First Period: 1, Cleveland, Cook (E. Roche), 4:39; 2, Buffalo, Touhey (Newman), 11:30; 3, Cleveland, Schultz (Doraty, Gross), 17:34; 4, Cleveland, E. Roche (Cook, Daley), 18:35. Penalties: Cunningham, Berlett.

Third Period: 6, Cleveland, E. Roche (Daley), 2:30; 7, Cleveland, E. Roche (Cook, Daley), 10:21; 8, Buffalo, Godin (Touhey, Newman), 19:43. Penalties: Doraty, Robertson, Patterson, Ripley.

C.N.R. And Bay In Inter-League Battle Thursday

The Hudson's Bay and the C.N.R., winners of the Independent League and Sea Four League, will tangle in an inter-league championship game tomorrow night (Thursday), at Varsity rink, the game commencing at 9:00 p.m.

Both teams will be at full strength in an endeavor to uphold the supremacy of their respective leagues and with the weather man helping ice conditions a fast and better struggle is assured followers of Canada's national pastime.

Pats and Pans

By BILL LEWIS

FOR as long as you and I will live to talk about hockey games, it is a safe bet that most of us will remember last night's battle between Montreal Maroons and Detroit Red Wings that opened the playoff for the National League championship and set a world record for long-distance playing.

For no less than 176:30 minutes did these section champions of the N.H.L. battle for honors in their series opener, with a practically-unknown rookie finally deciding the issue in favor of Red Wings.

In the spring of 1933, most fans thought that a marathon hockey record had been set that would last for all time when Montreal Maple Leafs and Boston Bruins struggled away for 164:46 minutes before the former team won out. . . . It seemed that was about as long as any two teams could play without one or the other taking the verdict.

Records Are Made To Shatter

However, there is always something new happening, despite the old saying that "there's nothing new under the sun". . . . Last night's lengthy fight beat the old mark by almost 14 minutes, which is quite a spell in anybody's game. . . . All of this only goes to prove that records are only made to be broken and Maroons and the Red Wings certainly did a good job of busting the Leaf-Bruin mark wide open.

Most remarkable part of the whole business, I thought, was the record established by Lorne Chabot, losing goaltender, in last night's game. . . . Chabot, as it happened, was the number for Toronto in that memorable contest won from Boston by a shutout. . . . When you add up the total time played in the two marathon games and find only one goal scored against a goalie in more than five and one-half hours of hockey, you have a mark that will take a lot of beating.

Nobody need feel badly about losing one like that.

Amerks Surprise With Triumph

One of the night's big surprises was registered by New York Americans when they whipped Chicago Blackhawks by 3-0 in their playoff encounter. . . . The Hawks had been rated as one of the clubs to beat throughout the season and the fact that Dutton's lowly Amerks were able to knock them over by a shutout score was no small upset to hockey followers everywhere.

Toronto Maple Leafs, who never seem to fare so well when the chips are down, took it solidly on the chin from Boston Bruins, also by a 3-0 score.

Maroons and the Wings have to battle through the remainder of a best-of-five series yet, but the Bruins Leafs and Amerks-Blackhawks only go one more game, so that it looks like a good bet on both of last night's winners. . . .

However, we'll see when they all go to the wars again Thursday.

Just a Little Of This and That

Random Ramblings: A pair of former Edmontonians are playing against each other in the International Hockey League playdowns. . . . They are Earl Robertson, former Eskimo goaltender, now with Windsor, and rangy Ernie Kenny, ex-Eskimo defenceman, who is drawing his pay cheque from London Tecumsehs. . . . Artful Arthur Hagen, the dapper Frenchman who spent so many seasons playing great hockey before retiring shortly before the end of this winter, writes me from Kamloops to ask to be remembered to his many friends in the city. . . . Art has been back at his railroading job since returning home to the B.C. railroad town. . . . Hear that Roger Jenkins, Boston Bruin defenceman, may not return to Edmonton for the off-season as he is thinking of securing a position in the East. . . . However, most of the boys change their minds by the time spring arrives. . . . The old home town always acts as a great magnet.

Radials Soccer Club Will Meet Thursday Night

Manager Jock McEwan, the genial member of the Radial soccer club, and his band of soccerites, will meet on Thursday night at the car barns.

The meeting is a general gathering of the club and all members are asked to be present at not later than 8:00 o'clock.

The season's campaign and other plans for the Radial football club will be gone over. Thursday and all are asked to be in attendance for this important meeting.

Steele Winner

SEATTLE, March 25. — Freddie Steele, the Tacoma boy with the "cast-iron" fists, established himself as the country's leading middleweight contender here last night when he banged out a 10-round decision over Eddie "Babe" Risko of Syracuse, N.Y., world's middleweight champion. It was a non-title fight.

LONDON RALLIES TO 4-3 TRIUMPH

LONDON, Ont., March 25—London Tecumsehs staged a thrilling third-period rally to defeat Windsor Bull-Dogs 4-3 in the final scheduled International Hockey League game played here last night. The same two teams will meet in the first round of the playdowns Friday night but the final scheduled tilt with nothing at stake resembled a play-off fixture. Feeling ran high from the start.

Yank Boyd led Tecs with two goals, Norm Locking and Eric Pettinger getting the others. Conny King, Bill MacKenzie and Joe Bretto scored for Windsor.

LINEUPS

SUMMARY

First period—Scoring, none. Penalty, Arnott.

Second period—1, Windsor, King (Moffatt, Arnott), 10:56. 2, Windsor, MacKenzie, 19:16. Penalties: Lennon, Lecroux.

Third period—2, London, Boyd (Brenneman, Locking, Pettinger), 4:00; 4, London, Boyd (Lennon, Locking, Pettinger), 4:37; 5, London, Locking (Brenneman, Pettinger), 5:11; 6, Windsor, Bretto (Smillie), 7:06; 7, London, Pettinger (Brenneman, Boyd), 10:36. Penalties: Arnott, Gill, Lecroux, MacKenzie, Locking.

OLDFIELD'S PICK

KIMBERLEY, South Africa—W. A. Oldfield, veteran Aussie wicket-keeper, may know his cricket but not diamonds. He was inspecting some stones with a guide. Picking up a diamond, he said: "I would give $100 for a stone like this." "My dear man, that stone is worth $25,000," exclaimed the guide.

Smiling Confidence

Wenstob Resumes Boxing Activities Here Tuesday

Meets Jim White of St. Paul, Minn., Main Go Of Strong Card

The first lap of another intensive boxing campaign will start for Eddie Wenstob here next Tuesday when he meets Jimmy White in a ten-round bout at the Empire theatre.

Wenstob, with a few months' rest after a gruelling tour of Great Britain, is all set to resume his ring activities and is determined to make a strong bid to scale the heights.

After a few fights in Canada, his manager Bob Penman, plans to take Wenstob on an Australian trip, where he will probably have a chance to meet Palmer, Australian champion, to whom he lost in England on a decision.

Although only 21, Wenstob has a good deal of ring experience tucked away under his belt. While he lost a few decisions in his trip over the Atlantic, he met some of the best lightweights the British Empire could offer and that will be a solid foundation for his ring career.

Jim White, a 23-year-old campaigner from St. Paul, Minnesota, will be Wenstob's first hurdle in his bid for further ring honors. The St. Paul boxer has a record hard to estimate lightly. He has fought 85 fights, of which he won 53, was awarded a draw in 14 and lost eight.

After this bout, Wenstob will take a crack at Mons. Charlie Belanger of Winnipeg, claimant to the Canadian light-heavy crown. Another fight in Vancouver later will round out his Canadian program.

The main event in Wednesday's card will by no means be the only attraction offered fans. In an eight round semi-windup, Kid Alcide, an up-and-coming contender, will take on Emil Luat of Medicine Hat, a rugged and speedy mauler who claims the Alberta welterweight title.

Sudbury Faces Royals as Tigers Leave Playdowns

SUDBURY, Ont., March 25. —Sudbury Falcons, satisfied with their line-up which held Hamilton Tigers to a 2-2 tie right in Hamilton in the second game of the Ontario playdowns is the best they can produce, will meet Montreal Royals in Montreal tonight with only minor position changes.

Sudbury, champions of the Northern Ontario Hockey Association, accepted the Canadian Amateur Hockey Association's invitation to continue in the Allan cup playdowns as Ontario representative after Hamilton Tigers dropped from the playdowns.

Hamilton had previously beaten the Falcons to annex provincial honors. They dropped out when the C.A.H.A. and the Ontario Hockey Association refused to allow them to play the second game of their Montreal series on Hamilton ice instead of in Toronto.

Amateur Boxing Program Promises Action Tonight

Many Entries in Title Meet Billed at Memorial Hall

Tonight will be the big night for a score of amateur boxers when Northern Alberta Amateur championship eliminations are held at the Memorial Hall, starting at 8 o'clock.

All weights and sizes are represented in the list of entries, which includes some of the most promising amateur campaigners in Alberta. Most of the entries are from Edmonton, with Sunnydale Athletic Club and Technical school leading. Lacombe is the only town to date who has officially entered a boxer in the person of Arthur Frizzell.

No doubt an excellent evening's entertainment will be served those attending and title hopes will serve to make the boys all the more earnest.

ENTRIES

Mike Drebit, unattached; Bernard McCarthy, unattached; Pete Shapman, Sunnydale A.C.; Billy Smith, unattached; Pete Germain, Sunnydale A.C.; Ross Phillips, Tech. School; Wallace Key, Hughenden; Bob Kee, Sunnydale A.C.; James Chapman, Sunnydale A.C.; William Brooks, Lacombe; Arthur Flintell, Lacombe; E. ## Dark-horse Scores Only Marker As Maroons Lose Marathon Tilt

MONTREAL, March 25.—Dark-haired Modere Bruneteau, a rookie from the minors, stepped into hockey's hall of fame early this morning to break the National Hockey League's longest game on record with the game-winning goal after 116 minutes and 30 seconds of overtime to give Detroit Red Wings a one-game edge over Montreal Maroons in their three-of-five series for the league championship.

A crowd of 9,500-odd sat almost six hours in the Forum here to watch the tense struggle that started out with speed and heavy checking in the regulation time then gradually slowed down to a walk as the players passed the old record of 104 minutes 46 seconds overtime set by Boston and Toronto in 1933.

SCHRINER MAKES PAIR OF GOALS IN TRIUMPH

NEW YORK, March 25. — Dave ("Sweeney") Schriner, the "Dead-Eye-Dick" of the National Hockey League, whipped in two goals last night to pace New York Americans to a 3-0 victory over Chicago Black-hawks in the first of a two-game series in the Stanley Cup playoffs.

The speedy Calgary forward, the league's high scorer and a poplar choice for all-star honors this season, tallied twice, in the first period and the Americans dominated proceedings from there on.

Tiny Thompson, also of Calgary, fired the third and last marker in the third chapter.

The Americans' star line of Schriner, Art Chapman and Carr took the ice for the opening face off with orders to turn on the heat and keep it on until the red light burned.

START OUT EARLY

Less than two minutes had gone when Carr picked up the rubber near the boards, passed to Chapman and Winnipeg whizz fed it to Schriner. "Sweeney" drew Mike Karakas from the Chicago net and then slipped the puck home.

The time was 16:40 when Chapman again passed to Schriner, who was lurking near the boards, 35 feet from the goal. There were plenty of Chicago men around but they were a little off guard, hardly believing Schriner could score from such a distance.

As an archer would bend his bow, Schriner drew back his stick and fired the puck, like a speeding arrow, into the corner of the net. The Black Hawks and their goalie probably didn't even see it in passing.

FASTEST OF YEAR

That first period was one of the speediest seen in the garden this year, and it sent some 11,000 fans into a frenzy.

Joe Jerwa fed the puck to Carr for the third goal, Carr taking it on his own rebound off the pads of Karakas and then sliding it past the prone goalie.

LINEUPS:

New York Subs: Cotton, Oliver, Voss, Anderson, Klein, Kobluchuk, Wiseman, Stewart, Dutton.

Chicago: Karakas; Seibert, Weiss; Romnes; Thompson, March.

Chicago Subs: Gottselig, Levinsky, Kendall, Trudel, T. Cook, Larochelle, MacFadyen, Bydon, Burke.

SUMMARY

First Period: 1, Americans, Schriner (Carr, Chapman), 1:52; 2, Americans, Schriner (Chapman, Stewart), 16:40. Penalty: Brydon.

Second Period: Scoring: None. Penalties: Jerwa, Burke, Cotton, Schriner, Trudel, Anderson.

RAMBLERS BEATEN BY SPRINGFIELD

PHILADELPHIA, March 25. — Springfield Indians defeated Philadelphia Ramblers 7-5 last night to take third place and a play-off berth in the Canadian-American Hockey League playoffs.

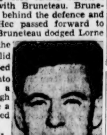

Speyer and Saunders, with two goals each, led Indians' troupe. Alexandre and Wilson getting the others. Kirk scored twice for Ramblers, Colville, Boudel and Cox obtaining one each.

Name Crutchfield As McGill Captain

MONTREAL, March 25—Gordie Crutchfield, brother of Neis Crutchfield whose career with Canadiens of the National hockey league was cut short by an automobile accident, will be captain of McGill University hockey team next season, it is announced. Gordie played hockey in the Northern Ontario hockey league in 1933.

Every period had its high spots as first one team and then the other would spurt in an effort to end the strength-sapping contest with both goalkeepers rising to heights of brilliance to keep the sharp shooters scoreless all through eight periods of hockey, and most of the ninth.

Norm Smith had just turned back a savage Maroon four-man attack when speedy Herc Kilrea streaked away fast with Bruneteau. Bruneteau flashed behind the defence and the blond Herc passed forward to the rookie. Bruneteau dodged Lorne Chabot as the goalkeeper slid out and slipped the puck into the net as a pent-up sigh that was like a groan escaped the crowd. Bruneteau being used as a utility man, had been on the ice sparingly until the long overtime made the player-less leg weary. He was used more and more and the youngster from Detroit Olympics of the International League climaxed a great exhibition when he sent in the million dollar goal. Bruneteau was taken up from Olympics by Jack Adams near the end of the regular N.H.L. season when the Red Wings were in a slump.

Bruneteau

The win put Detroit in a favored position to take the series, the second game of which will be played here Thursday, and the remainder in Detroit starting next Sunday. It was a hard breaking game for the Stanley Cup defenders to lose and they can now do no better than an even break on home ice.

THE LINEUPS

| Detroit | Position | Maroons |
|---|---|---|
| Smith | Goal | Chabot |
| Young | Defence | Wentworth |

BOSTON DEFENCE HAS BIG PART IN SHUT-OUT

BOSTON, March 25 — Boston Bruins, limited to a dozen shots during 60 minutes of play, opened their National Hockey League runners-up play-off series by defeating the speedy Toronto Maple Leafs, 3-0, Tuesday night before 16,000 at the Boston Garden.

Shore

The great Boston defensive unit will defend the three-goal margin at Toronto Thursday night in the second game of the total-goal series.

The winner will face either Chicago or New York Americans in the second series of eliminations.

Shore passed to O'Neil and he cut in and drove a blistering angle shot high into Goalie George Hainsworth's cage early in the second period for the first goal.

The Leafs were one shy when the first Boston tally was registered and about six minutes later, when Shore caged the second. Pep Kelly and Buzz Boll were imprisoned in the penalty box.

The Dugald goal, his second of the season, came after he broke up two threatening Toronto rushes single-handed. He intercepted Frank Finnigan's quarter-ice pass in the Boston zone, stick-handled through centre, cut inside of Andy Blair and aimed a nasty shot that slipped under Hainsworth's left hand and barely entered the cage.

LINEUPS

Officials—Bell and Leghorn.

SUMMARY

First period—Scoring, none. Penalties, none.

Second period—1, Boston, O'Neil (Shore) 2:40; 2, Boston, Shore (Cowley, Siebert, Clapper) 15:28. Penalties—Clancy, Conacher, Kelly, Boll.

Third period—3, Boston, Dugald 8:56. Penalties—O'Neil, Jenkins.

Community Girls Planning To Form Star Aggregation

Last night at a Federation of Community Girls Softball league meeting it was definitely decided that an All-Star team be formed, this team will start tuning up the first week in May. The league this year will be the largest girl's softball league this city has ever had. Fifteen teams will battle it out for the championship. Any girls wishing to play with this league please phone 83164 (after 6 p.m.); also, anyone desirous to coach a team, please dial the above number.

TIGERS DROP OUT ALLAN CUP PLAY

TORONTO, March 25—Hamilton Tigers dropped from further participation in Allan Cup playdowns Tuesday when they refused to play the second game of their series in Toronto Friday with Montreal Royals. W. A. Hewitt, registrar of the Canadian Amateur Hockey Association, has awarded Sudbury Falcons, who were beaten by Tigers in the provincial playdowns, had accepted an invitation to take their place in the playdowns.

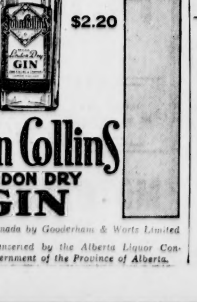

Tigers, all-Ontario champions, objected to playing the second game of the Montreal series in Toronto and claimed the game should be in Hamilton.

O. C. FOOTBALL

LONDON, March 25—Grimsby Town, defeated 1-0 by Arsenal in the semi-final of the English Soccer Cup last Saturday, blanked Sheffield Wednesday 4-0 Tuesday in a First Division match. By its win the Town jumped from 20th to 16th position in the standing.

LONDON, March 25—Oldham defeated Warrington 20-2, Keighley beat Batley 26-11, and Leeds and Swinton tied 3-3 in English Rugby League games played Tuesday.

OLIVER, QUEENS AVENUE TIE IN HOCKEY FINAL

School Clubs Play To Bitter 1-1 Tie Third Series Game

NEW BEARDED GRAPPLER TO PERFORM HERE

Pete Beck Meets Tex Hager—Meyers-Kusek in Headline

The next pro wrestling card to be held at the Empire theatre Friday evening will include three bouts each with a different interest. In the final headline go the two most notorious badmen of the circuit will meet for the first time. In the second headliner a new man to local cards, Pete Becker, will be matched with Tex Hager, a polished performer, while in the preliminary bout of the evening, Fraser and Darby Melnyck will tangle for the second time. Their last meeting was a draw.

The final event of the night should be a lively tussle and many grunts and groans will be heaved before a winner is declared. Both these fiery gentlemen can take plenty and give still more so the combination ought to be perfect.

The other headline event will hold much of the interest of the fans. From all reports this new grunter, Pete Becker, the bearded Blackshirt, is due to spring a pleasant surprise on local enthusiasts. He has the reputation of a clever, powerful and tricky grappler and pairing up with the clever Hazer, the result should be a first class bout.

Maurice DeBlek will referee all bouts.

DETROIT LEADS OVER SYRACUSE

DETROIT, March 25—Detroit Olympics scored a 4-2 victory over Syracuse Stars in the first game of their best-of-five series in the International hockey league playoffs here last night. Stars and Olympics were the leaders of the eastern and western sections of the league.

LINEUPS

English Varsity Crews Will Race French At Paris

LONDON, March 25.—In the first event of its kind, Oxford and Cambridge will compete with two French crews on the Seine at Paris on Easter Sunday. They will fly to France the week following the intervarsity classic on the Thames, April 4.

It was decided Tuesday by the rival presidents and the race umpire that the race a week from Saturday will start between 11:45 a.m. and noon (4:45 a.m. to 5 a.m. M.S.T.).

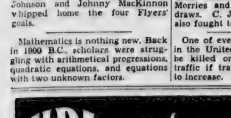

As training continued Oxford paddled as far as Wandsworth and returned in time to see Cambridge take off. The Oxford crew eased up under Putney bridge and studied the form of their rivals. Cambridge rowed from Putney bridge to the milepost in four minutes, 16 seconds, as compared with Oxford's four minutes, 14 seconds, on Saturday, but the wind today was unfavorable.

St. Louis Wins 4-0 Preliminary Finals

ST. LOUIS, March 25. — The sharp-shooting St. Louis Flyers last night shut out Tulsa Oilers 4-0 for a one-game advantage in the preliminary American Hockey Association playoff series.

While not as bitter as the first game Sunday, which resulted in a 1-1 tie, the game was filled with hard driving by both teams. Fido Purpur, Pete Palangio, Harold Johnson and Johnny MacKinnon whipped home the four Flyers' goals.

Mathematics is nothing new. Back in 1900 B.C., scholars were struggling with arithmetical progressions, quadratic equations, and equations with two unknown factors.

Fourth Game Necessary on Thursday to Name Senior Champions in Hard-Fought Final.

Oliver and Queens Avenue, the public school league's senior finalists, will need a fourth game to decide championship laurels in their bitterly fought final series as a result of yesterday's 1-1 overtime tie.

Tuesday's extra-inning battle was the third these two championship-bound youngsters have staged, Oliver took the first game by a 2-1 score, but Queens remained in the running, also winning by a 2-1 count, and that, followed by Tuesday's draw, keeps the clubs tied in their two-game, total-goal series.

FINAL THURSDAY

And now, according to the officials, the youngsters rest until Thursday afternoon before they drop over the boards for the fourth, and possibly the final game of the series. It is scheduled for the Varsity rink.

That third game yesterday was a bitter one. During 90 minutes, which includes three overtime periods, the teams battled evenly, striving hard for that one "golden goal" which would sew up the championship flag.

Through the first and second frames the teams battled without a goal, and it was not until five minutes had passed in the third, that the first marker was registered.

Aitken, for Oliver, was the first to rap home the rubber, netting it smartly against the clever Haverlock.

But the Queens club was not through. They battled back with grim determination, and it was Talas, the big scorer for the avenue club, that deadlocked the count.

GOOD HOCKEY

The third frame ended, still at 1-1, and so did three overtime sessions, in which the large crowd of school hockey fans saw some good puck chasing dished up by the young hockey men.

Frank Porter and George Irving, on defence, were outstanding for the Oliver aggregation, while John Krapko stole individual honors for the Oliver squad.

For Queens Avenue the youthful Talas was brilliant, Joe Lutzke was a dangerous scoring threat several times and Fred Daniel also stole a share of the Queens' playing honors with a good performance. Jules Survile and Louis Stenecki proved good on the Queens defence line.

LINEUPS

Hans Buck, German Racing Ace, Breaks Five World Records

FRANKFORT-ON-MAIN, March 25—Hans Bruck, German racing driver, broke five world's speed records Tuesday on the new automobile highway between this city and Mannheim.

St. Paul Boxing

ST. PAUL, March 25—More than 600 people, many from outside districts, attended the boxing bouts held here on Tuesday evening.

Preliminary bouts, however, seemed to draw the greater interest and were well fought throughout.

The most interesting bout in the prelims was that between Chas. Beouregard and Archie McLean, who fought three rounds with Beouregard being cleverest and took an edge in the bout.

Jack and Billy White, twin brothers, battled A. Poirier and H. Morries and both bouts ended in draws. C. Jacquere and A. Stack also fought to a draw.

One of every three children born in the United States is destined to be killed or seriously injured in traffic if traffic accidents continue to increase.

OLD COUNTRY GETS ANNUAL 'CHASE FEVER

Largest Field in Years is Likely to Start in the National

AINTREE, LIVERPOOL, March 25.—The annual fever produced by the Grand National Steeplechase had the British Isles running a high temperature last night.

Prospects were for the largest field in several years to answer the bugle Friday for the test of equine heart and speed over a 4½-mile course studded with 31 testy jumps. Thirty-five horses remained as probable starters.

The question mainly engrossing racing fans was whether Major Noel Furlong's Reynoldstown could repeat his victory of last year. Another one how Dorothy's Pagel's Golden Miller would perform.

FAVORITE LATELY

The Miller has been the betting favorite recently. He ran a great race this year to capture the Cheltenham cup. After winning the Grand National in 1934, he fell in the great race last year. Then he refused a jump in a race the following day. Opinions of owners and jockeys canvassed as the day of the race appeared to favor every hue—ranging from brightest optimism to pessimism or extreme reserve.

Major Furlong said of Reyno'ds-town: "He is in wonderful fit. I hope to repeat last year's win. The only thing against it is precedent."

Owen Anthony, trainer of Golden Miller, said: "The Cheltenham race has done a great deal of good. I look forward to the Grand National with every confidence."

"VERY GOOD CHANCE"

Trainer Rimmell, of Mrs. Violet Mundy's Avenger, said: "He has a very good chance." Mrs. Mundy herself said: "Avenger has a splendid chance. I am too old and inexperienced to say more than that he should have had four pounds less, since he has not run at Aintree previously. He has not yet run four miles."

Avenger jumped into prominence by winning a race this year at Birmingham over a three-mile course.

GREENBERG MAY BE WEAKENING

NEW YORK, March 25.—Hank Greenberg's holdout is the McCoy, although Detroit's slugging first baseman gave signs Tuesday of weakening just a bit.

"I know where I should be and where I'd like to be," said Greenberg Hank, "but this is legitimate business. I'm not fooling and, by the looks of things, neither is the club."

Hank has been holding out in his Bronx apartment, spending most of his time there except for a daily workout in a nearby park.

Maroons Facing Preston Sextet In Girls' Final

MONTREAL, March 25. — Maroons, girls' hockey champions of Quebec, will meet Preston Rivulettes, Ontario titlists, here Friday and Saturday in a two-game total-goal series for the eastern Canada women's hockey championship.

The Montreal girls have been defeated by the Preston hockeyists in the past two years in deciding the eastern finals. This year Maroons have a league record of 10 shutouts during the season and took the playoffs in straight victories.

Winner of the eastern Canada finals will travel to Winnipeg for the Dominion finals.

CLAIMS DIVORCE NEEDS REVISION

SASKATOON, Cask., March 25.—Marriage and divorce laws of Canada and England are "unsatisfactory" and in need of revision, Mrs. I. Z. Conboy, Saskatoon's only woman lawyer, said in an address here.

The speaker quoted Lord Gorell, president of the Divorce Division High Court of Justice as stating the present law was "full of inconsistencies, anomalies and inequalities amounting almost to absurdity." As a result of these remarks a Royal Commission sat four years ago and produced two reports, but nothing was done except to equalize ground for divorce for adultery only for women as well as men.

"Other countries," she said, "do not look upon marriages as having been made in heaven. They are dissolved in other countries by matrimonial agreements with mutual desire given as the most sane reason for divorce."

BADMINTON

Handicap Tournament (Finals)

Ladies' singles—Miss McAvoy (-4) d. Ann Carmichael (-8); 11-8, 11-10.

Men's singles—R. M. Hardy (-18) d. K. Thomson (-12), 15-10, 12-15, 15-8.

Ladies' doubles—Misses McAvoy and Chisholm (-5 and one hand) d. Ann Carmichael and Mrs. Buser (-5 and one hand); 15-14, 15-5.

Men's doubles—Morgan and Jones (-2) d. Buker and Aitken (-9); 15-14, 15-7.

Mixed—Mr. and Mrs. H. Buker (-5 and one hand) d. Miss Chisholm and T. Jones (-7); 15-14, 15-3.

The smallest fog particles have been measured by the Massachusetts Institute of Technology. It was found that 25,000 of them could be placed on the head of an ordinary pin.

Main Yankee Hope

Upon the highly touted ability of youthful Joe Di Maggio, recruit from the Pacific Coast, Manager Joe McCarthy rests much of his confidence for New York Yankees' pennant chances in the American League this year. Here is the brilliant outfielder talking it over with the bases and showing him the bat he hopes will make Yankee stadium ring. Di Maggio shapes up as a batting giant as well as a fine fielder. Yankees paid San Francisco $75,000 for his contract.

WOOD CROWNED SHUT-OUT KING OF PUCK LOOP

BUFFALO, N.Y., March 25—Alex. Wood, slim youngster who once was peer of Southern Saskatchewan amateur goal tenders, was crowned shutout king of the International Hockey league Tuesday.

One of the Buffalo Bisons main hopes as they enter the league playoffs, the former Regina Accs' star, recorded 12 shutouts during the season. The mark was seven more than that of his nearest rival, Walter Broda, of Detroit Olympics, who kept his citadel clear on five occasions.

Professional scouts first noticed the young star when he established a shutout record in the Southern Saskatchewan Senior league. Since then his ambition has been to play in the National league and today he is one of the most likely prospects for the big time.

LACROSSE ACE WEDS IN EAST

ORILLIA, Ont., March 25.—Ed Downey, who played defence on Orillia's Canadian champion lacrosse team for two years, was married here Tuesday to Thelma Fethrick.

The lacrosse star and his bride will leave for New Westminster, B.C., Friday where Downey will join the Salmon Bellies and play next season.

Downey has played the last three years on the Dominion's championship team. He was a member of Hamilton Tigers when they won the Mann cup in 1933 and played the last two seasons with Orillia Terriers.

TRIO OF MEN WILL DECIDE TRIBE'S FATE

Upon Them is to Depend Success or Failure of Cleveland

By EDDIE BRIETZ

NEW ORLEANS, March 25—Manager Steve O'Neill thinks his Cleveland Indians may rise or fall on the performances of three men this season.

The question marks are Frankie Pytlak, first string catcher; Johnny Allen, right-hand pitcher obtained from New York Yankees, and George Blaeholder, veteran hurler picked up from Philadelphia Athletics.

Generally picked as a pennant contender last season, the Indians, handicapped by injuries and illness, wound up a poor third.

ALL THAT'S NEEDED

This year O'Neill believes it will be different, if Pytlak can bear the brunt of the catching; if Allen can continue to tame the batters; and if Blaeholder can salvage enough of his fast ball to perform creditably in relief roles.

Except for the pitchers and catchers, the Indian lineup is all settled. Hal Trosky, fourth in runs batted in last year, will be back on first, with Roy Hughes at second, Bill Knickerbocker at short and Odell Hale at third. Lady Bergen will be carried as utility infielder.

The 1936 outfield will be kept intact. Earl Averill and Joe Vosmik, two of the best hitters in the American League, are slated for center and left, with Bruce Campbell in right.

IS SURE STARTER

O'Neill figures Allen a sure starter and counts on him to win 20 or more games. He has given a similar assignment to Mel Harder, his ace right-hander. The other starters will be Oral Hildebrand, Willis Hudlin and southpaw Thornton Lee.

LEDUC SOFTBALL CLUB ORGANIZES

LEDUC, March 25—The local softball club got away with a good start in their first meeting of the season. Much interest was shown by the large number that attended.

The following officers were elected for the coming term: Presid'nt, Ronald Busse; vice-president, Gladys Robertson; secretary-treasurer, Dan Waksel; executive, Haddie Waksel, Doris Barrett, Roy Cameron, Norman Blades; general manager, Reg Robertson; coach, Norman Blades.

It also was decided to hold a dance on Easter Monday, April 13, connected with an amateur hour.

Cloverdale Hockey Club Holds Dance

The Cloverdale Senior Hockey club held a whist drive and dance at the Bennett school, providing a splendid time for all who attended.

The prize winners were: Ladies' first, Mrs. Bailey; second, Mrs. R. Paton; third, Mrs Irene Seitle; gents, first, Mr. H. Hopner; second, Mr. B. Young; third, Steward Timbers. The door prize was won by Mr. Shaw, while the lucky draw for the radio lamp was won by Mrs. Hunger. The Coco Colo Co. provided refreshments to the patrons.

ACE KING

ALDEBURGH, Suffolk, Eng.—Two holes-in-one were scored recently in one 18-hole match by 60-year-old James G. Sherlock, British golf great here. He aced the 130-yard fourth and repeated on the 140 yard 17th, bringing his total of singletons' to 11.

The Foreign Legion discarded its famous gay-colored uniform more than 30 years ago, although it is still worn in moving pictures. France bought old A.E.F. uniforms for the legion after the World War.

FINAL TONIGHT FOR JUVENILE, MIDGET LOOPS

Edmonton Athletic Club Teams Play Brace of Calgary Clubs

Edmonton Athletic Club's juvenile and midgets, the last of this city's hockey hopefuls, and Calgary's brace of teams will be fighting for minor hockey honors tonight at the Varsity rink.

The juveniles, E.A.C.'s from this city, northern winners, and Calgary Columbus squad, southern champs, start the evening's engagements at 8.00 o'clock. The second game, between the midgets, will get under way immediately following the juvenile clash.

Referee for tonight's encounters will be Johnny Melnyk, of Edmonton, who will "work" both juvenile and midget encounters, while the Calgary refs will be Doug. French in the juvenile encounter and North in the midget.

LINEUPS:

E.A.C. Juveniles: Stewart; Foley, McKay, Carse; McPerson; Caswell, Quinn; Beauchamp; Sleffis, Shamper, Harris, Black and Campbell.

BILL TO ABOLISH HARBOR BOARDS IS DEBATED

NATIONAL BOARD WILL BE SET UP UNDER NEW PLAN

Only One Voice Raised in Opposition—More Efficient Management Of Ports is Aim.

OTTAWA, March 25.—Only one voice was raised in opposition last night when the House of Commons declared for three hours the government bill to abolish local harbor boards and establish a national board. The discordant view came from Ernest Bertrand (Lib., Laurier-Montreal).

Conservative Leader Bennett and Hon. C. H. Cahan, former secretary of state, commended the principle of the bill but pointed to several legal and administrative details which should be changed.

The discussion arose on second reading of the bill and was adjourned by Robert Finn (Lib., Halifax).

Mr. Cahan (Cons., St. Lawrence-St. George-Montreal) thought the national board was desirable but found fault with details of the bill. Ernest Bertrand (Lib., Laurier-Mgrtreal) thought the board was not necessary, and that the port of Montreal at least should have been left under a local board.

Creation of a national harbors board will make for more efficient management of the ports, Marine Minister Howe told the house. The former local boards had not worked to the advantage either of the ports or of the dominion. They were supposed to protect the federal government's interest but often had the opposite effect and helped to promote local sentiment in a drive on the treasury for uneconomic construction.

S. JOHNSTONE IS PRESIDENT OF GYRO CLUB

Succeeds Morley Grigg — Directors Also Chosen Tuesday at Noon

Stuart Johnstone is the 1936-37 president of the Gyro Club of Edmonton, having been elected to that office at the annual election held in the Macdonald hotel Tuesday noon. He succeeds Morley Grigg.

The directors elected are R. H. Carter, B. Dickson, J. Howard, W. Muir, J. Slessor, and C. Forsyth. Continuing directors are Dr. Percy Black, Jack Dawe, Len Higgins, Jim Jefferson. The past-president, Morley Grigg, is also a member of the board, as is the secretary, who is to be chosen by the directors.

Morley Grigg welcomed the new president to the office he is about to assume and expressed his appreciation of the co-operation he has received from club members during his term of office.

ANNUAL DINNER

The annual dinner and official installation of officers will take place on Tuesday, March 31, in the Macdonald Hotel. As a departure from last year the annual dinner will also be a "Ladies' Night".

Reports of the Objective committee and of the Gyro Founders' Scholarships committee were submitted.

The Objective committee reported the buildings at the Patricia, Kitchener and Tipton children's playgrounds have been repaired and painted. More than 3,000 shrubs and several trees have been planted in these parks. The playgrounds were operated during the summer months by a staff consisting of Norah L. Young, Don Cameron, Henry Ward and Phillip Kendall. Volmar Nellsen was hired as gardener for the three parks.

VARIED ACTIVITIES

Besides using playground equipment the children took part in, publication of a weekly newspaper; in basketball, volleyball and baseball leagues and in summer school classes in drama, consisting of instruction in "Direction" held under the leadership of Mrs. E. S. Haynes and T. Cohen at which forty children were present throughout the month of July. This new departure was arranged by Miss Nora Young.

Rainy weather and infantile paralysis scare shortened the period during which the children were able to use the playgrounds.

The Scholarships committee reports that the two $25 scholarships offered to the grade eight boy and grade eight girl obtaining the highest marks on a special examination set by the Department of Education each year, were this year won by Robert Torrens of Alex Taylor school and Margaret McClory of Oliver school.

300 Tons Black Diamonds Will Move By Plane

FOOTHILLS, March 25—Dug from the cavernous depths of the deep seam coal measures of the Foothill Collieries, 300 tons of hand picked coal are being assembled in double strength bags of 100 pounds each, to be shipped to Edmonton and from there transhipped via the air lanes to distant Aklavik on the Mackenzie delta.

Thus, in servicing the Dominion in its fuel needs, the company, which has catered to a clientele as far east as Ontario, has established an unique service which is now in its second year, that of shipping coal in planes over the Arctic airways.

By the time the black goldcenda reaches its destination in the Arctic, consigned to the Hudson's Bay Company, it will rank as a nugget of black wealth, its fuel value locked up in stored warmth, more valuable in its beneficent blessing to man than mere weight in gold.

BLUE SPEAKS AT WETASKIWIN

WETASKIWIN, March 25—John Blue, secretary of the Edmonton Chamber of Commerce, in an address before the Wetaskiwin Board of Trade on Tuesday declared that there must be debtors and creditors or there could be no business and the people would die.

Mr. Blue was in an optimistic mood and quoted the League of Nations survey to support his optimism. He believed, he said, in the gold standard for money, but added that the only countries which had not recently made some progress in international trade were the countries which were still on the gold standard.

The increase of British trade in the last eleven months, Mr. Blue said, was of the greatest interest to Canada, their imports were 11 per cent. up and their exports 8 per cent. better. Mr. Blue believes in the recommendations of the Canadian Chamber of Commerce for the quickest way to Industrial and economic recovery.

TO ENCOURAGE BREEDING OF BETTER STOCK

Establishment of Livestock Policy Approved by Legislature

Members of the legislature unanimously approved of establishment of a livestock policy that will encourage the breeding, feeding and finishing of better livestock in Alberta, during the Tuesday afternoon sitting of the house.

This approval was given when D. B. Mullen, S.C., Edmonton, making his maiden speech in the house, moved a resolution to this effect.

While some discussion ensued it was all in favor of the Mullen motion and it went through without opposition.

SHIPPED UNFINISHED

Mr. Mullen pointed out that thousands of head of livestock were being shipped out of the province in an unfinished condition at sacrifice prices.

He contended that a very large number of cattle slaughtered in this province grads common or medium, thereby forcing on the consuming public a very low quality of beef. The consuming public and the outside markets were demanding a better quality of meat products and unfinished livestock always has been a glut on livestock markets, thereby lowering the price on the finished livestock.

Mr. Mullen contended that of the 14,000 head of cattle shipped out of Edmonton last year, 70 per cent. went out unfinished and obtained unsatisfactorily low prices.

REVOLUTIONIZE INDUSTRY

He said that through Social Credit the government could revolutionize the cattle industry, through creating markets and by creating markets for low grade wheat.

W. J. Lampley, S.C., Peace River, who seconded the motion, said that there should be set up a series of government sorting corals. He recalled that no one ever had run a herd of cattle in the north without having broke. There should be some control over packing plants, which should be allowed to make only a fair profit.

John J. Bowlen, Liberal house leader, Calgary, congratulated Mr. Mullen on his maiden speech. He declared that livestock men wanted a just price and not an exhorbitant just price.

He declared that what livestock men needed was a market and if they got this, they would be able to finish their livestock and give the markets as fine livestock as could be obtained anywhere.

MADE LARGEST PROFITS

He recalled that in times of great stress the packers made the largest profits in their history.

The resolution he submitted was proper one.

D. M. Duggan, Alberta Conservative leader, thought the resolution was proper and aimed at no one against any suggestion of the government going into the packing plant industry.

D. B. MacMillan, S.C., Lacombe, and N. B. James, S.C., Acadia, were strongly in support of the resolution.

RELIEF WILL BE DISCUSSED

Representatives of cities of the province will confer with Hon. Dr. W. W. Cross, minister of health and in charge of relief at his office on Wednesday to discuss the entire relief situation.

The discussion will centre around the bill now before the legislature and providing for establishment of a relief bureau.

D. M. Duggan, Alberta Conservative leader, in the legislature on Tuesday asked that this bill be stood over from third reading until after the representations were made.

Hon. Dr. Cross, in reply stated that he did not see any advantage in holding third reading of the bill over and re-committing it to the house. But, if after the whole matter was threshed out on Wednesday and there was still a desire to make representations, the bill would be returned to the agricultural committee. Mr. Duggan was satisfied with this proposal.

Russia is reported to have the world's strongest mechanized army ready for any eventuality.

NO ONE SPEAKS ENGLISH IN PRESENCE OF QUINTS DR. DAFOE TELLS CROWD

LONDON, Ont., March 25—No one speaks English in the presence of the Dionne quintuplets, Dr. Allan Roy Dafoe said here Monday before initiating a Red Cross society campaign for funds. The children are to be bilingual, but the French language comes first.

For the time being, Dr. Dafoe said, every effort is being made to get the babies away to a good start on French. Later they will be taught English.

The famous country doctor is wondering why northern Ontario women are so anxious to become mothers of quintuplets —"but they are." The idea of having "quints" has become a favorite one in the Callander district, he said, and Dr. Dafoe is often asked by mothers why they can't have quintuplets.

SCHOOL BOARD SHOWS SLIGHT 1935 SURPLUS

Margin of Revenue Over Expenditure For Year Was $14,094.92

Edmonton Public School Board closed its financial year, 1935, with a surplus of revenue over expenditure amounting to $14,094.92, it was revealed in the annual statement made public at the board meeting Tuesday night.

As well as receiving the report, the board discussed and tabled a motion by Trustee Dr. W. Morrish to replace lady principals with men in schools of three rooms and more and voted down another to approve the principle of a higher salary scale for married employes than for single. A number of routine matters were dealt with, all members being present except Trustee S. A. G. Barnes, M.L.A.

GROSS EXPENDITURE

Gross expenditure by the board last year was $1,511,841.68, total revenue being $1,525,936. Greatest item on the spending side of the budget was instructional expense, $976,926.91 but of this $129,031.77 was turned back to the board in salary contributions.

Financial charges were $268,474.22 on a gross debenture debt of $3,530,114.30, the charges being 17.76 per cent of the board's total expenditure.

Government grants were $93,323.95 and revenue from the tax levy was $1,235,000.

REVISION OVERDUE

Secretary-treasurer Harry G. Turner, in the report, makes the statement: "In 1935 the Edmonton property holder was asked to provide 80.93 per cent of the educational costs. For the same year the amount contributed by the provincial government in grants was equal to 6.11 per cent of the costs. A revision in the system of raising monies for educational purposes is surely overdue."

With enrolment of 15,619 pupils, the lowest in five years, the costs of education per pupil was $88.25, slightly more than in 1934 but lower than in the three previous years.

Information relative to Dr. Morrish's motion on lady principals showed that there are eight lady principals in the city, five of them in schools of three or more rooms. Dr. Morrish felt that in the larger schools the head position could be best held by a man. He added that he thought the principal should teach the highest grade while, in one school, the principal was the grade one teacher.

FEEL IT KEENLY

"I hardly think it is fair to ask a lady principal to step down just because she is a woman. She would feel it very keenly," Trustee Mrs. Izena Ross said.

"There should be no discrimination on the basis of sex." F. C. Casselman, trustee, added. "If a woman is capable of doing the job and if she is doing it, she should have the job. And I think grade one is the most important grade in the schools."

A motion to refer the question of a higher salary scale for married employees to the management committee was defeated. When the question itself was put to the board, Trustees Casselman and Morrish voted in favor, Dr. F. W. Crang and S. Bowcott against. Mrs. Ross did not vote, stating it should be further considered and E. A. Ottewell, chairman, gave the deciding vote against the measure.

Expressing objection to mental ability tests recently given high school pupils under the direction of Dr. C. B. Willis, to be used as a basis for vocational guidance, Mrs. M. Leaver addressed the board. Following discussion with Mrs. Leaver, the board referred her objections to the school management committee.

CONDEMNING TESTS

"I am not criticizing these tests—I am condemning them," Mrs. Leaver emphatically told the board.

In a letter sent to the board prior to her visit, Mrs. Leaver stated that the tests were "not in any sense of the word tests of mental ability," also stating, "I refuse to have my child rated, valued or guided on such a shallow basis."

When Dr. Willis attempted explanations, stating that the tests were prepared in collaboration with Dr. F. F. Smith of the University of Alberta and Dr. Sansom of Calgary, specialists in such work, Mrs. Leaver heatedly declared he was "talking rubbish".

Mrs. Leaver, following the hearing, was told she would be notified of the management committee's meeting.

"Have you the power to take up our school time with these tests?" Mrs. Leaver asked Chairman Ottewell.

POWER GIVEN

"We have the power under the School Act to carry out any work in the schools we see fit for free educational betterment," Mr. Ottewell said.

"I doubt that statement," was the lady's parting shot.

Replying to the board's request for a special grant for a special class for potentially delinquent pupils, Dr. Fred McKay, deputy minister of education, advised the board that if they would select a teacher who would equip himself for such work the necessary grant would be provided.

On a motion by Dr. Crang, the board voted to allow two dances each year for high schools instead of one, as previously permitted.

Survey of the number of children not vaccinated against small pox was asked by Dr. Morrish.

Expenditure of $100 for trees to beautify school grounds was voted.

Last West Sets New Mill Rate

RIMBEY, March 25.—Last West municipal district, west of Rimbey, set its mill rate for municipal purposes at 16. School rates vary from 9 to 15 mills. Regular meetings will be held on the 1st Saturday of each month. Victor Owen is reeve and A. Bird secretary-treasurer of the district.

Although the country is infested with magpies and the council has offered a 5 cent bounty for each bird, only on such bounty was paid this winter. A bounty for crows will undoubtedly be offered again this season.

Gourmets' Palates Tickled By Chef

CAMROSE, March 25. — Local gourmets are eulogizing the arrival of a skilled European chef in the person of Monsier Francois Adam, who was a pioneering settler in this district and construction engineer on the Grand Trunk Pacific Railway, as well as first maitre d'hotel and restaurateur in Camrose.

Monsieur Adam, diminutive Belgian, in a strictly amateur way, has added to the culinary fame of a local Viennese hostess by introducing succulent continental dishes that have been making boarders' palates water with delight.

Tongue boiled in raising, and "Roulade Belge" have been two new dishes tarted here with delight.

Kids Use Curling Rink For Skating

RIMBEY, March 25.—With the coming of warmer weather, children of the district were loudly lamenting the loss of ice on the community outdoor skating rink, until one bright youngster discovered that the ice in the curling rink was still in fine condition and not likely to be used again this season. Now the curling sheets are covered with youthful and it is the merriest spot in Rimbey.

HEAVY SNOWS CAUSE DEATH OF BIG GAME

Elk and Deer Found Dead In Mountain Section Of Brazeau Forest

STERCO, March 25.—Deep winter snows, heavily crusted, lying over the big game country of the Southesk and Cardinal Rivers in the Brazeau Forest, have made conditions extremely difficult for the big game species of the Rocky Mountains forest belt. This was revealed by A. R. Dino, Lovettville trapper who was interviewed recently while passing through Sterco on a trip to forest reserve headquarters at Coalspur.

Mr. Dino stated that he had observed in one section of his extensive trap line, four carcasses of elk lying in one white wilderness of the winter snows, dead through exhaustion in a long winter struggle trying to reach forage grasses through 30 inches of crusted snow.

A young fawn encountered along the trap line trail was too exhausted to bother getting out of the way of the trapper, so man and dog stepped off the trail to permit it to pass, only to see it plunging into the deep snow on the side of the snowshoe trail.

Mr. Dino noted some evidence of timber wolves in the district who apparently had been attracted by the feast provided through the operation of natural forces.

Animals in the hills of the Southesk region were noted as in better shape since the wind-blown hills kept forage grasses uncovered. Mr. Dino says there is every evidence that these big animals passing along his trail frequently spring his sets,

EXPECT BOOM PAINT LINES THIS SPRING

William H. Lawson, Sales Manager British America Paint, Here

The neglect of the upkeep of buildings the past five years is expected to result in a boom of the paint and reconditioning industries this spring and coming summer, according to William H. Lawson, sales manager of the British American Paint Company, who stopped over in Edmonton early this week on his way back to Victoria, after a swing around his prairie branches.

Sales manager Lawson spent Monday and Tuesday with Fred Kemp, Edmonton and northern Alberta district manager of the B.A. Paint Co., and together they cast expert eyes over the future business prospect.

NO IMMEDIATE UP-SWING

Unlike most eastern executives, this Pacific coast paint chief can see no immediate up-swing of business with sufficient impetus for the industry to do handsprings about.

However, he does see a slow and healthy improvement, with the Pacific coast and southern Saskatchewan regions heading the return-to-normal parade.

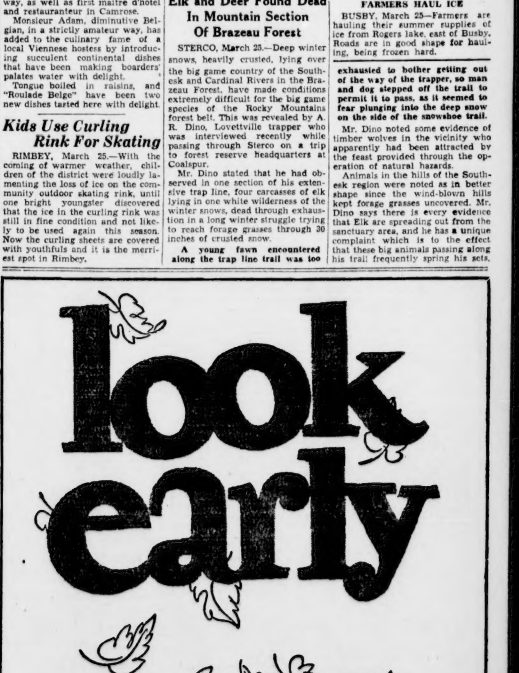

"The future has a bright promise, especially for the paint companies," said Mr. Lawson. "Buildings this year badly require reconditioning and repainting, and this work has been put off from year to year and now the need for immediate action is imperative."

INSPECTION TRIP

Following his Edmonton and northern Alberta check-up, he will go south to Calgary and then back to Victoria, having completed his inspection survey of the prairie sales division.

FARMERS HAUL ICE

BUSBY, March 25—Farmers are hauling their summer supplies of ice from Rogers lake, east of Busby. Roads are in good shape for hauling, being frozen hard.

If you are thinking of moving into a new apartment or house this Spring, don't make the mistake of waiting too long before you look about and make a selection. # FEDERAL LOANS TO PROVINCES $111,000,000

OTTAWA, March 25.—Outstanding loans from the Federal treasury to the provinces under relief legislation amounts to more than $111,000,000, according to a return tabled in the House of Commons Tuesday at the request of W. M. Ryan (Lib., Saint John-Albert).

Only four provinces share in these loans, as follows: Manitoba $15,028,086; Saskatchewan $46,834,986; Alberta $22,779,000, and British Columbia $26,947,680.

Additional loans to the provinces still outstanding, arising from the Dominion Housing loans of 1919, were reported as follows: Prince Edward Island $31,500; Nova Scotia $682,000; New Brunswick $648,700; Quebec $2,609,687; Manitoba $1,095,000, and British Columbia $1,701,500.

NO INCREASED SCHOOL GRANTS

SASKATOON, March 25.—There will be no increase in Saskatchewan school grants this year, C. W. McCool, K.C., chairman, told the high school board here last night. He said that he had been in conversation with Premier W. J. Patterson over the week-end and that the premier had stated that the province would be in no position to increase the grants until after another crop had been harvested.

The answer was given by the chairman of the board in response to a question from a board member. In replying, Mr. McCool said that the premier had assured him that increases would be given next year.

Curtailment Of Crop Denounced By Henry Ford

WAYS, Ga., March 25.—Crop curtailment was denounced by Henry Ford Tuesday as a violation of natural laws and the "security of plenty."

"If the farmers allow land to lie idle, they'll suffer," the automobile manufacturer said in disclosing a project here in his program for correlation of agriculture and industry.

In an interview at his 75,000-acre plantation, Ford said the use of leisure in agricultural pursuits, besides providing economic security, serves to keep people out of trouble and lessens the chances of war.

"The only way to end war is to make people fear it," he said, adding war in the United States is controlled by 25 or 30 individuals. He charged they are real "public enemies" and should be tracked down just as other public enemies.

Continue Present Mine Agreement

NEW YORK, March 25.—Unable to reach an agreement after a month of negotiation, the joint conference of anthracite operators and the United Mine Workers of America agreed Tuesday to continue the present working contract in full force until May 1.

The conference also agreed that if circumstances warrant, it might make an additional extension for a definite time if an agreement is not reached by May 1.

AIM AT SET TRADE HOURS ALL MARKETS

WINNIPEG, March 25.—A roundtable discussion to establish set hours of trading for all important north American grain markets was envisaged last night by members of the Winnipeg Grain Exchange.

The proposed conference, to which representatives from exchanges at Winnipeg, Chicago, Minneapolis, Duluth and other interested markets would be sent, was suggested by the council of the local exchange Tuesday in announcing a change in the hours of trading here.

As from today, to conform with a recent change in time at Chicago, the Winnipeg market will be open for trading from 8:30 a.m. to 12:15 p.m., C.S.T., on Saturdays, the hours will be from 8:30 a.m. to 11 a.m., C.S.T.

The switch to "daylight saving time" was one month ahead of the usual change to summer hours and will be effective until Sept. 26. Before that date, the council hopes all important markets will have agreed upon definite hours.

The council's decision was the result of Chicago's change to the eastern standard time zone last March 1. The board of trade there has been operating from 8:30 a.m. to 12:15 p.m., C.S.T., and its trading hours were out of line with many other markets.

BROOMHALL

CHICAGO, March 25.—Yesterday's newspaper article from Moscow giving the wheat crop this year at 1,176,000 bushels coincides with Broomhall's cable of Feb. 18th, which reported the wheat in Russia to be 1,176,000,000 compared to 1,120,000,000 in 1934. The wheat exports, however, according to Broomhall, are 27,000,000 bushels, while the newspaper article says they were only 600,000 tons or 22,000,000 bushels, but it does not say what period is covered. Broomhall commences the shipping season on August 1.

U.S. stocks of bonded wheat decreased a further million bushels this past week and the grand total of wheat stocks in America and Canada decreased 4,000,000, which makes a total 23,000,000 less than at this time last year. The U.S. portion is even smaller than a year ago in spite of the larger crop harvested last July, but this does not take into consideration the imports from Canada for consumption, which have totalled 25,000,000. A large winter wheat crop has been seeded in the U.S. again this year. The past two seasons has seen a winter kill of 9 to 13,000,000 acres, and the final outturn of winter wheat was only 5 to 600,000,000 bushels in the past two years.

Reading Given Bill To Ratify Trade Agreement

OTTAWA, March 25.—Bill to ratify the Canadian-United States trade agreement received first reading Tuesday in the senate. Debate on the measure will open tomorrow on motion for second reading. Senator Raoul Dandurand, Liberal leader, and Senator Arthur Meighen, Conservative leader, will speak. The bill was given third reading in the House of Commons Monday.

The senate met for only a short time and adjourned until Tuesday.

Today's Markets

At Toronto—Mines

TORONTO, March 25.—The mining market made no sallies of importance in either direction today. Prices in all groups closing little off the finals of Tuesday. Volume was sharply reduced.

McIntyre lost about a point and small recessions were posted for Pioneer, Lake Shore, Wright Hargreaves and Teck Hughes. Hollinger firmed narrowly. San Antonio worked back to 2.22 and Central Patricia gained 7.

Toronto—Industrials

TORONTO, March 25.—It was an off day on the Toronto industrial share market with volume down and prices barely firm.

Interlisted group leaders firmed including Nickel, Brazilian and Industrial Alcohol. Domestic listings, however, exhibited a heavy trend.

Assuming the leadership in the oils, British American advanced a half-point.

Steels were weak. Brewery and implement shares had minor losses.

At Montreal

MONTREAL, March 25.—Weakness of metals was outstanding on Montreal stock exchange during today's dull session.

A brisk recovery was staged by Brazilian which gained nearly a point but Ottawa Power dipped that much. Shawinigan, Quebec, Power Corporation and Montreal held even.

Smelters closed 1½ points lower at 275½. Noranda was down about ¾ while Nickel was up fractionally in light demand. Breweries and liquors held even.

At New York

NEW YORK, March 25.—Buying in today's stock market favored selected motors and specialties, a number penetrating new high territory for the past five years.

There were many advances of fractions to 2 points or so with some much wider. A few rails and scattered issues, however, backed water. The close was firm. Transfers approximated 1,900,000 shares.

Lucky Escape Of Pooch, Warning To Kids

MAKES HEROES OF TWO COPS

A little brown pooch, short-haired, of no particular pedigree, whose plight brought him precariously close to death, now wags his tail in gratitude to friends who brought him aid and to blue-coated officers of the city police who responded and rescued him from the icy waters of the North Saskatchewan river.

The pooch, name unknown, had broken through the ice, just above the Dawson bridge, about 8 a.m. Tuesday. He battled the current which sought to pull him beneath the ice but his efforts to regain a foothold on the edge of the hole were fruitless, the crumbling sugary ice giving way beneath his forepaws each time he tried to climb out of the hole.

GAME STRUGGLE

He was sighted by members of the family of C. G. MacDougall, 9915 87 street, who saw the small dog's game struggles from their river bank home. Mrs. McDougall phoned the police and Constables Ernie Foster and Sam Kennedy quickly responded.

The MacDougall's flat-bottomed boat was pushed out over the ice and Ernie Foster climbed aboard, with 13-year-old Gordon MacDougall. Veteran Constable Sam Kennedy pushed the boat further until the ice gave way beneath it and then Foster worked closer to the dog with a long pike pole.

ALMOST GONE

Seeing rescue approaching, the dog, tired, was just keeping himself afloat by paddling with his feet, his chin resting on the edge of the ice. Foster heaved him aboard and Gordon held him until they were able to pull the boat back to firm ice.

Warm blankets and a hot stove awaited the chilled pup in the MacDougall home and he was put, shivering, to bed.

Co-Operation of Province and Municipalities Necessary Lumberman Says

Making the second of three radio addresses sponsored by the Edmonton Chamber of Commerce in which the Dominion Housing Act was outlined, A. J. Brown, manager of the W. H. Clark Lumber Co. Ltd., stated on Tuesday night that the success of this or any home building depended greatly on the amount of money available and at what rates of interest it could be secured.

"The Dominion act contemplates loaning $10,000,000 and anticipates another $30,000,000 will be provided by regular lending institutions," he said, "and this amount of money put into circulation would be a great impetus to return of prosperity.

"The housing problem is primarily a local responsibility and while the Dominion government may provide leadership and assistance, success must inevitably depend upon whole-hearted and intelligent co-operation on the part of provincial and municipal authorities.

"The Dominion government have entered into arrangement with a number of companies to supply funds and complete contracts.

"A prospective borrower will apply directly to one of these institutions for a loan, and not to the Dominion government.

"These are not restrictive but designed rather to be helpful to the intending home owner in order that he will avoid mistakes in construction.

"Subject to the minimum standard set out, material, equipment, and methods of construction in general use in any locality are acceptable for houses eligible to be financed under the Dominion Housing Act.

"A single family, a two family, or apartment house may be built under the act, and ample scope is provided for the individual to give expression to his requirements.

"Under the proposed Dominion Housing Act, loans are to be made available at 5 per cent interest which is a reasonable rate, and within the ability of wage earners to pay.

"Let us examine the proposed plan of building a home, value $5,000,000 including land. An 80 per cent loan would involve the borrower, giving a mortgage for $4,000. This would mean $3,000 by a lending institution, and $1,000 by the Dominion government," said Mr. Brown.

"The monthly payment required to pay interest, at an effective rate of 5 per cent per year, and to pay off the entire mortgage in 20 years, would be approximately $26.42.

"On this basis the principal would be reduced to $2,573.44 at the end of 10 years, and to $1,510.83 at the end of 15 years.

"To this monthly payment, should be added, of course, one twelfth of the annual taxes on the property.

"The terms of the Housing Act are in the interest of the loaning companies and the public themselves. A contract that a not fair to both parties is not in the ultimate interest of either," said Mr. Brown.

"Regular monthly payments, in terms of rent, will ensure to the benefit of both parties to the loan.

"It is vital to all governments, and to all branches of industry and finance, within our Dominion, that the prospective home owner be given every reasonable encouragement to erect a place of habitation which carries with it the responsibility of citizenship in the fullest sense of the word.

"Our governments are influenced by the voice of its people and you should make known in no uncertain manner what your wishes are.

"At the present time, every group of ten families in Canada must now feed, clothe and shelter one family out of work.

"It costs not less than $700.00 yearly to maintain a family in idleness. Thus, directly or indirectly, every working family in Canada contributes an average of $70.00 yearly to relief expenditures.

"This is the annual fine, you, who are working, pay, because your fellow citizen is unemployed.

"It is vital to your interest, to take an active part in bringing this unfortunate state of affairs to an end.

"Are you willing that this situation continues, or even gets worse, that there is no lack of demand on the part of our citizens for a decent home.

"There is no lack of funds available in Canada, at present lying idle in savings banks, at very low interest.

"There is all the material needed in our forests and mines awaiting its proper use.

"We have the men anxious, and willing to work, in order that they families may live, with some degree of comfort.

"What are you going to do about it?"

Erskine District Sales Numerous

ERSKINE, March 25—Auction sales continue to flourish in Erskine district, the one on March 17 for C. Van Straten, eight miles south of town, being well attended. It was a large sale, totalling $1,500. Over 12 head of horses selling for $1,050, 20 head of cattle for $420, one yearling steer bringing $27.

The Cliff Dean sale on March 18 was a small sale, totalling only about $650.

Sale of H. C. Gottschalk and Mrs Harry Bell, southeast of Erskine and south of Stettler, on March 19, drew a large crowd and was a large sale, totalling $1,500. The top price for horses was $81.

On Saturday, March 21, Harry Lynn called a sale for Mrs. Herbert Staples, southeast of Erskine. It was a small sale, totalling $600.

ERSKINE, March 25—T. J. Brandt, owner of Buffalo Lake fox ranch in Erskine, was surprised to find a young black fox in his yard one morning last week. The black fox is different from any of his own foxes.

He made a tunnel and lured the fox into a kennel and then looked up all the fox ranchers to see if anyone missed a fox. No one had so he believes it to be a wild fox that came during the mating season in search of a mate, the tall snow banks this year permitting him to climb over the guard fence.

TO APPLY NEW SCHOOL ACT ON LIMITED SCALE

Legislation Will be Tried Out Experimentally Premier Says

Application of the new School Act will be made on a limited scale and in an experimental way, declared Premier William Aberhart in the debate on Tuesday night, when members sitting as committee of the whole, discussed clause by clause, the new bill. Progress was reported after a lengthy discussion and several sections will have to be dealt with later.

Assurances that the new Act would be tried out experimentally and not generally applied were given by the Premier when C. Gerald O'Connor, Liberal, Edmonton, brought the question up as the bill was placed in committee for discussion.

AMENDMENT INTRODUCED

In the course of the discussion, the Premier introduced an amendment providing that candidates for nomination as divisional trustees for the subdivision should be "an elector of the district within a subdivision, a British subject able to read and write and who is not in arrears for taxes due to the district."

Mr. O'Connor moved that the reference to arrears of taxes be struck out. The motion was lost and the amendment was adopted.

The Premier brought in another amendment which was adopted by the members. The original bill provided that a person signing the nomination of a candidate for divisional trustee should be a British subject, an elector of the district included in the sub-division, able to read and write and not in arrears of taxes due to the district.

By the amendment the Act was made to read "shall be an elector of the district included in the subdivision."

STRONG SUPPORT

Strong support for the bill was expressed by Rev. Roy Taylor, S.C., Pincher Creek.

L. A. Giroux, Liberal, Grouard, declared that many objections to the bill would be removed if that section giving the minister of education power to constitute a school division were left to be determined by a majority vote of the ratepayers.

Speaking as a "trustee and a father," H. J. Ash, S.C., Olds, said this was a "most democratic bill."

A. L. Blue, S.C., Ribstone, said that the larger the unit the more difficult it is to control and indicated that the present system compared favorably with other provinces and had turned out some most praiseworthy men.

He thought the first step we to implement Social Credit, so that people could take advantage of any educational system that they wanted.

LOCAL CONTROL GONE

The Premier informed the committee that this province had a compulsory educational plan and there was no intention of implementing the plan to any district that was in good shape and progressing.

Mr. Giroux contended that there should be provision for consolidated school districts. The Premier said this was covered in the bill.

Mr. Giroux's amendment, as submitted was as follows: "In the event of the board of trustees of two or more school districts requesting the exclusion of their school district for the purpose of establishing or joining a consolidated school district, the minister shall, by order, exclude the said districts from the division and establish, by order, such consolidated school district."

John J. Bowen, Liberal house leader, expressed a strong opposition to the bill in committee, as he had done on second reading. He pointed out that the trustees were practically all opposed to it and a large percentage of teachers also opposed it.

RAW MATERIAL DISTRIBUTION REAL PROBLEM

Source Of International Difficulty Says Dr. R. C. Wallace

"Unequal distribution of raw material at present constitutes a real source of international difficulties," said Dr. R. C. Wallace, president of the University of Alberta, speaking at a meeting of the University Political Science Club yesterday. A guarantee of the supply of economic goods to all nations who lack certain materials would be a step in the establishment of world peace, he considered.

"To bring about such a condition would require sacrifice on the part of nations more favorably endowed, and would mean that national and sentimental considerations would have to give way to a more practical and international point of view," he said.

CENTRAL COMMITTEE

"I am convinced that we can never hope for the establishment of the ideal of a world government, and that the only practical method of world planning is to make use of what we have learned. This can be done by means of central committees. The success of such a method of round table conferences and committees is to be seen in the Mercantile commission established by the League of Nations about four years ago. This commission achieved its purpose in regulating the drug traffic throughout the world, yet at the same time it did not interfere with the sovereignty of individual nations, but, after drafting the quotas, left each nation free to enforce the provisions in its own territory."

"I am convinced that the general idea could be extended to the distribution of raw materials throughout the world."

"Such a plan may be in the process of evolution at the present time," said Dr. Wallace, "but how far it will be carried out I am not prepared to say. It will be left for the future to determine whether it is carried on to completion or whether the pendulum now swinging in this direction will go back to a former position, resulting in less co-operation among nations rather than more."

"However," he said, "planning of economic life along the way, then we would be more likely to accept the idea of industrial planning, on an international scale."

INTERESTS OF ALL

Dr. Wallace expressed the idea that he believes nations are more and more coming to realize that the interests of all are necessary to the best interests of one, and that they are learning more and more that purely selfish interests compel them to co-operate and compromise for the sake of ultimate benefit.

Speaking particularly of Canada, Dr. Wallace said that the general trend of economic policy should be in a free-trade direction.

LETTER TRADE RESTRICTIONS

"The removal of embargoes and tariffs cannot be done at once without serious dislocation and inconvenience," he said, "but the general object we should have in view is the removal of trade restrictions, and the free exchange of commodities with other nations of the world. The Ottawa agreement, though it may have been a good thing for Canada at the time, had repercussions, all of which were perhaps not fully realized by the immediate parties concerned. Some of these repercussions were to make other nations outside the Empire, feel that they were outside the chosen circle and were in danger of being denied access to the commodities controlled by members of that pact."

However, to extend the same idea of trade control to include these outside nations would be a fine thing, he felt.

In conclusion the speaker said, "I see no reason for restricting trade between Canada and United States.

Dramatic Club Presents Play

BREMNER, March 25.—Partridge Hill dramatic club put on its play, "Deacon Dubbs," at Bremner hall on Monday evening, which was enjoyed by the audience.

J. E. Brownlee addressed a meeting at Bremner hall last Thursday evening on "Co-operation."

The Dramatic club of Busby is bringing its play "Safety First," to Bremner hall on Saturday night.

New Slips Are a 'First' Need

For Spring Frocks and Ensembles

Hand-Embroidered Silk Crepes

Real silk crepes, exquisitely hand-embroidered in China. A new, slim fit . . . beautifully hand finished. Pink or white. SPECIAL EACH, $2.98

Real Silk Crepe Slips

Bias cut — slim and clinging in fit. Pretty with row after row of delicate fagoting. Tearose or white. SPECIAL, EACH $1.00

'Suede Taffeta Slips

Featuring the new Shur-Seam labels — which means the seams just won't pull out. Bias cut, of course, and pretty with yoke and hem of lace. Tearose or white . . . small, medium, large. SPECIAL EACH, $1.00

*Celanese.

Real Silk or Satin

Real silk fabrics that launder beautifully — and wear well, too! On bias cut lines — with fagoting or lace in exquisite trimming. Small, medium or large. SPECIAL $1.98

Gleaming Satin

A rayon satin, which wears and launders well. Bias cut, too — and with seams reinforced against pulling out. Tearose or white; small, medium or large sizes. SPECIAL $1.29

—Lingerie, Second Floor, Phone 9-1-2-3-2

Broadcloth Slips

10:30 SPECIAL, EACH, 25c

—Lingerie, Second Floor

Service Chiffon Stockings

An Extra Thread of Silk for Extra Wear

Every pair of these lovely stockings is in first quality. The story of the special saving is in the fact that they're the "overmakes" of a dollar line. Real silks . . . full fashioned . . . a range of the season's wanted tones; sizes 8½ to 10½. SPECIAL PAIR, 79c

—Hosiery Section, Second Floor, Phone 9-1-2-4-5

Dull and Flattering in Finish . . . Full Fashioned

At 9:30! Silk-To-Top Chiffons

In Dull Grenadine Finish, Sheer and Flattering

From a higher priced line — "Substandards" you'll rate fine enough to wear with your evening frocks. Smart in shade choice . . . and in all sizes, 8½ to 10½. 9:30 SPECIAL PAIR, 50c

—Hosiery Section, Second Floor

Slipon Gloves of Kidskin

A fine, supple quality of the glace kid . . . in a glistening jet black. In classic slipon style, cut to fit sleekly in all sizes, 6 to 8. SPECIAL PAIR, $1.19

A Buy of Men's Socks!

Don't miss this value-extra, Sir! Botany wool socks — with a thread of cotton in the texture, for added wear. In a range of good-looking patterns and colors; sizes 10 to 11½. Every pair first quality! SPECIAL 2 Pairs 75c

—Men's Socks, Main Floor, Phone 9-1-2-5-9
